1. AN INTRODUCTION TO IFÁ

1.1 What is Ifá?

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

In a broad sense, the Yorùbá noun ‘Ifá’ refers to the traditional African system of spiritual cultivation that has been practiced in Yorùbáland, which spans the modern-day countries of Nigeria, Benin, and Togo. Adherents of Ifá revere Èlédàá (Creator God, who is the owner of all beings), respect the òrìṣà (ministerial deities who maintain divine order), and respect the egúngún (honorable ancestors). Some diasporan traditions of Ifá are Cuban Lucumí (also called Santería), Brazilian Candomblé, and Brazilian Umbanda.

In a specific sense, the Yorùbá noun ‘Ifá’ refers to Èlà (also called Òrúnmìlà), the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom. Èlà governs the divination practice called Ìdáfá (bringing forth Èlà) or Ifá dídá (Èlà being brought forth). Ìdáfá is used by adherents who have been initiated to Èlà. Adherents who have been initiated to some other òrìṣà make use of the divination practice called Èḗrìndílógún (sixteen cowries). In Lucumí (the Cuban Ifá tradition), Èḗrìndílógún is called Dilogún.

1.2 The big picture

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

The Yorùbá noun ‘orí’ means ‘head’, both literally and figuratively. The term ‘orí-bùburú’ (bad headway) refers to bad luck, which is a condition in which one experiences an unusual series of unfavorable outcomes. The term ‘orí-rere’ (good headway) refers to good luck, which is a condition in which one experiences an unusual series of favorable outcomes. The term ‘orí-iní’ (inner head) refers to one’s disposition, which is one’s prevailing mental and emotional attitude.

The proper name ‘Orí’ refers to Man’s godself, which is the part of Man’s being that shares in the divine attributes of omnipresence, omniscience, and omnipotence. On page 115 of his book Ifá: An Exposition of Ifá Literary Corpus, Ògúnwándé Abímbólá<sup>1</sup> states:

“The role of the gods is to aid Orí in leading every person to his destiny in life. Whatever a man’s Orí has refused to approve cannot be granted by any other god.”

Ifá says in Ìrètè Òfún that:

Àwọn irúnmọlẹ àtí Orí Èlédàá nlo s’óde Àpéré. Orí nikan dé ibẹ.

The irúnmọlẹ (ministerial deities) and Orí Èlédàá (Man’s godself) were going to the town of Life-fulfilment. Orí alone arrived there.

Ñjẹ, Orí gbóná jù òrìṣà lọ. Orí nikan l’ó kó wọn l’ápéré. Kò sí òrìṣà tí ó tó ní ìgbè lẹyìn Orí eni. Orí mà gbóná jù òrìṣà lọ.

Therefore, Orí is ‘hotter’ than òrìṣà (ministerial deities). It is Orí alone who takes them (people) to life fulfilment. There is no òrìṣà who is sufficient in supporting behind the back of one’s Orí. Orí is indeed ‘hotter’ than òrìṣà.

Ifá says in Ògúndá Méjì that:

Tal’ó tó aláṣàán bá a rí òkun?

Who is good enough for the devotee in joining him to see the ocean? [Note: The long journey to see the ocean is symbolic of one’s long journey of life].

Ṣàngó ní òun tó aláṣàán bá a rí òkun. Wọn ní: “Bí o bá rìn tíí, bí o bá dé ilé bàbá rẹ, bí wọn bá sè oúnjẹ àyànfẹ rẹ, nkó?” Ṣàngó ní: “Bí mo bá tí yó tán, màá padà s’ilé mi.” Wọn ní Ṣàngó kò tó aláṣàán bá a rí òkun.

Ṣàngó (the deified Ọyó king who detests immorality and strikes wrongdoers with lightning) said that he was good enough for the devotee in joining him to see the ocean. They (others) said: “If you happen to walk on-and-on, if you happen to reach the home of your father, if they happen to cook your favorite food, then what about that?” Ṣàngó said: “If I happen to have become satisfied completely, then I would return to my home.” They said that Ṣàngó was not good enough for the devotee in joining him to see the ocean.

Bèègégé ni Ọya, Ọrìṣànlá, Èlẹgbára, Ọgún, Ọṣun, àti Èlà, wọn kò tó aláṣàán bá a rí òkun.

It was likewise that Ọya (the òrìṣà of the wind), Ọrìṣànlá (the òrìṣà of moral sense), Èlẹgbára (Èṣù, the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests), Ọgún (the òrìṣà of iron and war), Ọṣun (the òrìṣà of beauty, fertility, childbirth, and child protection), and Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), they were not good enough for the devotee in joining him to see the ocean.

Tal’ó tó aláṣàán bá a rí òkun? Orí nìkan l’ó tó aláṣàán bá a rí òkun.

Who is good enough for the devotee in joining him to see the ocean? It is Orí Èlédàá (Man’s godself) alone who is good enough for the devotee in joining him to see the ocean.

Ire gbogbo tí mo bá ní l’áyé, Orí ni màá rò fún. Orí pèlẹ, atètè níran, atètè gbè ẹni kí òòṣà. Kò sí òrìṣà tí ó tó gbè lẹyìn Orí ẹni.

Every good thing that I happen to have in life, it is Orí of whom I will think well. Hail Orí, the one who quickly remembers (me), the one who quickly supports a person before òrìṣà (ministerial deities). There is no òrìṣà who is sufficient to give support behind the back of one’s Orí.

The power of God is within you, and so you can transcend any circumstance, habit, or personality trait. Attune yourself to Orí Èlédàá (Man’s godself) so that you may fully develop your life potential.

Fully developing your own life potential is tied to helping others to do the same. Ifá says in Ìrosùn Ìwòrì that:

Kí a fi inúdídùn ẹ é. Ẹni tí ó maa lọ, kí ó maa lọ. Ẹni tí ó maa dẹhìn, kí ó maa dẹhìn. Dandan èyàn ni a yàn kí wọn mú ire lọ s’áyé.

We ought to use gladness to do it. One who is intending to leave, he ought to get leaving. One who is intending to turn back, he ought to get turning back. Surely it is human beings whom were chosen to take good things away to the world.

Mòràn-tán, awo Èlà, l'ó dífá nígbàtí àwọn omọ ayé òbòwá láti bi Èlà léèrè òràn kan. A ní kí Èlà wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

It was Knowledgeable-completely, the priest of Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), who performed Ifá divination when the people of the world were coming to ask Èlà about a matter. It was said that Èlà ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

N'íjọ kan, onírúurú èyàn (àwọn èyàn rere àti àwọn èyàn tí kò jékí èyàn sunwọn) gbàràjọ. Wọn tò Èlà wá. Wọn ní: "Ìpààrà ayé yìí sù wa, Èlà. Nítorínáà, kí ó jòwọ jékí a simi s'òrun."

One day, different kinds of people (good people and people who did not allow that people be well) gathered together. They approached Èlà. They said: "This going back and forth to the world tires us, Èlà. Therefore, please allow that we rest in heaven."

Èlà ní: "Èyin kò lè ṣàì maa pààrà òde ayé tíí èyin óò fi dé ipò rere tí Èlédàá ti yàn fún gbogbo èyàn. Lèhìn-náà ni èyin óò simi s'òrun."

Èlà said: "You are not able to fail to be going back and forth to earth town until you will make happen the good situation that Èlédàá (Creator God) has chosen for all people. It is afterward that you will rest in heaven."

Wọn ní: "Kíni ipò rere?"

They said: "What is the good situation?"

Èlà ní: "Ipò rere náà l'ayé rere – ayé àmòtán ohun gbogbo; ayò níbigbogbo; wíwà láísí ominú tàbí ibèrù òtá; wíwà láísí ijà ejò tàbí ẹranko búburú òmíràn; wíwà láísí ibèrù ikú, àrùn, ẹjọ, òfò, oṣó, àjẹ, tàbí Èṣù; wíwà láísí ibèrù ifarapa omi tàbí iná; àti wíwà láísí ibèrù àìní tàbí ọ̀ṣì – nítorí agbára inú, iwà rere, àti ogbón."

Èlà said: "It is the aforementioned good position that is a good world – a world of perfect knowledge of everything; joy everywhere; being without worry or fear of opponents; being without fighting with snakes or other bad wild animals; being without fear of death, illness, litigation, loss, male bird-people, female bird-people, or Èṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests); being without fear of injury from water or fire; and being without fear of poverty or misery – because of inner strength, good conduct, and wisdom."

Èlà ní: "A dé ipò rere nígbàtí ẹnì kò jalè mó nítorí ẹ̀dùn tí ó wà nínú rẹ̀ fún olúwa ohun-ìní àti nítorí àbùkù tí ó wà nínú iwà yìí fún wa níwájú Èlédàá àti àwọn ẹgbẹ̀ rere míràn tí ó wà l'òrun, tí íbá wa ṣe ọ̀rẹ̀, tí ífẹ̀ ire sí wa. Ìwà burúkú gbogbo ní ajádèhìnbọ̀."

Èlà said: "We reach the good situation when one does not take part in stealing anymore because of the pain that is in it for the owner of the thing possessed and because of the stain blemish that is in this behavior for us in front of Èlédàá and other good comrades who are in heaven, who are engaging us in being friends, who are wishing good things to us. Every nasty behavior has repercussions."

Èlà ní: "Ohun tí yòò gbé wa dé ipò rere náà: ogbón tí ó pò tò èyítí a lè fi ṣàkóso ayé; irúbọ; iwà ifẹ̀ràn ooreṣiṣe fún gbogbo èyàn, ní-pàtàkì àwọn tí iṣe aláìní àti àwọn tí ífẹ̀ irànlówọ̀ lódò wa; itara fún àti síṣà ipá láti fi kún ire tí ó wà l'áyé, láijékí ire, èyíkéyíí tí a ti ní, lọ."

Èlà said: "That which will carry us to reach the aforementioned good situation: wisdom that is plentiful to educate the ones whom we are able to use to govern the world; doing ẹbọ; the conduct of loving the doing of acts of kindness for all people, chiefly the ones who are poor and the ones who want aid from us; enthusiasm for and the application of efforts to make full the good things that are in the world, without allowing that good things, any that we have possessed, to go away.”

Èlà ní: “Àwọn èyàn óò maa lọ s’òrun. Wọn óò sì maa padà wá s’óde ayé lèhìn iparadà wọn tíí eni kòòkan óò fi dé ipò rere náà. Nítorínàà, nígbà tí àwọn ọmọ Èlédàá péjọ, àwọn tí ó yàn láti kó ire wá s’óde ayé l’á pè lí ‘èyàn’.”

Èlà said: “People will be going to heaven. They will moreover be turning back to come to earth town after their transfiguration until each person will make happen the aforementioned good situation. Therefore, when the children of Èlédàá assemble together, it is those whom he chose to bring good things to earth town whom we call ‘human beings’.”

You are in the world in order to help to make it a better living space for everyone.

1.3 The 16 Ìdáfá words

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

Ìdáfá (bringing forth Èlà) or Ifá dídá (Èlà being brought forth) is the divination practice used by adherents who have been initiated to Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom. Ìdáfá uses a set of 16 ‘words’ as the basic constituents of its messages. Each of these oracular words is a four-tiered figure that consists of single and/or double marks. TABLE 1.3a presents the sixteen Ìdáfá words ranked from 01 to 16.

Èrìndilógún (sixteen cowries) is the divination practice used by adherents who have been initiated to an òrìṣà other than Èlà. In this practice, one casts 16 consecrated cowry shells. Each cowry shell has a curved opening that is called its mouth. A cast cowry’s mouth is said to be open if it is facing up. Èrìndilógún uses a set of 16 oracular words. Each of these oracular words is a nonzero total of open mouths among the cast cowries. TABLE 1.3b presents the sixteen Ejèrindilógún words.

TABLE 1.3b: The oracular words of *Ejèrindilógún

Oracular Word	Open Mouths	Oracular Word	Open Mouths
Òkànràn	1	Òsá	9

Òbàrà	6	Mérinlá	14
Òdí	7	Mèèédógún	15
Ogbè	8	Mèrindínlógún	16

Let's examine the sixteen Ìdáfá words, many of which are also Ejèrindilógún words.

Ìdáfá word #01 is Ogbè. In Ejèrindilógún, it is a total of eight open mouths.

On interpreting the name Ogbè as the expression o-gbè (you bring benefit), this oracular word carries the message of 'a wholesome road'. The adjective 'wholesome' means 'contributing to physical, moral, or social well-being'.

Ìdáfá word #02 is Òyèkú. Some Ejèrindilógún diviners equate Òyèkú with Èjì Òkò (a total of two open mouths).

On interpreting the name Òyèkú as the noun ò-yè-ikú (one who habitually displaces death), this oracular word carries the message of 'averting ruin'.

On interpreting the name Òyèkú as the expression òyè-kú (morning twilight is congratulated), this oracular word carries the message of 'not missing out on bright possibilities'.

Ìdáfá word #03 is Ìwòrì.

On interpreting the name Ìwòrì as the expression ìwò-ìrì (looking at and finding), this oracular word carries the message of 'good things becoming seen'.

On taking the name Ìwòrì punningly as the expression ìwò-rí (you see), this oracular word carries the message of 'seeing things clearly'.

Ìdáfá word #04 is Òdí. In Ejèrindilógún, it is a total of seven open mouths.

On taking the name Òdí punningly as the noun òdídí (blockage), this oracular word carries the message of 'blockage'.

On taking the name Òdí punningly as the nouns òdì (contrariness) and odì (ill will), this oracular word carries the message of ‘enemies’.

On taking the name Òdí punningly as the noun ìdí (buttocks), this oracular word carries the message of ‘having a sound foundation’.

Ìdáfá word #05 is Ìrosùn. In Èrìndilógún, it is a total of four open mouths.

On interpreting the name Ìrosùn as the expression ìro-ìsun (aching and exuding tears), this oracular word carries the message of ‘patiently persevering through difficulty’.

We may associate Ìrosùn with astrological Saturn, which represents restriction, structure, and slow change. Saturn is the bringer of challenges that require patient perseverance in order for one to prevail. Spiritually speaking, Saturn is the energy associated with Man’s ability to patiently persevere (that is, to calmly remain constant to a purpose in spite of obstacles). Saturn is nobly expressed whenever one stabilizes one’s heart (that is, one’s prevailing mental and emotional attitude), so that one may think clearly and respond properly to situations in life, instead of reacting according to habit or impulse.

Ìdáfá word #06 is Òwónrín. In Èrìndilógún, it is a total of eleven open mouths.

On taking the name Òwónrín punningly as the expression ò-wòn-ìrìn (one who habitually measures steps), this oracular word carries the message of ‘taking measured action’.

On taking the name Òwónrín punningly as the expression òwò-ńrìn (honor is walking), this oracular word carries the message of ‘walking honorably’.

Èrìndilógún associates Òwónrín with egúngún (honorable ancestors), who are the custodians of the ethics and traditions of one’s tribe. Those who walk honorably in the earthly realm are on the way to becoming honorable ancestors in the heavenly realm.

Ìdáfá word #07 is Òbàrà. In Èrìndilógún, it is a total of six open mouths.

On taking the name Òbàrà punningly as the expression òba-àrà (king of thunder), this oracular word refers to Şàngó (the deified Òyó king who detests immorality and strikes wrongdoers with lightning), and it carries the message of ‘asserting oneself with dignity’.

Èrìndilógún associates Òbàrà with Şàngó, who is the deified Òyó king who detests immorality and strikes wrongdoers with lightning. He corresponds to astrological Sun, which represents vitality, self-esteem, volition, and leadership. Spiritually speaking, Sun is the energy associated with Man’s will – one’s ability to deliberately decide on a course of action, one’s freedom to choose between right and wrong. Sun is nobly expressed whenever one asserts oneself with dignity by using their will to rise above course and unsavory things.

Ìdáfá word #08 is Òkànràn. In Èrìndilógún, it is a total of one open mouth.

On interpreting the name Òkànràn as the noun ò-kàn-òràn (one who habitually gives matters their turns of opportunity), this oracular word carries the message of ‘giving something good its turn’.

On interpreting the name Òkànràn as the noun ò-kàn-òràn (one who habitually touches trouble), this oracular word carries the message of ‘touching trouble’.

Èḗrìndìlógún associates Òkànràn with Èṣù, who is the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests. He corresponds to astrological Mercury, which represents mobility of thought, word, and deed. Spiritually speaking, Mercury is the energy associated with Man’s verbal mind – one’s ability to think logically and to express oneself through words. Mercury is nobly expressed whenever one uses their cleverness and verbal facility to further that which is wholesome.

Ìdáfá word #09 is Ògúndá. In Èḗrìndìlógún, it is a total of three open mouths.

On interpreting the name Ògúndá as the expression Ògún-dá (Ògún creates), this oracular word refers to Ògún as the pioneer who goes in advance to prepare the road for others, and it carries the message of ‘clearing a way’.

On interpreting the name Ògúndá as the expression Ògún-dá (Ògún is good), this oracular word refers to Ògún and carries the message of ‘having the courage to take right action’.

Èḗrìndìlógún associates Ògúndá with Ògún, who is the òrìṣà of iron and war. He corresponds to astrological Mars, which represents courage, enthusiasm, assertiveness, and pioneering. Spiritually speaking, Mars is the energy associated with Man’s sense of justice. Being just with all people in all situations requires one to have a warrior’s courage and zeal for righteousness, even at the cost of personal loss. Mars is nobly expressed whenever one has the courage to take right action.

Ìdáfá word #10 is Òsá. In Èḗrìndìlógún, it is a total of nine open mouths.

On interpreting the name Òsá as the noun ò-sá (one who habitually flees or runs away), this oracular word carries the message of ‘running away from a challenge’.

The oracular word Òsá brings to mind the noun sáà (season), which is a period of time that is marked by special activities or events. In this regard, on taking the name Òsá punningly as the noun ò-sà (one who habitually applies a remedy), this oracular word carries the message of ‘taking timely action’.

Ìdáfá word #11 is Ìká. Some Èḗrìndìlógún diviners equate Ìká with Métàlá (a total of thirteen open mouths).

On taking the name Ìká punningly as the noun ikà (evil), this oracular word carries the message of ‘engaging in ill conduct’.

On interpreting the name Ìká as the noun iká (turning against someone), this oracular word carries the message of ‘experiencing ill luck’.

On interpreting the name Ìká as the noun iká (plucking fruit), this oracular word carries the message of ‘reaping a reward’.

Èḗrìndìlógún associates Métàlá with Olóde (also called Babalúayé), who is the òrìṣà of the outdoors. He punishes Man’s excessive conduct with diseases, especially smallpox. We may associate Olóde with astrological Saturn, which represents restriction, structure, and slow change. Saturn is the bringer of challenges that require patient perseverance in order for one to prevail. In astrology, Saturn's intrinsic attributes make it the natural representative of chronic ailments, that which is old and decaying, and death.

Ìdáfá word #12 is Òtúrúpòn.

On taking the name Òtúrúpòn punningly as the noun ò-tú-erù-pòn (one who habitually releases a load and back-carries it), this oracular word refers to a mother who births a child and carries it on her back, and it carries the message of 'being productive'.

Ìdáfá word #13 is Òtúrá. Some Èjèrìndìlógún diviners equate Òtúrá with Méèédógún (a total of fifteen open mouths).

This oracular word brings to mind the noun itura (ease of body and mind), and it carries the message of 'averting a worrisome situation'.

Ìdáfá word #14 is Ìrètè. Some Èjèrìndìlógún diviners equate Ìrètè with Mèrìndínlógún (a total of sixteen open mouths).

On taking the name Ìrètè punningly as the expression iré-itè (being friendly with imprinting), this oracular word carries the message of 'making one's mark' (that is, achieving something of lasting impact).

On taking the name Ìrètè punningly as the expression iré-itè (being friendly with Ifá initiation), this oracular word carries the message of 'practicing Ifá'.

On taking the name Ìrètè punningly as the expression iré-òtè (being friendly with conspiracy), this oracular word carries the message of 'being unwholesomely influenced'.

We may associate Ìrètè with astrological Moon, which represents receptivity, adaptability, and devotion. Spiritually speaking, Moon is the energy associated with Man's trance ability, which enables one to learn and to change. In a trance state, one has a heightened receptivity in which beliefs, images, and words become empowered to create or undo habits. Moon is nobly expressed whenever one is receptive to and compliant with right guidance.

Ìdáfá word #15 is Òşé. In Èjèrìndìlógún, it is a total of five open mouths.

On interpreting the name Òşé as the noun ò-şé (one who habitually overcomes) and on bringing to mind the nouns ìşé (poverty) and òşé (hurt), this oracular word carries the message of 'overcoming trouble'.

Èjèrìndìlógún associates Òşé with Òşun, who is the òrìşà of beauty, fertility, childbirth, and child protection. She corresponds to astrological Venus, which represents affection, enjoyment, attractive power, and harmony. Spiritually speaking, Venus is the energy associated with Man's visual mind – one's imagination, which enables one to form mental images. When intensely entertained with aroused feelings of enjoyment, mental images gain the power to attract the necessary resources for their realization. Venus is nobly expressed whenever through joyful optimism, one attracts the necessary resources for faring well.

Ìdáfá word #16 is Òfún. In Eèrìndílógún, it is a total of ten open mouths.

On interpreting the name Òfún as the expression ò-fún (one who habitually gives) and on bringing to mind the adjective funfun (the color white, which symbolizes the effort to maintain cleanness because white clothing most easily picks up a stain), this oracular word carries the message of ‘acting with rectitude’. Rectitude is right conduct and right judgment.

On interpreting the name Òfún as the expression ò-fún (one that is habitually narrow), this oracular word carries the message of ‘efforts of limited success’.

Eèrìndílógún associates Òfún with Òrìṣànlá (also called Òbàtálá), who is the òrìṣà of moral sense. He corresponds to astrological Jupiter, which represents virtuous optimism (that is, the belief that virtuous action eventually brings the best outcome) and expansion (material and spiritual). Because one’s optimism draws positive circumstances to oneself, Jupiter is the bringer of good luck (that is, favorable circumstances that are beyond willful control). Spiritually speaking, Jupiter is the energy associated with Man’s moral sense – one’s intuitive ability to distinguish right from wrong. Jupiter is nobly expressed whenever one acts with good character and good judgment.

1.4 The 256 Ìdáfá sentences

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

Each Ìdáfá message is called an Odù, which is a ‘sentence’ consisting of two Ìdáfá words placed side by side. Each of these oracular sentences is read from right to left. The Ìdáfá word on the right is called the masculine leg, while the Ìdáfá word on the left is called the feminine leg. TABLE 1.4a presents some examples.

TABLE 1.4a: Some examples of Odù

I I I I I I I I	II II I I I I II II	II II I I II II I I	II II I I II I I II	II II I I I II II I
Èjì Ogbè	Ìwòrì Méjì	Òfún Méjì	Ìwòrì Òfún	Òfún Ìwòrì

The 256 Ìdáfá sentences are broadly categorized into two groups: the Ojú Odù and the Àmúlù Odù. The Ojú Odù is the group of 16 Ìdáfá sentences, each one consisting of a doubling of an Ìdáfá word. We may refer to each of the Ojú Odù by the name of its common Ìdáfá word followed by the adjective méjì (which means ‘taken twice’). For example, the name Òbàrà Méjì means ‘Òbàrà taken twice’. We may alternatively refer to each of the Ojú Odù by the noun èjì (which means ‘two of ...’) followed by the name of its common Ìdáfá word. For example, an alternative name of Òbàrà Méjì is Èjì Òbàrà, which means ‘two of Òbàrà’.

The Àmúlù Odù is the group of 240 Ìdáfá sentences, each one consisting of different Ìdáfá words. The name of each Àmúlù Odù is the name of its right (masculine) leg followed by the name of its left (feminine) leg.

TABLE 1.4b: Themes of the sixteen Ìdáfá words

Word	Themes
Ogbè	A wholesome road.
Ọyèkú	Averting ruin. Not missing out on bright possibilities.
Ìwòrì	Good things becoming seen. Seeing things clearly.
Òdí	Blockage or enemies. Having a sound foundation.
Ìrosùn	Patiently persevering through difficulty.
Ọwónrín	Taking measured action. Walking honorably.
Ọbàrà	Asserting oneself with dignity.
Ọkànràn	Giving something good its turn. Touching trouble.
Ọgúndá	Clearing a way. Having the courage to take right action.
Ọsá	Running away from a challenge. Taking timely action.
Ìká	Ill conduct or ill luck. Reaping a reward
Òtúrúpon	Being productive.
Òtúra	Averting a worrisome situation.
Ìrètẹ̀	Making one's mark. Practicing Ifá . Unwholesome influences.
Ọsẹ̀	Overcoming through joyful optimism. Overcoming trouble.
Ọfún	Acting righteously and judiciously. Efforts of limited success.

Each Odù (oracular sentence) describes a situation. Its right (masculine) leg indicates the foremost aspect of the situation, while its left (feminine) leg indicates pertinent circumstances. For your Odù of interest, use the themes of TABLE 1.4b to examine possible meanings. For example, Ogbè Ọkànràn is an Odù that could mean that Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Ọkànràn (giving something good its turn). Moreover, Ogbè Ọkànràn could mean that Ogbè (a wholesome road) is hindered by Ọkànràn (touching trouble).

2. IFÁ DÍDÁ

2.1 Ìjúbà (paying homage)

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

Before performing any type of spiritual work, you ought to pay homage to higher authorities. Begin the homage by sprinkling some drops of cool water on the ground while saying:

Omi tútù. Ilẹ̀ tútù.

Cool water. Cool earth.

Bí omi bá balẹ̀, omi ọ̀ò nípá. Bí omi bá balẹ̀, omi ọ̀ò là ilú. Bí omi bá balẹ̀, omi ọ̀ò nípá.

If water happens to touch the ground, then water will be potent. If water happens to touch the ground, then water will enrich the town. If water happens to touch the ground, then water will be potent.

This incantation contains an excerpt from Èjì Ogbè.

Now speak as follows:

Ìbà Èlédàá, t'ó wá ẹ̀ Ẹ̀ṣù Èlẹ̀gbára, t'ó wá ẹ̀ Ọ̀gún, alá dá méjì, t'ó wá ẹ̀ Ọ̀ṣun (oore yèyé o!), t'ó wá ẹ̀ Yemoja, olódò, t'ó wá ẹ̀ Ṣàngó (ká bí yèsì o!), t'ó wá ẹ̀ Ọ̀rìṣànlá, bàntà-banta nínú àlà, t'ó wá ẹ̀ Èlà, ẹ̀lẹ̀rìí ipín, t'ó wá ẹ̀ gbogbo ọ̀rìṣà.

Reverence to Èlédàá, who comes being Ẹ̀ṣù, the Forceful-one, who comes being Ọ̀gún, the owner of two machetes, who comes being Ọ̀ṣun (benevolent great mother!), who comes being Yemoja, the owner of rivers, who comes being Ṣàngó (that we question him does not exist!), who comes being Ọ̀rìṣànlá, the immense one in white clothing, who comes being Èlà, the witness to destiny, who comes being every ọ̀rìṣà.

Ilẹ̀, mo júbà. Bàbá, mo júbà. Yèyé, mo júbà. Ìbà bọ̀rọ̀kìnní ọ̀run.

Mother Earth, I give reverence. Father, I give reverence. Mother, I give reverence. Reverence to respectable persons of heaven.

Èdú, mo júbà. Ìbà Akódá. Ìbà Aṣẹ̀dá. Ìbà Adéṣinà. Ìbà Olúwo. Ìbà Ojùgbọ̀nà.

Èdú (Jet-black, a name of Èlà), I give reverence. Reverence to Akódá (a famous Ifá disciple). Reverence to Aṣẹ̀dá (a famous Ifá disciple). Reverence to Adéṣinà. Reverence to (my) olúwo. Reverence to (my) ojùgbọ̀nà.

Bí ekòlò bá júbà ilẹ̀, ilẹ̀ á lànà. Ọ̀mọ̀dé kì íjúbà kì ìbà pa á. Àṣẹ̀!

If the earthworm pays respect to the earth, then the earth will give it access. A youngster never gives reverence and then the reverence kills him. So be it!

In this homage, you are expressing respect for Creator God, Man's godself, ọ̀rìṣà (ministerial deities), Mother Earth, bọ̀rọ̀kìnní ọ̀run (respectable persons of the spirit world), and the people who have contributed significantly to your spiritual development. Note that the noun Èlédàá refers both to Creator God (who is the owner of all beings) and to Ori (Man's godself).

In this homage, I mention Adéşínà, who was an Ifá priest brought from Nigeria to Cuba, where he lived under the name ‘Remigio Herrera’. He is a representative of enslaved Africans who brought Ifá to the Americas.

2.2 Enhancing the diviner

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

Here is an incantation that makes your hands effective and that offers you protection from hexes:

Òtún pèlẹ́, awo wọn l’óde Àbá. Òsì pèlẹ́, awo wọn l’óde Àbọşẹ. Àti Òtún àti Òsì kì íşẹbọ àìfín. Àti Òtún àti Òsì kì íşẹbọ àìmaadà.

Hail Right-hand, the priest of those in the town of Earnest-attempt. Hail Left-hand, the priest of those in the town of Ebọ-coming-to-pass. Both Right-hand and Left-hand never do ebọ that is not acceptable. Both Right-hand and Left-hand never do ebọ that is not going to be effective.

Àşẹwélé ni wọn dífá fún, ọmọkúnrin Dèpènú. Dèpènú, dèpènú. Àbáà dà ègún dà èpè lé awo lóri, kò lè jà láláláí.

It was Àşẹwélé for whom they performed Ifá divination, the son of He-repels-hexes. He repels hexes, he repels hexes. Even if we were to heap inheritable curses and heap non-inheritable curses on a priest, they could not put up a fight ever.

Àşẹwélé, o dé o, ọmọkúnrin Dèpènú!

Àşẹwélé, you have arrived, the son of He-repels-hexes!

This incantation comes from Òwónrin Òbàrà.

2.3 Opening the divination session

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

WARNING: If you are not an Ifá initiate, then do not perform Ifá divination! Look, but don’t touch! Òòdínà, dí ọ̀nà ibi o! Òòdínà, dí ọ̀nà ibi o! Òòdínà, dí ọ̀nà ibi o! Òòşínà, şí ọ̀nà ire o! Òòşínà, şí ọ̀nà ire o! Òòşínà, şí ọ̀nà ire o!

In order to get ready to perform Ìdáfá, begin by getting ritually clean – have a clean body and a clear mind. Now call on Orí (Man’s godself):

Orí pèlẹ́, atètè níran, atètè gbè ẹni kí òòşà. Kò sí òrişà tí ó tó gbè lẹyìn Orí ẹni.

Hail Orí, the one who quickly remembers (me), the one who quickly supports a person before òrişà. There is no òrişà (ministerial deity) who is sufficient to give support behind the back of one’s Orí.

Orí ẹni l’awúre ẹni o! Orí, máşẹ pa ilẹkùn dé. Lódò rẹ ni mo mbò. Wá şẹ ayé mi di rere.

It is one’s Orí who is one’s charm for blessings! Orí, do not shut the door (on me). It is your presence to which I am coming. Come cause my life in the world to become goodness.

This incantation contains excerpts from Ògúndá Méjì and Ogbè Ògúndá.

Now call on Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom):

Èlà pèlẹ́, èlẹ́rìí ipín, alátúnṣe ayé, aso-òrò-di-ayò.

Hail Èlà, the witness to destiny, the master of improving one's life in the world, the one who converts trouble into joy.

Èlà, rọ; Èlà, rọ; Èlà, rọ.

Èlà, descend; Èlà, descend; Èlà, descend.

Ifá, bí o jí, o jí mi o! Ewé ogbó l'ó ní kí N gbó Ifá bí ará ìṣáájú. Ifá, bí o jí, o jí mi o! Tèmi tirẹ̀ ni imùlẹ̀. Šebí bákànhùn l'a jọra.

Ifá, whenever you wake up, wake me up! It is ogbó leaf that says that I ought to understand Ifá like the people of the past. Ifá, whenever you wake up, wake me up! It is mine and yours that is a covenant. Accept as true likewise that we are alike.

This incantation contains an excerpt from Ọ̀bàrà Íwòrì. Now enhance yourself by using the incantation of Section 2.2.

2.4 Readyng the divination apparatus

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

WARNING: If you are not an Ifá initiate, then do not perform Ifá divination! Look, but don't touch! Òòdínà, dí ọ̀nà ibi o! Òòdínà, dí ọ̀nà ibi o! Òòdínà, dí ọ̀nà ibi o! Òòṣínà, sí ọ̀nà ire o! Òòṣínà, sí ọ̀nà ire o! Òòṣínà, sí ọ̀nà ire o!

Here we assume that you are performing Ìdáfá with an òpẹ̀lẹ̀, which consists of eight half-pods strung together on a cord or chain. When held at its middle, an òpẹ̀lẹ̀ has four half-pods hanging down on each side. Each side of an òpẹ̀lẹ̀ has a distinct arrangement of tassels at its end. Use this distinction to choose one side of an òpẹ̀lẹ̀ as its right-hand side and the other side as its left-hand side. Use this choice continually.

Ọ̀pọ̀n Ifá is a divining tray that represents the totality of creation. When performing Ìdáfá with an òpẹ̀lẹ̀, you do not use an actual tray, but instead create a virtual one on your divining surface. Envision a circular area in front of you – this is your virtual tray. With your right hand, pick up the òpẹ̀lẹ̀ at its middle and touch its ends to the tray's head (iwájú), foot (ẹ̀yìn), right-hand (ọ̀tún), left-hand (òsì), and center (àárín) while saying:

Iwájú ọ̀pọ̀n, o gbó. Ẹ̀yìn ọ̀pọ̀n, o gbó.

Forefront of the Ifá tray, you heard. Rear of the Ifá tray, you heard.

Olùmú l'ọ̀tún. Ọ̀lókànràn l'òsì.

Àárín ọ̀pọ̀n n'íta ọ̀run.

It is the center of the Ifá tray that is the open space of heaven.

The center of the Ifá tray, which is the working area during divination, represents the place where all things can be seen.

2.5 Consulting the oracle

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

WARNING: If you are not an Ifá initiate, then do not perform Ifá divination! Look, but don't touch! Òòdínà, dí ọ̀nà ibi o! Òòdínà, dí ọ̀nà ibi o! Òòdínà, dí ọ̀nà ibi o! Òòşínà, şí ọ̀nà ire o! Òòşínà, şí ọ̀nà ire o! Òòşínà, şí ọ̀nà ire o!

In order to consult the oracle effectively, you must know how to query it properly. On pages 19-21 of her book Learning the Tarot: A Tarot Book for Beginners, Joan Bunning<sup>2</sup> offers some suggestions for framing proper questions. Here are three of them:

- Accept responsibility. Don't deflect personal responsibility by asking questions about things that lie within the realm of exercising your free will.
- Stay neutral. Don't assume that the oracle sees things in the same way as you do. Don't bias your questions toward what you think the answers must be. Ask neutral questions.
- Find the best level of detail. Seek the fine line between wording that is too vague and wording that is too detailed. Include only the details that are necessary to make clear what you want to know.

Come to the oracle with respect and view it as a trusted friend.

The following questions are useful to receive the oracle's advice or insight:

- Person P divines about action A (or event E or situation S).
- What is it important for me to know about event E (or person P or situation S)?
- What if person P were to do action A?
- How might I best deal with person P (or situation S)?
- What is the most important thing for me to learn and master in order to open the way for me to fulfill my destiny?

When faced with choices, ask a separate question for each choice and compare the various responses.

Once you have a proper question in mind, do the following:

- Hold the ọ̀pẹ̀lẹ̀ in your hands and meditate in silence on your question.
- Invoke the oracle by saying: “Akínmọ̀ràn, Akínmọ̀ràn, Akínmọ̀ràn!” The expression Akínmọ̀ràn calls on divine omniscience and is probably a contraction of the expression a-kún-imò-ọ̀ràn, which means ‘one who is full of knowledge of matters’.
- Ask your question either aloud or softly to yourself.

- Cast the òpèlẹ̀ onto your virtual tray by: [1] using your right hand to pick it up at its middle and then throwing the middle away from you; and [2] arranging the fallen òpèlẹ̀ into two parallel lines of four half-pods each.
- On a piece of paper, record the oracle's response as follows. Each half-pod has a concave and a convex side. If a half-pod falls concave-side up, then represent it by a single mark (as I). If a half-pod falls convex-side up, then represent it by a double mark (as II). For both lines of the cast òpèlẹ̀, record the symbol of each half-pod from top to bottom. These two columns of four-tiered marks form an Odù.

This cast of the òpèlẹ̀ yields the Odù that carries the oracle's response to your question. As an aid to understanding this response, it is helpful to cast a second Odù. The message of this second Odù will supplement the message of the first Odù.

For a Yes/No question, cast two Odù – their combined message usually provides pertinent guidance that suggests an affirmative or negative response.

In order to interpret the oracle's response, use Appendix A.

2.6 Closing the divination session

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

Conclude your divination session by touching your head to the ground while saying:

Mo dúpẹ̀ lówó Èlédàá. Àbọ̀rú, àbọ̀yè, àbọ̀síṣẹ̀. Àṣẹ̀! Tó!

I give thanks at the hands of Èlédàá. May ẹ̀bọ be done, may ẹ̀bọ be approved, may ẹ̀bọ be fulfilled. So be it! It is enough!

Be blessed!

3. MAGICAL WORK

3.1 Èbọ and ìbọ

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

The Yorùbá verb ‘bọ’ refers to using magical work to bring oneself into harmony with one or more spiritual entities. Magic is the use of incantations and suitable materials to invoke spiritual entities to influence events. From the verb ‘bọ’ we get the nouns ‘èbọ’ and ‘ìbọ’.

Èbọ is a type of magical work that is prescribed for furthering one’s well-being (that is, one’s state of being happy, healthy, and prosperous). Èbọ is done whenever Ìdáfá or Èjẹ̀rìndílógún has prescribed it. Èbọ items are usually presented at the prime talisman of Èṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests). The ẹ̀lẹ̀bọ (person for whom èbọ is being done) is not free to make personal use of the èbọ items after they have been ritually presented.

Ìbọ is a type of magical work that is aimed at strengthening one’s connection with a particular spiritual entity. Ìbọ can be done whenever desired. Ìbọ items are presented at the talisman of the spiritual entity of interest. The person for whom ìbọ is being done is free to make personal use of the ìbọ items after they have been ritually presented. Èbọ must be done before ìbọ whenever pertinent.

For a particular èbọ, the items to be used depend on the nature of the situation for which the èbọ has been prescribed. For a particular ìbọ, the items to be used depend on the nature of the spiritual entity of interest. Some possible èbọ/ìbọ items are: [1] incantations, [2] food and drink, [3] herbal concoctions, [4] votive candles, and [5] animals. Many divination messages from Ìdáfá and Èjẹ̀rìndílógún prescribe animals among the èbọ/ìbọ items. For the person who is officiating the èbọ/ìbọ, these prescribed animals are usually meant to serve both as èbọ/ìbọ items and as sources of food for people to consume. Within reason, do not use animals as èbọ/ìbọ items if there is no intention to also use them to feed people.

3.2 Performing spiritual work

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

Ifá says in Ìrètè Òyèkú that:

Bí o bá rúbọ, kí o bẹ̀rẹ̀síí ooreṣíṣe láti òní lọ jù t’àtẹ̀yìnwá. Lásán l’o rúbọ bí o bá dín iwà-rere.

If you happen to do èbọ, then you ought to begin good-doing from today onward more than in the past. It is in vain that you do èbọ if you happen to diminish good conduct.

In order for èbọ/ìbọ to be effective, the person for whom it is offered must supplement it with good conduct.

Ifá says in Ògúndá Méjì that:

Gbogbo ìṣòrò Ọ̀pẹ̀, nìbo l'ẹ̀bọ̀ wà? Ẹ̀nu èyàn l'ẹ̀bọ̀ wà.

All Ifá practitioners, where is ẹ̀bọ̀ located? It is the mouth of human beings where ẹ̀bọ̀ is located.

Ifá says in Ọ̀ṣẹ̀ Ọ̀túrá that:

Àkéké ni íbà igi ọ̀sá. Ẹ̀nu awo n'ìbà ọ̀un àṣẹ̀ wà. Nígbàtí awo bá ní àà n'íre gbogbo, a maa n'íre gbogbo. Àkéké ni íbà igi ọ̀sá. Ẹ̀nu awo n'ìbà ọ̀un àṣẹ̀ wà.

It is the axe that is landing on the tree to cut it. It is the mouth of the priest where reverence and spiritual power exist. When the priest happens to say that we will have every good thing, we will be having every good thing. It is the axe that is landing on the tree to cut it. It is the mouth of the priest where reverence and spiritual power exist.

If the person who is officiating the ẹ̀bọ̀/ìbọ̀ is attuned to divine purpose, then whatever they say will come to pass.

Here we present a procedure for doing ẹ̀bọ̀. You may use this procedure to do ìbọ̀ by making suitable adaptations.

STEP #1: Pay homage to higher authorities according to Section 2.1. Enhance yourself by using the incantation of Section 2.2. Ask the ẹ̀lẹ̀bọ̀ to assert what they want the ẹ̀bọ̀ to achieve.

STEP #2: Say the following formula, which contains an excerpt from Ọ̀dí Méjì:

Ẹ̀bọ̀ tí (...) fún Èṣù, aláḍó àsúre, ó rú u kí ó baà lè sún àlàáfíà rẹ̀ síwájú.

An ẹ̀bọ̀ that (the name of the ẹ̀lẹ̀bọ̀) gives to Èṣù, the possessor of the calabash of blessings, they do it so that they may be able to further their well-being.

Òòḍínà, dí ọ̀nà ibi o [ẹ̀mẹ̀ta]! Ọ̀òṣínà, ọ̀í ọ̀nà ire o [ẹ̀mẹ̀ta]!

Road-blocker, block the road of bad things [3 times]! Road-opener, open the road of good things [3 times]!

STEP #3: At the prime Èṣù talisman, do a libation of water and properly present the ẹ̀bọ̀ materials.

STEP #4: Say the following Kemite formula, which declares your intrinsic divinity and furthers healing:

Anok Atoum, waakou. Anok nouter oi hōper jesəf. Anok ati hōsəfəf əm nouterou.

I am Atum, I am alone (that is, one and only). I am the great deity who came into existence by himself. I am one not having his opposition from the deities.

Er (...), dōri joout nibet eretəf (or eretəs).

As for (the name of the ẹ̀lẹ̀bọ̀), I get rid of every bad thing pertaining to him (or her).

This formula is based on excerpts from Incantation 17 of Rw nw prt em hrw, 'Utterances of coming forth by day', which is a descendant of Incantation 335 of the Coffin Texts.

STEP #5: When all is satisfactory, touch your head to the ground while saying:

Mo dúpé lówó Elédàá. Àbọ́rú, àbọ́yè, àbọ́síṣẹ.

I give thanks at the hands of Elédàá. May ẹbọ be done, may ẹbọ be approved, may ẹbọ be fulfilled.

3.3 Some incantations

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

[1] An excerpt from Ọ́sá Méjì:

Ọ́sá Méjì l'ó ni kí gbogbo ibi ó sá fún mi.

It is Ọ́sá Méjì who tells all bad things to run away from me.

This incantation runs harmful influences away.

[2] An excerpt from Ọ̀wónrín Ogbè:

Olú Kinndínrin, Èṣù Ọ̀wónrín Ṣogbè, pè ire gbogbo wá.

Chief Kinndínrin, Èṣù of Ọ̀wónrín Ṣogbè, summon every good thing to come forth.

This incantation calls on Èṣù to bring good things.

[3] An excerpt from Ọ̀bàrà Ọ́sá:

Ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ́sá ni mo ẹ. Ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ́sá kì ísá. Ikú kì ípa ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ́sá. Àrùn kì ípa ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ́sá. Ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ́sá kì ítẹ.

It is a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ́sá that I am. A child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ́sá never runs away. Death never overwhelms a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ́sá. Illness never overwhelms a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ́sá. A child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ́sá never falls into disgrace.

This incantation repels fear and agents of distress.

[4] An excerpt from Ìrẹ̀tẹ̀ Ọ́sé:

Gbogbo ibi ayé, Ifá, bá mi sọ ọ di irọ̀rùn l'ára mi. Ìrẹ̀tẹ̀ tútù l'ó ní kí gbogbo ibi ó tẹ̀balẹ̀ l'ára mi o!

Every bad thing of the world, Ifá, help me to transform it into a convenience for me. It is cool Ìrẹ̀tẹ̀ who tells every harmful influence to bow down to me!

This incantation turns intended evil into eventual good.

[5] A Kóngo saying:

Buka mu kati, ya buka ku mbazi.

(You, the divine in me) minister to the inside, (while) I minister to the outside.

This incantation furthers complete healing.

4. SOME READINGS

4.1 Introduction

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

In this section, we present a number of readings in which I consulted the Yi-Jing Oracle together with the Ifá Oracle. The Yi-Jing Oracle speaks through 64 basic message constituents called hexagrams. The Ifá Oracle speaks through 256 basic message constituents called Odu. In order to interpret the Yi-Jing response, we will make use of my book entitled ‘The Yi-Jing Oracle, A Guide to Your Best Life’. This book is posted on my website < <https://www.ifakunle.net/>>. In order to interpret the Ifá response, we will make use of Appendix A.

4.2 A reading: Doing a spiritual check-up

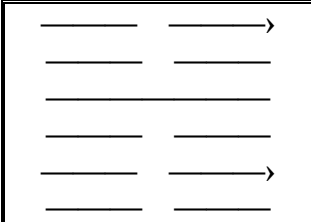

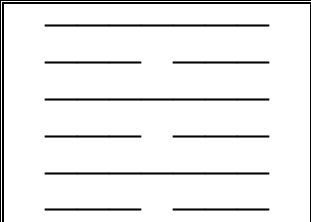

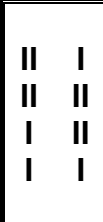

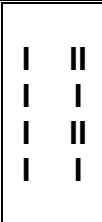

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

On Monday, 02 February 2026 (Ọsẹ Ifá) at 02:32 pm, EST, I posed the following query:

Query: I divine about furthering my well-being.

Hexagram 16 YÜ	Hexagram 64 WÈI Jì	Òdí Ọwónrín	Òfún Ogbè

The Yi-Jing response is: Hexagram 16 (YÜ, ‘enthusiasm’) changing at Lines 2 and 6, thereby showing Hexagram 64 (WÈI Jì, ‘not yet across the river’). For the primary hexagram, we have:

Enthusiasm. It is beneficial for the king to establish marquis titles of nobility in order to gather support and to mobilize an army. In the matter in question, achieving success depends on resonating with those who can give one proper support. Someone here ought to mobilize their army of support by invoking the heavenly hands that govern a successful outcome.

LINE 2. One is steady as a rock, and one has not yet finished the day – this is an omen of auspiciousness. YÙ bridges here to Hexagram 40 (JIĒ, ‘setting free’). Someone here ought not to get caught up in an unwholesome current of thoughts and feelings. At the first sign of such danger, they ought to set themselves free without delay. They ought to be steady as a rock, and they ought to examine their situation so that they may respond properly.

LINE 6. Here is dark enthusiasm. Being all right requires changing one’s direction. There is no fault. YÙ bridges here to Hexagram 35 (JĪN, ‘advancing’). For someone here, their enthusiasm has no light to lead it in the proper direction. Nevertheless, if they get proper guidance and change their direction accordingly, then they will be able to make wholesome progress.

For the secondary hexagram, we have:

Not yet across the river. Make spiritual efforts to get divine help. The little fox nearly crosses the river; it gets its tail wet – there is nowhere that is beneficial. In the matter in question, follow the example of the old fox, who treads cautiously because it has learned that there may be more to the situation than meets the eye. Do not follow the example of the little fox, who overestimates its cleverness and rushes in overconfidently.

***

The Ifá response is: Òfún Ogbè supported by Òdí Òwónrín. The primary Odù tells us that: Òfún (acting with rectitude) helps Ogbè (a wholesome road). This Odù says that:

Egúngún (honorable ancestors) never damage a person. Òrìṣà (ministerial deities) never cause a human being pain. It is mistakes (that is, wrong actions, beliefs, or judgments) alone that compel us to utter a very painful cry.

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 22:5] Thorns (and) snares are in the path of a wayward one; one who watches over his spirit will be far from them.

The secondary Odù tells us that: Òdí (having a sound foundation) helps Òwónrín (walking honorably). This Odù says that:

It was ‘I am not going to die; it is life that I will be living’ who performed Ifá divination for Palm-tree (who symbolizes a child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom).

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Èlà, the master of improving one’s life in the world, the one who converts trouble into joy. It was in this manner that he would cause (his) base to be established. It was in this manner that he would not die.

Palm-tree will be firmly rooted. Palm-tree will survive.

Extra: Ifá will help one to become soundly established in the earthly land of the living.

4.3 A reading: The prison-industrial complex

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

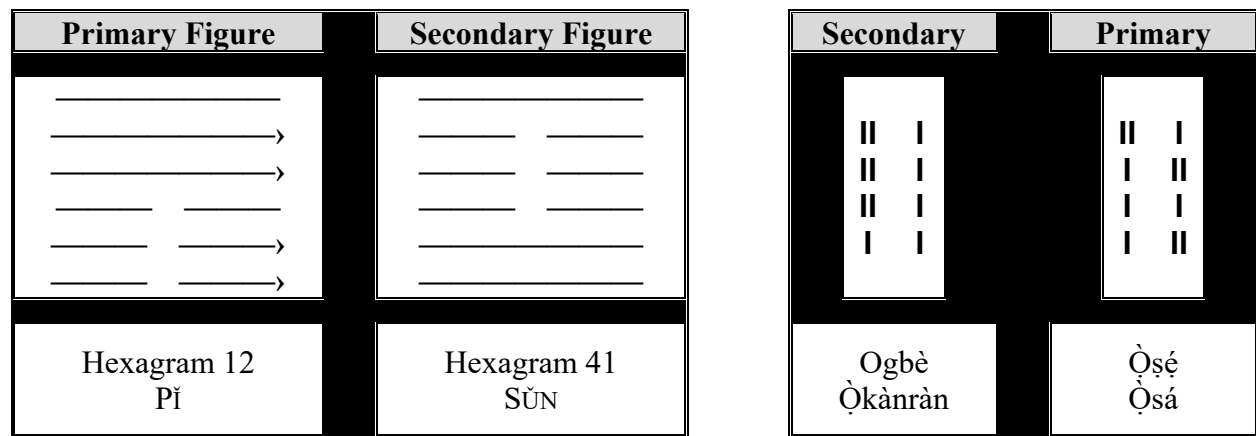

The prison-industrial complex is a network of actors who are motivated by making profit, instead of being motivated solely by punishing or rehabilitating criminals or by reducing crime rates.

On Sunday, 25 October 2015 (Ọ̀ṣẹ̀ Ọ̀rìṣànlá), I posed the following query:

Query: Please comment on the prison-industrial complex in the United States of America as it relates to black people in this country.

The Yi-Jing response is: Hexagram 12 (Pǐ, ‘contrariness’) changing at Lines 1, 2, 4, and 5, thereby showing Hexagram 41 (SŪN, ‘decreasing’). For the primary hexagram, we have:

The contrariness of unrighteous people. Something unbeneficial for the noble person is the oracular prediction. That which is great heads away; that which is small comes near. In the matter in question, noble influences are in decline, while ignoble influences can now rise to positions of great power. One ought not to give in to the prevailing forces of decadence. One ought not to compromise good standards.

LINE 1. One pulls out some grass and its attached roots because of their bunching together – this is an omen of auspiciousness. Make spiritual efforts to get divine help. Pǐ bridges here to Hexagram 25 (WÚ WÀNG, ‘unfalse’). ‘Blades of grass united at the roots’ symbolize those having similar values and goals. Inferior standards now prevail, and one may feel tempted to go along to get along. One ought to be strong. By rooting oneself in what is noble, one will attract the right associates.

LINE 2. One takes charge and takes the place of predecessors. Regarding the small person, this is auspicious. Regarding the great person, this is contrary to what is right and good. Make spiritual efforts to get divine help. Pǐ bridges here to Hexagram 06 (SÒNG, ‘contending’). Inferior standards have taken control and become the norm. Consequently, people of good character and good judgment are in contention with the prevailing order of things.

LINE 4. One has a mandate – there is no fault. Comrades cling to blessings. Pǐ bridges here to Hexagram 20 (GUĀN, ‘scrutinizing’). In the matter in question, someone here is called to play a leading role in furthering positive change. Taking a thoughtful look at things will help them to take proper action. They will then attract the right associates.

LINE 5. One stops that which is contrary to what is right and good. Regarding the great person, this is auspicious. Will it (the contrariness) pass away, will it pass away? One ties oneself to a budding mulberry tree. Pǐ bridges here to Hexagram 35 (JĪN, ‘advancing’). The mulberry tree is a plant that protected Chinese dwellings from wind and rain. ‘Tying something to a mulberry tree’ means to secure it. Someone here is making progress in changing things for the better, but they ought not to take things for granted. They ought to secure their efforts by helping others to gain a firm footing.

For the secondary hexagram, we have:

Decreasing. One has an undeviating commitment – this is first-rate auspicious; there is no fault. Here is a fitting model to exemplify. It is beneficial to have a purposeful direction to go. What is it to be used? Two bamboo baskets of grain are fitting to be used to make a ritual offering for divine help. In the matter in question, someone here is called to develop their inner strength. In order to do so, they must decrease their emotionalism and sensualism. In this way, one will be able to enjoy worldly things without letting them control one.

***

The Ifá response is: Ọ̀ṣẹ́ Ọ̀sá supported by Ogbè Ọ̀kànràn. The primary Odù tells us that: Ọ̀ṣẹ́ (overcoming trouble) is helped by Ọ̀sá (taking timely action). This Odù says that:

Whether Ọ̀ṣẹ́ runs away or whether Ọ̀ṣẹ́ does not run away, Ọ̀ṣẹ́ will arrive at the place of the fight.

Ifá divination was performed for She-goat, Sheep, and Hen when they were going to the war of House-of-burs (which symbolizes trouble that sticks to oneself). It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ. It was Hen alone who was behind doing ẹbọ.

They arrived at the war of House-of-burs. The war took She-goat. The war took Sheep. The war did not take Hen.

Extra: Do not involve yourself with anything that would bring you sticky trouble.

The secondary Odù tells us that: Ogbè (a wholesome road) is hindered by Ọ̀kànràn (touching trouble). This Odù says that:

It was ‘Withered irókò twigs’, the priest of Ọ̀rọ́-plant (which is a cactus-like plant), who performed Ifá divination for Ọ̀rọ́-plant, the one who was tender to be chewed in the mouth of the birds (a reference to bird-people), when she was in difficulty because of the birds.

It was said that she ought to come doing ẹbọ. She heard; she did ẹbọ. She moreover did ìpèsè. When Ọ̀rọ́-plant had done ẹbọ completely, the birds were not able to drink her blood (which had become skin-irritating sap) anymore. They were not moreover able to perch on her anymore (because she had developed a thorny exterior).

Travelers to Ìpo town, travelers to Òfà town, come join us in stirring up victory.

Ifá says that there is someone who is in difficulty because of ẹleyẹ (bird-people, a nickname of psychic agents). They do not allow that the person in question solve the problems of her life; they do not allow that she have importance. She ought to come doing ẹbọ. She ought moreover to come doing ìpèsè. It is in this manner that she will overcome ẹleyẹ.

4.4 A reading: Racial relations in America

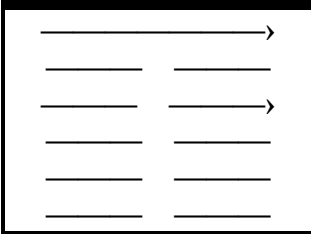

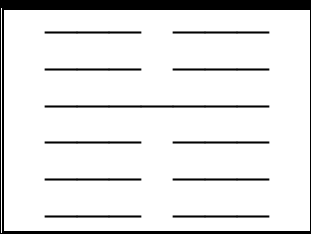

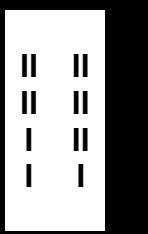

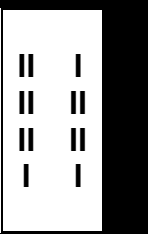

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

On Saturday, 15 February 2025 (Òsẹ Ifá) at 07:58 am, EST, the following question formed in my mind:

Query: What are African Americans to learn from our historical interactions with Caucasian Americans in this country?

Hexagram 23 BŌ	Hexagram 16 YÙ	Òkànràn Òwónrín	Òdí Òkànràn

The Yi-Jing response is: Hexagram 23 (BŌ, ‘deteriorating’) changing at Lines 4 and 6, thereby showing Hexagram 16 (YÙ, ‘enthusiasm’). For the primary hexagram, we have:

Deteriorating. It is not beneficial to have a purposeful direction to go. In the matter in question, there is a force of deterioration at work. If someone here does not deal with it properly, then they ought not to pursue any goals right now.

LINE 4. It deteriorates the bed at the surface skin – this is inauspicious. BŌ bridges here to Hexagram 35 (JĪN, ‘advancing’). For someone here, a force of deterioration is weakening their well-being, and there is nothing that they can do to stop its advance. In spite of the trouble that it brings, they ought to take action that is aimed at faring well in the long run.

LINE 6. The large fruit is uneaten. The noble person gets a carriage; the small person deteriorates their small simple house. Bō bridges here to Hexagram 02 (KŪN, ‘submissiveness’). Deterioration has ended, and better times are returning. The uneaten large fruit symbolizes the seeds of improvement that have yet to take root. The spiritually mature person submits to the spirit of improvement and makes progress. The spiritually immature person rejects the spirit of improvement and loses stability.

For the secondary hexagram, we have:

Enthusiasm. It is beneficial for the king to establish marquis titles of nobility in order to gather support and to mobilize an army. In the matter in question, achieving success depends on resonating with those who can give one proper support. Someone here ought to mobilize their army of support by invoking the heavenly hands that govern a successful outcome.

***

The Ifá response is: Òdí Òkànràn supported by Òkànràn Òwónrín. The primary Odu tells us that: Òdí (having a sound foundation) helps Òkànràn (giving something good its turn). This Odu says that:

Òdí Òkànràn, Ifá divination was performed for ‘Mine will be good’.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover got initiated to Ifá. It was in this manner that great blessings would reach him.

Mine will be better than theirs! Mine will be better than that of deceitful people. Mine will be better than theirs!

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 16:20 revised] One who gives attention to divine instruction will attain to what is good, and one who puts trust in Ha<sup>2</sup>el (God), how blessed is he!

The secondary Odu tells us that: Òkànràn (touching trouble) is hindered by Òwónrín (walking honorably). This Odu says that:

‘Let him do evil’ benefits the evildoer. ‘Let him do bad things’ benefits the doer of bad things. Ifá divination was performed for those of disobedience, who were saying that Èlà (the òriṣà of knowledge and wisdom) was warning against trouble too much. It was what was in their minds that they were doing. They were doing evil. They were doing bad things. Things of the world were looking good for them. We (others) went reporting to Èlà.

Èlà said: “If it happens to take a long time on-and-on, then the dispenser of rewards will be coming around. He will solve burdens to the last one. He will do quietly his doing. When he happens to arrive, all of them (the wrongdoers) will run away.”

It was said that we ought to come doing ẹbọ so that ‘Let him do evil’ and ‘Let him do bad things’ may not see the opportunity to enter our insides, so that companions and peers may not ridicule us in the end.

Extra: Do not allow negative influences to gain a foothold.

4.5 A reading: The coronavirus pandemic

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

On Tuesday, 17 March 2020 (Ọsẹ Ifá), I posed the following query:

Query: What is there for people to learn from the current pandemic of the COVID-19 virus?

Hexagram 52 GÈN	None	Òtúrá Méjì	Òbàrà Òtúrá

The Yi-Jing response is: Hexagram 52 (GÈN, ‘keeping still’) with no changing lines. For the primary hexagram, we have:

Keeping one’s back still. One does not feel one’s body. One moves about one’s courtyard; one does not see one’s people. There is no fault. The back contains the nerve fibers that mediate movement. ‘Keeping the back still’ means to become oblivious to the influences that urge one to do things. In the matter in question, someone here ought to ‘keep their back still’ so that they may approach things with composure, instead of reacting according to habit or impulse. In this way, they will function within proper bounds.

Although there are no changing lines here, it is useful to read the messages of Lines 2 and 5 in order to aid our understanding:

LINE 2. One keeps one’s leg calves still. This does not help that which follows. One’s heart is not pleased. GÈN bridges here to Hexagram 18 (GŪ, ‘spoilage’). After charging into a situation impulsively, someone here now sees that they have moved in the wrong direction. They ought to ‘keep their leg calves still’ by stopping and reconsidering. Nevertheless, they cannot immediately halt the consequences of what they have already set in motion.

LINE 5. One keeps one’s jaws still; one’s words have a reasonable order. Regretting causes fault to pass away. GÈN bridges here to Hexagram 53 (JIÀN, ‘moving gradually’). The movement from thought to speech ought to be a gradual process. Someone here ought to give thought to their words and to speak only what is worthwhile to say.

In my book on the Yi Jīng Oracle, I associate the trigram GÈN (and hence the hexagram GÈN) with astrological Saturn, which represents restriction, structure, and slow change. In astrology, Saturn is the natural representative of chronic ailments, that which is old and decaying, and death. With regard to our query, Saturn refers to Olóde (also called Babalúayé), who is the òrìṣà of the outdoors. He punishes Man's excessive conduct with diseases, especially smallpox. I believe that the hexagram GÈN is the oracle's way of saying that the coronavirus pandemic is an activity of Olóde.

***

The Ifá response is: Òbàrà Òtúrá supported by Òtúrá Méjì. The primary Odù tells us that: Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity) helps Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation). This Odù says that:

It was 'One who kills and kills those of the farm', 'one who plucks them in town and plucks them in the countryside', who performed Ifá divination for 'Chicken head-of-household' and her children.

It was said: "An opponent who is more powerful than y'all, he is coming to meet y'all. If y'all happen to run away and leave town to go away to the countryside, then the opponent will again come looking for y'all in the countryside. But if y'all happen to do ẹbọ, then respect will comply with y'all."

It was said: "The hawk is not able to see causing the snail to be harmed. The hawk looks at the snail hostilely but being powerless to act."

The secondary Odù is the doubling of Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation). This Odù says that:

The log of the banana tree is free from the hands of the carpenter. The vulture is free from the hands of the meat-eater. The hair of the vagina is free from the hands of the hairdresser.

Ifá divination was performed for Slender-òro-tree (whose edible pulpy fruit is well-liked by Yorùbá people) of the deep forest, on whom people of the world would heap respect. It was said that she ought to come doing ẹbọ so that she may be able to get kept safe. She heard; she did ẹbọ.

I am free from their hands at this time. I am slippery like the ẹkukù leaf. I am free from their hands at this time.

4.6 A reading: The Osirian legend

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

The legend of Osiris (Middle Egyptian, wsir; Coptic, ousire) was the premier story of the people of Kemet (Middle Egyptian, kmt; Coptic, kēme), or ancient Egypt. It is useful to view the characters of the Osirian legend as symbols of shaping forces that operate in Man's being. The character Osiris symbolizes Man's godself, which is the part of Man's being that shares in the divine attributes of omnipresence, omniscience, and omnipotence. One of the titles of Osiris is Wennefer (Middle Egyptian, wnn-nfrw; Coptic, ouenofre), which means both 'being of goodness' and 'being of perfection'. The Kemite pictorial portrayal of Osiris as a mummy symbolizes his incorruptibility against forces of decay.

On Wednesday, 19 November 2014 (Òsẹ̀ Òrìṣànlá), I posed the following query:

Query: Please give insight into the Osirian legend.

Hexagram 52 GÈN	None	Ogbè Òtúrá	Ìrosùn Òsá

The Yi-Jing response is: Hexagram 52 (GÈN, ‘keeping still’) with no changing lines. For the primary hexagram, we have:

Keeping one’s back still. One does not feel one’s body. One moves about one’s courtyard; one does not see one’s people. There is no fault. The back contains the nerve fibers that mediate movement. ‘Keeping the back still’ means to become oblivious to the influences that urge one to do things. The movement from thought to speech ought to be a gradual process. Someone here ought to give thought to their words and to speak only what is worthwhile to say.

The djed-pillar hieroglyph (Middle Egyptian, ḏd; Coptic jōt) means ‘stability’, and it symbolizes the backbone of Osiris. The djed pillar refers to ‘keeping the back still’.

***

The Ifá response is: Ìrosùn Ọsá supported by Ogbè Ọtúrá. The primary Odù tells us that: Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) helps Ọsá (taking timely action). This Odù says that:

A breeze caused the top of the tree to gasp. It was a strong wind that was pushing the leaves. It was the coconut that was refusing to fall.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may be able to use calmness and sober thinking to handle life. He heard; he did ẹbọ. It was in this manner that he would overcome opponents. It was in this manner that he would see the back side of blockages.

Extra: [Mizmōr (Psalm) 112:7 revised] Of bad tidings he (a righteous one) does not feel afraid; stable is his heart (that is, prevailing mental and emotional attitude), trust being put in Haʿel (God) to not fail.

The secondary Odù tells us that: Ogbè (a wholesome road) helps Ọtúrá (averting a worrisome situation). This Odù says that:

If a person has money, if he does not have character, then the money of someone else it is. Character, it is character that we are looking for, character! If a person begets children, if he does not have character, then the children of someone else they are. Character, it is character that we are looking for, character!

If a person builds a house, if he does not have character, then the house of someone else it is. Character, it is character that we are looking for, character! If a person has good things, if he does not have character, then the good things of someone else they are. Character, it is character that we are looking for, character!

Extra: 1. [an Ifá saying] Ìwà rere l'òṣọ èyàn (It is good character that is the adornment of a human being). 2. [Dilogún 8-15 revised] Bad character is what leads a man to fail in his endeavors.

4.7 A reading: The door to destiny

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

On Tuesday, 29 October 2013 (Ọsẹ Ọgún), the following query was posed about someone whom I will refer to as AJL for the sake of anonymity:

Query: What is the most important thing for AJL to learn and master in order to open the way for him to fulfill his destiny?

The Yi-Jing response is: Hexagram 24 (FÙ, ‘returning’) changing at Lines 1, 5, and 6, thereby showing Hexagram 20 (GUĀN, ‘scrutinizing’). For the primary hexagram, we have:

Returning to soundness. Make spiritual efforts to get divine help. Going out and coming in do not have unhealthiness. Friends come without fault. Recurring is its path; in seven days, it comes returning. It is beneficial to have a purposeful direction to go. We see an example of fù in the winter solstice, which is the ‘seventh day’ after a six-month decline of the earth’s ability to externally manifest her bounty. In this regard, fù refers to the resurgence of yáng energy, which governs the ability to achieve things externally. If someone here has taken a wrong course, then time now favors them to return to what is proper. If they are undertaking something new, then their ability to turn plans into reality is just now returning from its low point, and so they ought to take timely action.

LINE 1. One does not return to soundness from afar – there is no considerable regret; this is first-rate auspicious. FÙ bridges here to Hexagram 02 (KŪN, ‘submissiveness’). If someone here has taken a wrong course, then they ought not to go further. They ought to submit to following a suitable course of action.

LINE 5. One sincerely returns to soundness – there is no regret. FÙ bridges here to Hexagram 03 (ZHŪN, ‘the sprout’). For someone here, they ought to sincerely handle their shortcomings by sinking their roots deeply into what is proper.

LINE 6. One confusedly returns to soundness – this is inauspicious; they have a disastrous error. One applies oneself to mobilizing an army. The ending has a great defeat because of one’s national ruler – this is inauspicious. Going as far as ten years, one is not able to take military action again. FÙ bridges here to Hexagram 27 (YÍ, ‘nourishing’). If someone here misses this opportune time to return to what is proper, then they must wait for the next opportune time to come. Consequently, any efforts of change that they may make during the intermediate period will meet with failure.

For the secondary hexagram, we have:

Scrutinizing. One has washed in performing ablution, but so far, one has not made the ritual offering. One has an undeviating commitment that is solemn accordingly. The interval between performing ablution and performing the ritual offering offers the devotee an opportunity to ponder their life and to see that their faults are the things that they must sacrifice in order to live truth. In the matter in question, someone here ought to take a thoughtful look at things, seeking to get a broad view. Moreover, they ought to put trust in God and to do what is right.

***

The Ifá response is: Òkànràn Òwónrín supported by Ogbè Òsá. The primary Odù tells us that: Òkànràn (touching trouble) is hindered by Òwónrín (walking honorably). This Odù says that:

‘Let him do evil’ benefits the evildoer. ‘Let him do bad things’ benefits the doer of bad things. Ifá divination was performed for those of disobedience, who were saying that Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) was warning against trouble too much. It was what was in their minds that they were doing. They were doing evil. They were doing bad things. Things of the world were looking good for them. We (others) went reporting to Èlà.

Èlà said: “If it happens to take a long time on-and-on, then the dispenser of rewards will be coming around. He will solve burdens to the last one. He will do quietly his doing. When he happens to arrive, all of them (the wrongdoers) will run away.”

It was said that we ought to come doing ẹbọ so that ‘Let him do evil’ and ‘Let him do bad things’ may not see the opportunity to enter our insides, so that companions and peers may not ridicule us in the end.

Extra: Do not allow negative influences to gain a foothold.

The secondary Odù tells us that: Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Òsá (taking timely action). This Odù says that:

If affliction happens to be coming over an Ifá priest, then the Ifá priest ought not to lie. If affliction happens to be coming over an herb doctor, then the herb doctor ought not to deceive. A person ought not to lie; a person ought not to deceive. Because of the sleeping of our bodies (that is, our eventual passing) this is.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) when People-of-ignorance were making fun of him. Ọmọ-Èlà was practicing righteousness, but he was doing everything for which (each) one did not find an answer. People-of-ignorance were practicing double-dealing, but they were doing everything to completion.

It was said that he ought not to cease practicing righteousness. He ought moreover to have patience. He ought to come doing ẹbọ. It was said: “If it happens to take a long time on-and-on, then the dispenser of rewards will be coming around. He will solve burdens to the last one.”

Extra: 1. [a saying from Martin Luther King Jr.] The time is always right to do what is right. 2. [Miṣlẹ (Proverbs) 24:19-20] You ought not to rouse yourself to anger because of the wrongdoers (and) you ought not to be envious of the unrighteous ones, because there will not be a (good) ending for someone bad; the candle of unrighteous ones will be extinguished.

4.8 A reading: Performing Ifá divination

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

On Sunday, 14 April 2013 (Ọsẹ Òrìṣànlá), I posed the following query:

Query: Please comment on what you require for a person to meet your approval to perform Ifá divination.

Hexagram 05 XŪ	Hexagram 11 TÀI	Ìrẹ̀tẹ̀ Òfún	Òtúrá Ìrosùn

The Yi-Jing response is: Hexagram 05 (XŪ, ‘waiting in need’) changing at Line 5, thereby showing Hexagram 11 (TÀI, ‘peacefully prosperous’). For the primary hexagram, we have:

Waiting in need. One has an undeviating commitment. Making bright spiritual efforts to get divine help is an omen of auspiciousness. It is beneficial to ford great rivers. In the matter in question, someone here is advised to wait and to develop themselves spiritually. At the proper time, they will be able to successfully ‘ford great rivers’ (that is, undertake major endeavors).

LINE 5. One waits in need at wine and food – this is an omen of auspiciousness. XŪ bridges here to Hexagram 11 (TÀI, ‘peacefully prosperous’). A possible message here is that someone here ought to seek divine help through ritual offerings of food and drink. Another possible message here is that someone here ought to take a suitable break from a difficult situation in order to rest and recuperate.

For the secondary hexagram, we have:

Peacefully prosperous. That which is small heads away; that which is great comes near. It is auspicious to make spiritual efforts to get divine help. In the matter in question, ignoble influences are in decline, while noble influences can now rise to positions of great power.

***

The Ifá response is: Òtúrá Ìrosùn supported by Ìrẹ̀tẹ̀ Òfún. The primary Odu tells us that: Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) helps Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty). This Odu says that:

It was Subtly who performed Ifá divination for those at an impasse. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ so that everything that they were going to do, it may not make an impasse. They did not do ẹbọ.

It was in this manner that they dealt with a matter of money, and it became an impasse. They moreover dealt with a matter of spouses, and it became an impasse also. Everything that they were dealing with, it was arriving at an impasse.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may not get seeing a matter of impasse, so that a thing that he takes hold of, it may not get free from his hands and he not moreover be able to hold on to anything.

Extra: [an Ifá saying] Rírú ẹbọ ni igbè ẹni; àìrú kì igbè èniyàn (It is doing ẹbọ that benefits a person; not doing it never benefits a person).

Moreover, the primary Odù tells us that: Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is helped by Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty). This Odù says that:

Òtúrá glows very red. Ìrosùn glows very red.

Ifá divination was performed for White-cloth (which symbolizes the effort to maintain cleanness), who was headed for a life of not having disgrace. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

The wearer of white cloth never goes sitting down in the market stall of the palm-oil seller.

Extra: [Mizmōr (Psalm) 37:23-24 revised] Because of Ha<sup>2</sup>el (God), the steps of a heroic person are made firm, and in his (the person's) path does he (Ha<sup>2</sup>el) take pleasure. Although he (the person) may stumble, he will not be thrown down, because Ha<sup>2</sup>el is one who props up his hand.

The secondary Odù tells us that: Ìrẹtẹ (making one's mark) hinders Òfún (efforts of limited success). This Odù says that:

The irúnmolẹ (ministerial deities) and Orí Èlédàá (Man's godself) were going to the town of Life-fulfilment. Orí alone arrived there.

Therefore, Orí is 'hotter' than òrìṣà (ministerial deities). It is Orí alone who takes them (people) to life fulfilment. There is no òrìṣà who is sufficient in supporting behind the back of one's Orí. Orí is indeed 'hotter' than òrìṣà.

Extra: The power of God is within you, and so you can transcend any circumstance, habit, or personality trait. Attune yourself to Orí Èlédàá (Man's godself) so that you may fully develop your life potential.

APPENDIX A

Some Ìdáfá messages

Introduction

[\[Back to TOC\]](#)

In this appendix, I use excerpts of Ifá stories together with wise sayings to present oracular messages from a limited number of Odù. Note that because each Odù has numerous associated stories, it is possible that the story presented here is not the one that pertains to your situation.

TABLE A: Themes of the sixteen Ìdáfá words

Word	Themes
Ogbè	A wholesome road.
Òyèkú	Averting ruin. Not missing out on bright possibilities.
Ìwòrì	Good things becoming seen. Seeing things clearly.
Òdì	Blockage or enemies. Having a sound foundation.
Ìrosùn	Patiently persevering through difficulty.
Òwónrín	Taking measured action. Walking honorably.
Òbàrà	Asserting oneself with dignity.
Òkànràn	Giving something good its turn. Touching trouble.
Ògúndá	Clearing a way. Having the courage to take right action.
Òsá	Running away from a challenge. Taking timely action.
Ìká	Ill conduct or ill luck. Reaping a reward
Òtúrúpòn	Being productive.
Òtúrá	Averting a worrisome situation.
Ìrètè	Making one's mark. Practicing Ifá . Unwholesome influences.
Òşé	Overcoming through joyful optimism. Overcoming trouble.
Òfún	Acting righteously and judiciously. Efforts of limited success.

Each Odù describes a situation. Its right (masculine) leg indicates the foremost aspect of the situation, while its left (feminine) leg indicates pertinent circumstances. For your Odù of interest, use the themes of TABLE A to examine possible meanings. For example, Ogbè Òkànràn is an Odù that could mean that Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Òkànràn (giving something good its turn). Moreover, Ogbè Òkànràn could mean that Ogbè (a wholesome road) is hindered by Òkànràn (touching trouble).

Èjì Ogbè

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.01a Ogbè (a wholesome road) is doubled.

Kí a má fi kánjúkánjú je ayé. Kí a má fi wàràwàrà ta okùn ọrò. Ohun tí àbá fi se àgbà, kí a má fi se ikánjú.

We ought not to use haste to enjoy life. We ought not to use haste to shoot for the royal beads of wealth. The thing that we ought to do maturely (that is, with due consideration and know-how), we ought not to do (it) hastily.

Bí a bá dé ibi tí ó tutù, kí a simi-simi. Kí a wò ijó iwájú tílọ. Kí a tún rò èyìn ọràn wò. Nítorí àtisùn ara ẹni ni.

If we happen to reach a place that is cool, then we ought to rest fully. We ought to look at the days ahead continually. We ought to work at carefully considering the back end of matters (that is, how matters will turn out). Because of the sleeping of our bodies (that is, our eventual passing) this is.

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 21:5] Plans of a diligent one surely are headed for gain, but everyone who makes haste surely is headed for deficiency.

***

01.01b Ogbè (a wholesome road) is doubled.

Èbìtì já fi àyà lù ilẹ̀.

The animal trap fell and used (its) chest to hit the ground. [Note: The animal trap here has actually fallen flat on its face. ‘Falling flat on one’s face’ idiomatically means ‘to fail completely in an attempt to do something, especially in an embarrassing way’].

A dífá fún Yèyé Alẹ̀-tì-lẹ̀, tí ifi omi ojú sògbéré ire, tí ísọ ìretí nù. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì se ibọ fún Èlà, alátúnṣe ayé, asọ-ọrò-di-ayọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Mother ‘Night has not yet fallen’, who was using teardrops to cry about good things, who was losing hope. It was said that she ought to come doing ẹbọ. She heard; she did ẹbọ. She moreover did ibọ for Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), the master of improving one’s life in the world, the one who converts trouble into joy.

Kò pé; kò jinnà. Ire gbogbo wá yá dé tùtúru.

It did not take long; it was not far away. Every good thing came flooding in to arrive plentifully.

Ñjé, alé ajé kì ilé fún awo – èhìn wà. Kí ẹnì má rò Èdú pin – èhìn wà. Alé aya kì ilé fún awo – èhìn wà. Kí ẹnì má rò Èdú pin – èhìn wà.

Therefore, the night (that is, loss of opportunity) of money never falls for a priest – the future exists. We ought not to write Èdú (Jet-black, a name of Èlà) off – the future exists. The night of spouses never falls for a priest – the future exists. We ought not to write Èdú off – the future exists.

Alé omọ kì ilé fún awo – èhìn wà. Kí ẹnì má rò Èdú pin – èhìn wà. Alé ire gbogbo kì ilé fún awo – èhìn wà. Kí ẹnì má rò Èdú pin – èhìn wà.

The night of children never falls for a priest – the future exists. We ought not to write Èdú off – the future exists. The night of every good thing never falls for a priest – the future exists. We ought not to write Èdú off – the future exists.

Extra: [Mizmōr (Psalm) 55:22 revised] Cast upon Ha'el (God) your matter of concern, and he will sustain you; he will not permit for long the losing of footing for the righteous one.

Ogbè Òyèkú

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.02 Ogbè (a wholesome road) helps Òyèkú (not missing out on bright possibilities).

Ogbè Òyèkú ni bàbá àmúlù. Orí ogbó, orí atọ ni bàbá ẹdan. Ọṣọrọ ni bàbá ọjò.

It is Ogbè Òyèkú that is the father of Odu combinations. It is a destiny of longevity and a destiny of vitality that are the fathers of an Ògbóni staff (which could last in an Ògbóni spiritual house for several hundred years). It is a torrent that is the father of rain.

A dífá fún Kìniún, tí yóò fi itọ gbà ijù lówọ ẹranko. Gbogbo àwọn ẹranko ni íṣáátá Kìniún. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó baà lè l'ówọ lójú àwọn ẹgbẹ rẹ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Lion, who would use urine to take over the wilderness from the hands of the wild animals. It was all of the wild animals who were belittling Lion. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may be able to have respect in the presence of his associates. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Nígbà tí Kìniún rúbọ tán, bí ó bá dùbúlẹ s'ibikibi, yóò maa tọ yí ara ká. Bí ẹranko bá ti dá itọ kojá, yóò di òkú.

When Lion had done ẹbọ completely, if he happened to lie down at any place, then he would keep urinating all around himself. If a wild animal happened to have passed over the urine, then it would become a corpse.

Báyí ni Kìniún di ẹnì ẹrù láárín àwọn ẹranko. Bí wọn bá gbọ ohùn rẹ, ẹrù ọò bá wọn. Láti igbà náà ni Kìniún ti jọba lóri gbogbo ẹranko.

It was in that manner that Lion became a person of fear among the wild animals. If they happened to hear his voice, then fear would meet them. It is since that time that Lion has reigned over every wild animal.

Ẹbọ: Fi ìgò ọtí méjì àti owó. Fi àkóse Ifá.

An ẹbọ: Use two bottles of alcoholic spirits and some cowry money. Use Ifá medicine.

Àkóse Ifá: Gbo ewé ọwọ sínú akèrègbè omi. Dà ọtí sí i fún mímu.

Ifá medicine: Juice ọwọ leaves (which are used to bring respect to someone) into a calabash of water. Pour alcoholic spirits to it for drinking.

Extra: Take your rightful place of importance and respect.

Ogbè Ìwòrì

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.03 Ogbè (a wholesome road) helps Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen; seeing things clearly).

Ogbè Wẹ̀yìn, a dífá fún Àdímú nígbàtí kò lè ká ayé nítorí tí kò dì Òrìṣànlá mú.

Ogbè Wẹ̀yìn ('Ogbè looks backward', same as Ogbè Ìwòrì), Ifá divination was performed for Taking-hold when he was not able to handle life successfully because he was not taking hold of Òrìṣànlá (the òrìṣà of moral sense).

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì tàn fitilá fún Òrìṣànlá. Báyii ni Òrìṣànlá óò tàn iná ire fún un.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover lit a candle for Òrìṣànlá. It was in this manner that Òrìṣànlá would light the fire of good things for him.

Ọfọ: Òrìṣànlá pèlẹ, bàntà-banta nínú àlà. Ọdúnnì l'Òrìṣànlá tàn iná ire fún mi.

Incantation: Hail Òrìṣànlá, the immense one in white clothing (which symbolizes the effort to maintain cleanness). It is this year that Òrìṣànlá lights the fire of good things for me.

Àkóse Ifá: Lọ ewé ẹfunṣẹfun. Pè ọfọ nàà s'ẹ̀tù yìí tí o ti tẹ lí Ogbè Ìwòrì. Dà ẹ̀tù yìí sínú ọkan nínú fitilá pèlú òrí. Tàn fitilá yìí l'ọjó méje.

Ifá medicine: Grind ẹfunṣẹfun leaves (which are used to bring prosperity) into a powder. Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to this powder that you have imprinted with Ogbè Ìwòrì. Pour this powder into a candle together with shea butter (which is used to remove negative energy). Light the candle for 7 days.

Extra: [Miṣlẹ (Proverbs) 21:21] One who runs after righteousness and loving-kindness attains to life, prosperity, and honor.

Ogbè Òdí

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.04 Ogbè (a wholesome road) is hindered by Òdí (blockage or enemies).

Ogbè Òdí pẹ̀rẹ̀pẹ̀, a dífá fún Ori-àpéré, tí ó kúnlẹ, tí ó yàn ipín rẹ, tí elénìní kò jẹkí ó ẹ é.

Ogbè Òdí abundantly, Ifá divination was performed for Personal-destiny, who knelt (before God), who chose his portion in life, whom people of ill will did not allow that he carry it out.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Lẹ̀hìn tí ó rúbọ tán, ohun gbogbo tí iṣe, ó gún, ó l'ónà.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. After he had done ẹbọ completely, everything that he was doing, it became right, it had a road (to success).

Ifá ní òun rí aláròmó tí kò fẹ́ kí a ẹ̀ nkan ẹ̀ni. Ifá ní òun bá ẹ̀ni ẹ̀gun aláròmó náà. Ifá ní kí a wá rúbọ́.

Ifá says that he sees an ill-wisher (that is, one who desires ill luck to another) who does not want that we do something of ours. Ifá says that he will join us in overcoming the aforementioned ill-wisher. Ifá says that we ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ́.

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one will overcome someone or something that is working against their best interests.

Ogbè Ìrosùn

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.05a Ogbè (a wholesome road) helps Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Àlùkínrínjin l'ó dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ́ kí ibi má bá bá a fi ẹ̀sẹ̀ wọ̀ ilẹ̀ rẹ̀. Ó gbọ́; ó rúbọ́.

It was Àlùkínrínjin who performed Ifá divination for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ́ so that bad things may not happen to join him in using the feet to enter his house. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ́.

A ẹ̀ ẹ̀kóse Ifá fún Ọmọ-Èlà. A ẹ̀ fitilà iṣẹgun fún un kí ó tàn án l'álaalẹ́.

Ifá medicine was made for Ọmọ-Èlà. A candle of victory was made for him so that he may light it every night.

Extra: [Miṣlẹ́ (Proverbs) 16:17] The high way of upright ones is to turn themselves aside from what is bad; one who watches over his spirit is one who safeguards his conduct.

***

01.05b Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Message: [Dilogún 8-4] He who corrects his shortcomings transforms his enemies.

Ogbè Ọwónrín

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.06 Ogbè (a wholesome road) helps Ọwónrín (walking honorably).

Ifá ní kí a má fi ojú tẹ̀mbẹ́lú ẹ̀nikẹ̀ni.

Ifá says that we ought not to use (our) eyes to belittle anyone.

Extra: Do not look down on anyone.

Ogbè Ọbàrà

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.07 Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Ọbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity).

Ìmọ̀nà mọ̀nà sán kàn ilẹ̀. Ìmọ̀nà mọ̀nà sán kàn ọ̀run.

Lightning flashes and touches the earth. Lightning flashes and touches the sky.

A dífá fún Igún n'íjọ tí íbọ l'óde ayé. A ní àkókò tí ojú bá maa tí í, tí ebi bá maa pa á, n'ìṣẹ̀lẹ̀ òò ṣe. A kò ní gbọ ikú Igún. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Vulture on the day when she was coming to earth town. It was said that the time when shame happened to be coming over her, when hunger happened to be overwhelming her, it was then when an event would happen. We will not hear of the death of Vulture. It was said that she ought to come doing ẹbọ. She heard; she did ẹbọ.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó wá rúbọ kí bí ojú bá tí í, ẹnìkẹ̀jì rẹ ọrun baà lè rán lọwọ.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹbọ so that if shame happens to come over him, then his companion of heaven may be able to render help.

Ogbè Ọkànràn

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.08a Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Ọkànràn (giving something good its turn).

Ogbè ñkàn ọràn.

Ogbè is touching the matter (firmly).

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó wá rúbọ. Kí olúwarẹ sì wá ṣe ibọ fún Ori Ẹlédàá. Báyií l'ayé rẹ òò di rere. Ori Ẹlédàá ni irò ẹnì tààrà fi í jọba.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹbọ. The person in question ought moreover to come doing ibọ for Ori Ẹlédàá (Man's godself). It is in this manner that his life in the world will become that which is good. It is Ori Ẹlédàá who considers a person straightway to cause him to be enthroned as the king (of his own life).

Ori pẹ̀lẹ̀, atètè nìran, atètè gbè ẹnì kí òòṣà. Kò sí ọ̀rìṣà tí ó tó gbè lẹ̀yìn Ori ẹnì.

Hail Ori, the one who quickly remembers (a person), the one who quickly supports a person before ọ̀rìṣà (ministerial deities). There is no ọ̀rìṣà who is sufficient to give support behind the back of one's Ori.

Extra: By attuning yourself to Ori Ẹlédàá, you take noble charge of the powers within your being.

***

01.08b Ogbè (a wholesome road) is hindered by Ọkànràn (touching trouble).

Ìṣẹ̀pẹ̀ irókò, awo Ọrọ, l'ó dífá fún Ọrọ, arọ-bùjẹ l'ẹnu ọmọ ẹyẹ, nígbàtí íbẹ nínú ìṣòro nítorí àwọn ọmọ ẹyẹ.

It was 'Withered irókò twigs', the priest of Ọrọ-plant (which is a cactus-like plant), who performed Ifá divination for Ọrọ-plant, the one who was tender to be chewed in the mouth of the birds (a reference to bird-people), when she was in difficulty because of the birds.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ṣe ipèsè. Nígbàtí Ọrọ rúbọ tán, àwọn ọmọ ẹyẹ kò lè mu ẹjẹ rẹ mọ. Wọn kò sì lè bà lé e mọ.

It was said that she ought to come doing ẹbọ. She heard; she did ẹbọ. She moreover did ipèsè. When Ọrọ-plant had done ẹbọ completely, the birds were not able to drink her blood (which had become skin-irritating sap) anymore. They were not moreover able to perch on her anymore (because she had developed a thorny exterior).

Èrò Ìpo, èrò Òfà, ẹ wá bá ẹnì ní àrúṣégun.

Travelers to Ìpo town, travelers to Òfà town, come join us in stirring up victory.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí íbẹ nínú ìṣòro nítorí àwọn ẹlẹyẹ. Wọn kò jẹkí olúwarẹ rí ojútúú ayé rẹ; wọn kò jẹkí ó ní láárí. Kí ó wá rúbọ. Kí ó sì wá ẹ ipèsè. Báyí ni yóò ṣégun àwọn ẹlẹyẹ.

Ifá says that there is someone who is in difficulty because of ẹlẹyẹ (bird-people, a nickname of psychic agents). They do not allow that the person in question solve the problems of her life; they do not allow that she have importance. She ought to come doing ẹbọ. She ought moreover to come doing ipèsè. It is in this manner that she will overcome ẹlẹyẹ.

Ìpèsè: Fi epo, obì méjọ, òkété, àti orógbó pèsè fún ẹlẹyẹ.

An ipèsè: Use palm oil (which is used to tone down that which is potentially unruly), 8 kola nuts (which are used to further peaceful prosperity), a giant rat, and a bitter-kola nut to provide for ẹlẹyẹ.

Ogbè Ògúndá

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.09 Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action).

Ìbínú kò dá nkan rere fún ẹnì. Sùúrù ni bàbá ìwà. Ẹni tí ó ní sùúrù, yóò jẹ ogbó, yóò jẹ atọ.

Anger does not produce anything good for a person. It is patience that is the father of (good) character. The person who has patience, he will enjoy longevity, he will enjoy vitality.

A dífá fún Ìwà. A bù fún Orí. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ kí Ìwà má baà bínú kí ó bà Orí jẹ. Wọn gbọ; wọn rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Character. It (this divination) was shared with Personal-destiny. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ so that Character may not get angry and consequently ruin Personal-destiny. They heard; they did ẹbọ.

Ọfọ: Ìwà nìkan l'ó sọrọ. Orí kì íburú lí Òtu-Ifẹ. Ìwà nìkan l'ó sọrọ.

Incantation: It is character alone that speaks. Personal destiny is never bad in Ilé-Ifẹ (a Yorùbá town that symbolizes earthly life). It is character alone that speaks.

Àkóse Ifá: Pò ewé ọdúndún, ewé tètẹ, ẹkọ, àti orí pọ sínú omi. Pè ọfọ náà s'ìyèròsùn tí o tí tẹ lí Ogbè Ògúndá. Pò ìyèròsùn yí pẹlú àpòpọ náà. Fi owó kan bọ àkópọ yí. Lẹhìn tí o fi owó yí kàn idodo rẹ, fi í n'ídí Èsù. Mu àkópọ náà.

Ifá medicine: Mix ọdúndún leaves (which are used to remove negative energy), tètẹ leaves (which are used for protection and peace of mind), maize porridge, and shea butter (which is used to remove negative energy) together into water. Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to ìyèròsùn that you have imprinted with Ogbè Ògúndá. Mix this ìyèròsùn together with the aforementioned mixture. Dip one cowry into this combination. After using this cowry to touch your navel, put it at the base of the prime talisman of Èsù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests). Drink the aforementioned combination.

Extra: 1. [Miṣlẹ (Proverbs) 29:22] A person of anger stirs up contention, and one possessing the heat of anger is someone abundant in rebellious action. 2. It is your character that makes or breaks you.

Ogbè Ọsá

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.10a Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Ọsá (taking timely action).

Bí ojú bá ńpọn babaláwo, kí babaláwo má purọ́. Bí ojú bá ńpọn onísẹ̀gùn, kí babaláwo má ẹ̀ké. Kí ẹ̀ni má purọ́; kí ẹ̀ni má ẹ̀ké. Nítorí àtisùn ara ẹ̀ni ni.

If affliction happens to be coming over an Ifá priest, then the Ifá priest ought not to lie. If affliction happens to be coming over an herb doctor, then the herb doctor ought not to deceive. A person ought not to lie; a person ought not to deceive. Because of the sleeping of our bodies (that is, our eventual passing) this is.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà nígbàtí Ẹ̀ni-àìmọ̀ nífi í rẹ̀rín. Ọmọ-Èlà ńsòdodo, ẹ̀gbọ̀n ó ńse ohun gbogbo tí ọ̀kan kò yànjú. Ẹ̀ni-àìmọ̀ ńse àbòsì, ẹ̀gbọ̀n wọ̀n ńse ohun gbogbo tán.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) when People-of-ignorance were making fun of him. Ọmọ-Èlà was practicing righteousness, but he was doing everything for which (each) one did not find an answer. People-of-ignorance were practicing double-dealing, but they were doing everything to completion.

A ní kí ó má dẹ̀kun isòdodo. Kí ó sì ní sùurù. Kí ó wá rúbọ. A ní: “Bí ó bá pẹ̀ tíítí, ẹ̀lẹ̀san ọ̀o maa bọ̀wá àyíká. Yòò túmọ̀ l’ẹ̀rù kalẹ̀.”

It was said that he ought not to cease practicing righteousness. He ought moreover to have patience. He ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. It was said: “If it happens to take a long time on-and-on, then the dispenser of rewards will be coming around. He will solve burdens to the last one.”

Extra: 1. [a saying from Martin Luther King Jr.] The time is always right to do what is right. 2. [Miṣlẹ̀ (Proverbs) 24:19-20] You ought not to rouse yourself to anger because of the wrongdoers (and) you ought not to be envious of the unrighteous ones, because there will not be a (good) ending for someone bad; the candle of unrighteous ones will be extinguished.

***

01.10b Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Ọsá (taking timely action).

Ogbè sá rẹ̀ ilẹ̀. Ọsá sá rẹ̀ oko. A dífá fún Ẹ̀ni-ayé-kàn. A bù fún Ẹ̀-é-rere.

Ogbè ran away to go to the town. Ọsá ran away to go to the countryside. Ifá divination was performed for ‘One to whom life gives his turn of opportunity’. It (this divination) was shared with Do-it-well.

Ẹ̀-é-rere, gbé ẹ̀rù rere o! Ẹ̀ni-ayé-kàn, ẹ̀ ẹ̀-é-ayé ire. Bí ó jẹ̀ iwọ̀ l’ayé kàn, kí ó ẹ̀-é-ayé ire. Bí ó jẹ̀ èmi l’ayé kàn, kí N ẹ̀-é-ayé ire. Ẹ̀-é-rere, gbé ẹ̀rù rere o! Ẹ̀ni-ayé-kàn, ẹ̀ ẹ̀-é-ayé ire.

Do it well, carry the load well! ‘One to whom life gives his turn of opportunity’, make a world of good things. If it is you to whom life gives your turn, then you ought to make a world of good things. If it is me to whom life gives my turn, then I ought to make a world of good things. Do it well, carry the load well! ‘One to whom life gives his turn of opportunity’, make a world of good things.

Extra: [Miṣlẹ̀ (Proverbs) 3:27] You ought not to withhold what is good from its owners (that is, those to whom it is due), in that it has come to be in the power of your hand to do (it).

Ogbè Òtúrúpòn

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.12 Ogbè (a wholesome road) helps Òtúrúpòn (being productive).

Ogbè, tún ọmọ pòn. Ogbè, tún ọmọ sún. Àgbàpòn kò lérè. Bí ọmọ bá òkè, iyá l'áá gbé e fún.

Ogbè, work at back-carrying (your) child. Ogbè, work at adjusting (your) child. Receiving and back-carrying (someone else's child) are not rewarding. If a child happens to be crying out, then it is the mother to whom we will hand him over.

A dífá fún Àpáta-àdirò, àwọn tí ó kò ògiri wọn sílẹ̀. Ohun gbogbo tí a fi lórí wọn, ó já nínú iná.

Ifá divination was performed for Hearthstones (two stones that form a triangular fireplace with the side of a wall), the ones who abandoned their wall (in order to go it alone). Everything that was put on top of them, it fell into the fire.

Kíni Àpáta-àdirò lè ẹ̀ se kí ayé baà lè yẹ wọn? A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ. Kí wọn sì gbé ògiri pòn tímótímọ. Wọn gbọ; wọn rúbọ. Wọn sì padà sí ògiri wọn.

What was it that Hearthstones were able to do so that life may be able to be right for them? It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ. They ought moreover to pick up (their) wall to back-carry it closely. They heard; they did ẹbọ. They moreover returned to their wall.

Ìgbà tí Àpáta-àdirò gbé ògiri pòn, l'a bá òní ire gbogbo.

It was the time when Hearthstones picked up the wall to back-carry it, that we happened to be having every good thing.

Extra: One cannot fare well single-handedly – one needs the right help.

Ogbè Òtúrá

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.13 Ogbè (a wholesome road) helps Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation).

Bí ẹnì lówó, bí kò n'íwà, owó olówó ni. Ìwà, iwà l'a n'wá o, iwà! Bí ẹnì bímọ, bí kò n'íwà, ọmọ ọlómọ ni. Ìwà, iwà l'a n'wá o, iwà!

If a person has money, if he does not have character, then the money of someone else it is. Character, it is character that we are looking for, character! If a person begets children, if he does not have character, then the children of someone else they are. Character, it is character that we are looking for, character!

Bí ẹnì kólé, bí kò n'íwà, ilé onílé ni. Ìwà, iwà l'a n'wá o, iwà! Bí ẹnì n'íre, bí kò n'íwà, ire oníre ni. Ìwà, iwà l'a n'wá o, iwà!

If a person builds a house, if he does not have character, then the house of someone else it is. Character, it is character that we are looking for, character! If a person has good things, if he does not have character, then the good things of someone else they are. Character, it is character that we are looking for, character!

Extra: 1. [an Ifá saying] Ìwà rere l'òṣọ èyàn (It is good character that is the adornment of a human being). 2. [Dilogún 8-15 revised] Bad character is what leads a man to fail in his endeavors.

Ogbè Ìrètè

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.14 Ogbè (a wholesome road) hinders Ìrètè (unwholesome influences).

Bí iwájú ikà bá dára l'áyé, èyìn ikà kò ní sunwòn. A kì ifi ikà dì ẹrù kí ó gún gégé.

If the front part of evil happens to be good-looking in life, then the back part of evil will not be good. We never use evil to tie a load (for undertaking a journey) for it to be exactly right.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-òtító-inú, ọmọ afi ìrèlè tẹlẹ, nígbàtí ohun ayé ndára fún aṣe-ibi, nígbàtí aṣe-rere n̄bùkù. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Kí ó sì ní sùúrù.

Ifá divination was performed for Child-of-truthfulness, child of the one who uses humility to walk on the earth, when things of the world were looking good for the one who practices that which is bad, when the one who practices that which is good was getting reduced in importance. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He ought moreover to have patience.

Ẹlédàá l'ó n'ílẹ. Ẹlédàá l'ó n'ídájọ. Ẹsan ni t'Ẹlédàá. Yóò san án fún onikálùkù gégé bí isẹ ọwọ wọn.

It is Ẹlédàá (Creator God) who owns the earth. It is Ẹlédàá who owns judgment. It is payment of reward that is a matter of Ẹlédàá. He will pay it to each one according to the works of their hands.

Extra: 1. [Mizmōr (Psalm) 18:24 revised] And Ha'el (God) gives rewards to me according to my rightness, according to the cleanness of my hands in front of his eyes. 2. [Mišlē (Proverbs) 11:18] An unrighteous one achieves a sham reward, but one who sows righteousness (achieves) a reward truly.

Ogbè Ọṣẹ

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.15 Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Ọṣẹ (overcoming through joyful optimism).

Ogbè Ọṣẹ, a dífá fún Ọmùgò, tí ó l'oun kò ní ṣoore mọ. A ní kí ó má dẹkun iṣoore. Ṣùgbón kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ogbè Ọṣẹ, Ifá divination was performed for Foolish-one, who said that he would not do kindly acts anymore. It was said that he ought not to cease doing kindly acts. But he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Njẹ, yóò l'ájé tí ó tẹrùn. Aṣe-rere, kò ṣàì l'ájé tí ó tẹrùn. Yóò l'áya tí ó tẹrùn. Aṣe-rere, kò ṣàì l'áya tí ó tẹrùn.

Therefore, he will have money that is satisfactory. One who practices that which is good, he will not fail to have money that is satisfactory. He will have spouses who are satisfactory. One who practices that which is good, he will not fail to have spouses who are satisfactory.

Yóò bímọ tí ó tẹrùn. Aṣe-rere, kò ṣàì bímọ tí ó tẹrùn. Yóò n'ire gbogbo tí ó tẹrùn. Aṣe-rere, kò ṣàì n'ire gbogbo tí ó tẹrùn.

He will beget children who are satisfactory. One who practices that which is good, he will not fail to beget children who are satisfactory. He will have every good thing that is satisfactory. One who practices that which is good, he will not fail to have every good thing that is satisfactory.

Extra: 1. Do not give up on doing what is good. 2. By practicing what is good, you will enjoy things within proper bounds.

Ogbè Òfún

[\[Back to Ogbè\]](#)

01.16a Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Òfún (acting with rectitude). Ogbè (a wholesome road) hinders Òfún (efforts of limited success).

Mo sí apá, mo yanngede.

I raise (my) arms, I walk majestically.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà, tí maa gbé ẹrù tirẹ dé orí. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ ibọ fún Èlà, asọ-ọrọ-di-ayọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) when he was intending to head-carry his load (that is, to bear his responsibilities). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Èlà, the one who converts trouble into joy.

Èlà bá mi gbé ẹrù tẹmi dé orí. Ohun tí ó wúwo jù kì ídẹ sí Èlà. Njẹ, mo sí apá, mo yanngede.

Èlà is joining me in head-carrying my load. A thing that is too heavy never reaches Èlà. Therefore, I raise (my) arms, I walk majestically.

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one will be able to handle any matter in a masterly way.

***

01.16b Ogbè (a wholesome road) is helped by Òfún (acting with rectitude).

Ogbè Òfún, a dífá fún Ọrùn nígbà tí ó maa gbà Ikọ sílé. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. A ní kí ó má gbà àlejò ọràn.

Ogbè Òfún, Ifá divination was performed for Neck when he was intending to accept Cough as a guest in his home. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. It was said that he ought not to accept a troublesome guest.

Ọrùn pè awo l'éké. Ó pè Èṣù l'ólè. Ó kọ; kò rúbọ. Nítorínáà, Ikọ l'ó sọ ilé Ìwémẹ di ilé ipónjú.

Neck called the priest a deceiver. He called Èṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests) a thief. He refused; he did not do ẹbọ. Therefore, it was Cough who transformed the home of Neck into a home of misery.

Extra: Do not allow troublesome persons or things into your psychological comfort zone.

Òyèkú Ogbè

[\[Back to Òyèkú\]](#)

02.01 Òyèkú (averting ruin; not missing out on bright possibilities) is helped by Ogbè (a wholesome road).

Ayé l'ọjà, ọrun n'ilé.

It is earth that is a market place, it is the spirit world that is home. [Note: A market place offers a variety of experiences to each person].

A dífá fún Ori-àpéré. Bí ẹ dé ilé ayé, bí ẹ gbàgbé ọrun, ayé l'ọjà, ọrun n'ilé.

Ifá divination was performed for Personal-destiny. If you reach the abode of earth, if you forget the spirit world, then it is earth that is a market place, it is the spirit world that is home.

Ẹ ọò jẹ iyìn, ẹ ọò jẹ àbò ohun tí ẹ rí.

You will answer for the praise (that you have earned), and you will answer for the other half of that which you experienced.

Òyèkú Méjì

[\[Back to Òyèkú\]](#)

02.02a Òyèkú (averting ruin) is doubled.

Ìwọ ọyẹ. Èmi ọyẹ.

You are one who habitually displaces things. I am one who habitually displaces things.

A dífá fún Bàbá 'Ọyẹ ikú', n'ijọ tí ó fẹ maa yẹ ikú lórí takọ-tabo. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Father 'Ọyẹ ikú' (one who habitually displaces death), on the day when he wanted to displace death from the heads of men and women. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Ọfọ: Kíni yòò yẹ ikú nù lórí awo? Èjì Ọyẹ, Ifá ni yòò yẹ ikú nù lórí awo, Èjì Ọyẹ o!

Incantation: What is it that will displace death to be lost at the head of the priest? Èjì Ọyẹ (same as Òyèkú Méjì), it is Ifá that will displace death to be lost at the head of the priest, Èjì Ọyẹ!

Àkóse Ifá: Pè ọfọ náà s'iyèròsùn tí o ti tẹ lí Èjì Ọyẹ. Fi iyèròsùn náà sà fún orí.

Ifá medicine: Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to iyèròsùn that you have imprinted with Èjì Ọyẹ. Use the aforementioned iyèròsùn to apply to the head.

***

02.02b Ọyèkú (not missing out on bright possibilities) is doubled.

Ọpèlẹ l'ó yó tán, l'ó dakùn délẹ.

It is the ọpèlẹ that is satisfied completely with food and riches, that lies flat on its belly. [Note: The ọpèlẹ lies flat on its belly whenever it shows Ọyèkú Méjì].

A dífá fún Ọyẹ. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó baà lè gbà ojú-ọrun là bí ọberẹkẹ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Predawn-light. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may be able to take over the sky and come into full display like a bright light. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Ọyẹ ẹẹẹ nílà bọ lókè. Wọn ẹbí ojúmọ ni ímọ. Ojúmọ ire tí yòò maa mó l'òní o!

Predawn-light is just appearing and approaching on high. They (people) assume that it is dawn that is (already) breaking. It is a dawn of good things that will be breaking today!

Ojúmọ ajé tí ó mó mi l'òní o! Ojúmọ aya tí ó mó mi l'òní o! Ojúmọ ọmọ tí ó mó mi l'òní o! Ojúmọ ire tí ó mó mi l'òní o!

It is a dawn of money on me that today is! It is a dawn of spouses on me that today is! It is a dawn of children on me that today is! It is a dawn of good things on me that today is!

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one's light will shine (that is, one will give full display to the fruits of one's abilities).

Ọyèkú Ọbàrà

[\[Back to Ọyèkú\]](#)

02.07 Ọyèkú (averting ruin) is helped by Ọbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity).

Èkúté ilé kò ní mu oje ògìrì kí ó yè.

A house rat will not drink the sap of fermented melon seeds and then survive.

A dífá fún L'ásílọ, tí ó dá egbò s'ẹsẹ òsì, ẹ̀gbón ó lọ nímọ t'òtún. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó kò; kò rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for 'At shifting things around', who presented a sore on the left leg, but went limiting himself to the right leg. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He refused; he did not do ẹbọ.

Èyàn tí ó dá egbò s'ẹsẹ òsì, ẹ̀gbón ó lọ nímọ t'òtún, ara rẹ l'ó ntàn án jẹ.

The person who presents a sore on the left leg, but goes limiting himself to the right leg, it is his own self whom he is deceiving.

Extra: Be honest with yourself about your shortcomings.

Ọ̀yẹ̀kú Ọ̀kànràn

[\[Back to Ọ̀yẹ̀kú\]](#)

02.08a Ọ̀yẹ̀kú (averting ruin; not missing out on bright possibilities) is helped by Ọ̀kànràn (giving something good its turn).

Aboógún, wọn kò fọ̀hùn ibi. Abòòsà, wọn kò fọ̀hùn odi.

Those who practice the customs of egúngún (honorable ancestors), they do not verbally dwell on bad things. Those who practice the customs of òrìṣà (ministerial deities), they do not verbally dwell on ill will.

Extra: [a saying from Shirley MacLaine] Dwelling on the negative simply contributes to its power.

***

02.08b Ọ̀yẹ̀kú (averting ruin; not missing out on bright possibilities) is hindered by Ọ̀kànràn (touching trouble).

Àtòrì rọ̀ra yò. Ilé l'á bá ìròkò nǹgbé.

The àtòrì tree (which is associated with egúngún, honorable ancestors) gently rejoices. It is home that we make with the ìròkò tree (which is sacred and inhabited by a powerful spirit).

A dífá fún Ìràwọ̀-ṣààṣà. A ní bí kò bá fi t'Èlédàá ṣe ọ̀nà, àá pa ọ̀lá mọ ọ l'ára. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó kọ; kò rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Giant-star. It was said that if he did not happen to use the way of Èlédàá (Creator God) to make a way, then honor would be kept safe from him. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He refused; he did not do ẹ̀bọ.

Nítorínàà, n'íjọ́ tí Èlédàá bá rò t'ìgbéraga ìràwọ̀ kan, l'áá rí tí ìràwọ̀ nàà ṣì dí lójìjì. Yòò sì wọ̀ òòkùn.

Therefore, it is on the day when Èlédàá happens to think on the matter of a star's arrogance, that we will see that the aforementioned star becomes pale and opaque suddenly. It will moreover go into darkness.

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 29:23] Arrogance of a person will bring him low, but a humble one of spirit will take hold of honor.

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.01 Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen) helps Ogbè (a wholesome road).

Ònà wúrúwùrù yìi, ẹ jékí a jọ yè ẹ wò.

This undeveloped path, allow that we come together to look into it.

A dífá fún Ìwòrì, èyítí ìlọ bá Ogbè rẹ ilé ire. A ní ònà kan m̀bẹ tí àwọn méjèèjì ọ̀ò jọ là á. Sùgbón kí wón wá rúbọ. Wón gbọ; wón rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Ìwòrì, the one who went joining Ogbè in going to the house of good things. It was said that there was a road that the two of them would come together to make it. But they ought to come doing ẹbọ. They heard; they did ẹbọ.

Ìwòrì Bogbè rere o! Ìwòrì wá bì Ogbè s'ílẹ̀ ajé. Ìwòrì Bogbè rere o! Ìwòrì wá bì Ogbè s'ílẹ̀ aya.

Good Ìwòrì Bogbè (same as Ìwòrì Ogbè)! Ìwòrì comes pushing Ogbè along to the house of money. Good Ìwòrì Bogbè! Ìwòrì comes pushing Ogbè along to the house of spouses.

Ìwòrì Bogbè rere o! Ìwòrì wá bì Ogbè s'ílẹ̀ ọmọ. Ìwòrì Bogbè rere o! Ìwòrì wá bì Ogbè s'ílẹ̀ ire gbogbo. Ìwòrì Bogbè rere o!

Good Ìwòrì Bogbè! Ìwòrì comes pushing Ogbè along to the house of children. Good Ìwòrì Bogbè! Ìwòrì comes pushing Ogbè along to the house of every good thing. Good Ìwòrì Bogbè!

Ìwòrì Òyèkú

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.02 Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen) helps Òyèkú (not missing out on bright possibilities).

Ohun tí yòò ẹ ẹni, kò gbai ẹ ẹni.

That which will damage a person, it will not damage him very much.

A dífá fún Ọlọ́fin. A ní ọmọ titun tí ó bí yìi, bí ó bá pẹ, yòò ẹ aláìsàn kan. Wón ọ̀ò wò ó sà̀n, sùgbón yòò sọ̀di ayẹ̀kún.

Ifá divination was performed for the Ifẹ king. It was said that this new child whom he begot, if he happened to last long, then he would be a sick person. They would heal him, but he would become a lame person.

A ní kí Ọlòfin má bínú. Bí ó bá rúbọ, ọmọ náà òò rí ire dandan.

It was said that the Ifẹ king ought not to be angry. If he happened to do ẹbọ, then the aforementioned child would see good things surely.

Extra: One can still make progress in spite of the limitations presented to them.

Ìwòrì Méjì

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.03 Ìwòrì (seeing things clearly) is doubled.

Ọwọ ẹwe kò tó pepe. T'àgbàlágba kò wọ akèrègbè. Iṣẹ tí ẹwe bá bẹ àgbà, kí ó máṣe kò. Gbogbo wa l'a n'íṣẹ tí a jọ mbẹ ara wa.

The hands of a youngster do not reach a shelf. Those of an elder do not enter a small-necked calabash. The task that a youngster happens to beg of an elder, he (the elder) ought not to refuse it. It is all of us who have tasks that we come together making requests of one another. [Note: The message here is that one person alone is sometimes not enough to meet a situation].

A dífá fún babaláwo, èyítí akápò rẹ òò pè é l'ẹjọ lódò adájọ gbọn. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for an Ifá master priest, the one whom his disciple would call him to court in the presence of a wise judge. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Adájọ wá ránṣẹ sí babaláwo pé kí ó wá sọ ìdí tí kò figbè akápò rẹ. Nígbà tí babaláwo dé iwájú adájọ, ó ní òun sà gbogbo agbára òun fún akápò. Ó ní ipín akápò ní kò gbọ.

The judge came sending a message to the priest that he (the priest) ought to come telling the reason why he did not show support for his disciple. When the priest arrived in front of the judge, he (the priest) said that he applied all of his ability for the disciple. He said that it was the fate of the disciple to not understand.

Ìgbà náà ni ọrọ náà tó wá yé adájọ yékeyéke. Inú rẹ sì dùn pé kò dájọ ẹnu apákan.

It was at that time that the aforementioned matter reached the point of coming to be clear to the judge thoroughly. His insides moreover were happy that he did not judge from the narration of one side only.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó má dájọ ẹnu apákan. Kí olúwarẹ wá rúbọ. Kí ó sì wá ẹ ibọ fún Èlà, afi inú ẹ ogbọn.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought not to judge from the narration of one side only. The person in question ought to come doing ẹbọ. He ought moreover to come doing ibọ for Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), the one who uses (his) insides to practice wisdom.

Extra: Decide matters equitably.

Ìwòrì Ìrosùn

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.05 Ìwòrì (seeing things clearly) is helped by Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Bí ojúmọ bá ńmọ, a kò ní yà ọgbèrì bí ọjọ ànà. A dífá fún Kò-ìmọ, tí íronú sí bí òun ti maa ẹ kìní yìí l’áná. Ó ronú tí tí ó sùn. Nígbatí ojúmọ mọ, tí ọyẹ là, kò ì mọ èyítí òun maa ẹ dandan.

If dawn happens to break, then we will not be unknowing people like yesterday. Ifá divination was performed for ‘He does not yet know’, who was contemplating this way that he was doing things yesterday. He pondered until he fell asleep. When dawn broke, when twilight appeared, he still did not know what he was going to do exactly.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí èrò rẹ baà lè ẹ orí. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that his ideas may be able to make headway. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Ñjẹ, kí a jẹkí ọjọ bọrí ọjọ. Bí kò bá tó, kí oşu bọrí oşu. Bí ó bá pẹ tí tí, àà mọ èyítí a maa ẹ.

Therefore, let us allow day by day to get through what has to be done. If it does not happen to be enough, then let us endeavor month after month. If it happens to take a long time on-and-on, then we will know what we are going to do.

Extra: Through careful consideration and suitable spiritual effort, one will eventually determine a proper course of action.

Ìwòrì Ọbàrà

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.07 Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen; seeing things clearly) is helped by Ọbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity).

Ifá ní ẹnìkàn wà tí kí ó ńwọ nínú iwà tí kò sunwọ. Kí olúwarẹ wá rúbọ. Bá yíí l’òràn bàràbàrà kò ní bá a.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to stop working in behavior that is not good. The person in question ought to come doing ẹbọ. It is in this manner that hasty trouble will not encounter him.

Ìwòrì Ọkànràn

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.08 Ìwòrì (seeing things clearly) hinders Ọkànràn (touching trouble).

Ó bè ilẹ wò, ó bè ilẹ wò. Bí ewúré bá maa dùbúlẹ, yòò bè ilẹ wò.

She inspects the ground, she inspects the ground. If a she-goat happens to be lying down, then she will inspect the ground.

A dífá fún ‘Má kánjú hùwà, ìrìn gbé èrè ọlá’. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ohun tí maa ẹ yíí, ó má baà dá ọràn s’ọrùn fún un. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Bá yíí l’èrò rẹ ọò ẹ orí.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘Do not be in a hurry to take action, walking carries the gain of honor’. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that this thing that he was intending to do, it may not create a ‘pain in the neck’ for him. He heard; he did ẹbọ. It was in this manner that his ideas would make headway.

Extra: Put forth effort judiciously.

Ìwòrì Ògúndá

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.09 Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen) is helped by Ògúndá (clearing a way).

Olórí-búburú mu omi; ó pa á l'òfun. Òkúùgbé jẹ ògèdè; ó há l'órùn.

The possessor of bad luck drinks water; it overwhelms him in the throat. The despicable person eats a banana; it gets entangled in the neck.

A dífá fún Olórí-búburú. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí orí-búburú baà lè di orí-ire. Ó kò; kò rúbọ. Ó ní kò ní ifẹ s'ẹbọ rírú.

Ifá divination was performed for 'Possessor of bad luck'. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that bad luck may be able to become good luck. He refused; he did not do ẹbọ. He said that he did not have an interest in doing ẹbọ.

Ñjé, kí Olórí-búburú má kò mi.

Therefore, may 'Possessor of bad luck' not come face-to-face with me.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó wá rúbọ. Kí olúwarẹ sì wá ẹ ibọ fún Èṣù. Báyií ni yòò lè yera Olórí-búburú.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹbọ. The person in question ought moreover to come doing ibọ for Èṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests). It is in this manner that he will be able to avoid 'Possessor of bad luck'.

Extra: Distance yourself from someone or something that is entrenched in bad luck.

Ìwòrì Òsá

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.10 Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen; seeing things clearly) is hindered by Òsá (running away from a challenge).

Atikárarẹ-ṣe-tẹ, awo ọrun, l'ó dífá fún àwọn ọmọ aráyé nígbàtí wọn nsáré sí Èlédàá nítorí ohun gbogbo.

It was 'One who makes himself bend (over backward)', the priest of heaven, who performed Ifá divination for the people of the world when they were running to Èlédàá (Creator God) because of every (single) thing.

Olúkúlùkù nké: "Bàbá, Bàbá, mo dé. Gbà mi, jòwọ gbà mi." Èlédàá ní: "Ètírí? Ẹni tí mo fún l'ágbára, kò lò agbára. Ẹni tí mo fún l'ògbón, kò lò ogbón."

Each one was crying out: "Father, Father, I have arrived. Rescue me, please rescue me." Èlédàá said: "Why? The person whom I gave ability, he does not use the ability. The person whom I gave wisdom, he does not use the wisdom."

Èlédàá fi asà òkùnkùn s'ójú ayé. Ọmọ tí kò rí bàbá rẹ, yòò sà ipá inú tirẹ.

Èlédàá put a shield of darkness over the face of the world. The child who does not see his father, he will apply his own inner force.

Ìwòrì Ìká

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.11 Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen; seeing things clearly) is hindered by Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck).

Orí ni íṣe ẹ̀ni. Ìdí kì íṣe ẹ̀yà̀n.

It is the head that is doing us in. The buttock never works against a human being.

A dífá fún Ìwòrì, tí yòò rẹ̀rù ká ayé. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ṣe ìbọ fún Èlà àti Orí Èlédàá. Báyii ni kò ní ronú s'óhun tí yòò dá ọ̀ràn s'ọ̀rùn fún un.

Ifá divination was performed for Ìwòrì, who would bear a burden all around the world. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ. He moreover did ìbọ for Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) and Orí Èlédàá (Man's godself). It was in this manner that he would not give thought to that which would create a 'pain in the neck' for him.

Kò pé; kò jinnà. Ẹ wá bá ẹ̀ni ní jẹ̀bútú ire.

It will not take long; it is not far away. Come join us in plenty of good things.

Extra: Described here is someone whose way of thinking is making trouble for oneself.

Ìwòrì Òtúrá

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.13 Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen; seeing things clearly) helps Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation).

Ìwòrì Wòtu pẹ̀rẹ̀pẹ̀, a dífá fún ẹ̀ni jánhínjánhín, ẹ̀yítí yòò sì wá di ẹ̀ni rẹ̀gìrẹ̀gì. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì tẹ́fá.

Ìwòrì Wòtu (same as Ìwòrì Òtúrá) abundantly, Ifá divination was performed for a person of little importance, the one who would moreover come turning into a very important person. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ. He moreover got initiated to Ifá.

Kò pé; kò jinnà. Ẹ wá bá ẹ̀ni ní jẹ̀bútú ire.

It will not take long; it is not far away. Come join us in plenty of good things.

Ẹni jánhínjánhín ni mo wà. Ọ̀pẹ Ifá l'ó sọ mi di Ọ̀gbóni o!

It was a person of little importance that I used to be. It was the palm tree of Ifá that transformed me into an Ọ̀gbóni (that is, someone who carries a high level of power and prestige)!

Extra: It is Ifá that will make you worthy of power and prestige.

Ìwòrì Ìrẹ̀tẹ̀

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.14 Ìwòrì (seeing things clearly) is helped by Ìrẹ̀tẹ̀ (practicing Ifá). Ìwòrì (seeing things clearly) hinders Ìrẹ̀tẹ̀ (unwholesome influences).

Ìwòrì, tejúmọ ohun tí íṣe ẹni. Bí o bá tẹfá tán, kí o tún iyè rẹ tẹ.

Ìwòrì, take an earnest look at that which works against a person. If you happen to become initiated to Ifá completely, then you ought to work at imprinting your mind (with wisdom).

Ìwòrì, tejúmọ ohun tí íṣe ẹni. Awo, má fi ẹjà igbà gun ọpẹ. Awo, má fi àimọwẹ wọ omi.

Ìwòrì, take an earnest look at that which works against a person. Priest, do not use a tattered tree-climbing rope to climb a palm tree. Priest, do not use not-knowing-how-to-swim to enter the water.

Ìwòrì, tejúmọ ohun tí íṣe ẹni. Awo, má fi ìbínú yọ ọbẹ. Awo, má fi kánjúkánjú jẹ ayé, má fi wàràwàrà jẹ ọrọ.

Ìwòrì, take an earnest look at that which works against a person. Priest, do not use anger to pull out a knife. Priest, do not use haste to enjoy life, do not use haste to enjoy wealth.

Ìwòrì, tejúmọ ohun tí íṣe ẹni. Awo, má ṣèké, má ṣòdàlẹ. Awo, má ṣe igbéraga sí àgbà.

Ìwòrì, take an earnest look at that which works against a person. Priest, do not deceive, do not be treacherous. Priest, do not practice arrogance toward an elder.

Ìwòrì, tejúmọ ohun tí íṣe ẹni. Awo, má sọ ìrètí nù. Awo, má sán bàntẹ alábàntẹ.

Ìwòrì, take an earnest look at that which works against a person. Priest, do not throw hope away. Priest, do not tie on the apron of someone else (that is, do not sleep with someone else's wife).

Ìwòrì, tejúmọ ohun tí íṣe ẹni. Bí o bá tẹfá tán, kí o tún iyè rẹ tẹ.

Ìwòrì, take an earnest look at that which works against a person. If you happen to become initiated to Ifá completely, then you ought to work at imprinting your mind (with wisdom).

Àkóse Ifá: Lò ewé ẹsò láti sè jẹ gégẹbí ọbẹ pẹlú ẹja àrọ.

Ifá medicine: Use ẹsò leaves (which are used to help someone to give serious attention to a person or thing) to cook and eat according to a soup together with a mudfish (which is used to bring about tranquility).

Ìwòrì Ọṣẹ

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.15a Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen) is helped by Ọṣẹ (overcoming through joyful optimism).

Ìpọnjú kì idé kí ó má mú ire rẹ bọ ẹni. Tibi-tire, ẹjì wá pọ.

Distress never arrives and then not bring its good things to us. Bad things and good things, both come together.

A dífá fún Èyàn-kò-sunwọ̀n. A ní ojú tí ó rí ipọnjú, kí ó má barajẹ, kí ó tọjú orúkọ rere rẹ. Adùn nígbẹ̀yìn ewúro.

Ifá divination was performed for 'Person is not doing well'. It was said that the one who experiences distress, he ought not to break down and cry, he ought to take care of his good name. Sweetness is at the end of ewúro leaves (whose bitter taste is removed by cooking them).

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ìpónjú baà lè di ìrọ̀rùn fún un.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ so that distress may be able to turn into convenience for him.

Àkóse Ifá: Gún ewé ewúro, ewé ojúsàájú, àti ọ̀ṣẹ̀ pò fún wíwẹ̀.

Ifá medicine: Pound ewúro leaves, ojúsàájú leaves (which are used to help someone to think favorably of another), and soap to be together for cleansing yourself.

Extra: Something good can come out of a bad situation.

***

Bí a kọ̀ wọ̀n l'ọ̀rọ̀, wọ̀n kì ígbọ̀. T'ínú wọ̀n nì wọ̀n n'ṣe.

If we teach them about matters, then they never listen. It is what is in their minds that they are doing.

A dífá fún Aní-ìwọ̀n-ìkà, tí ílépa Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà kiri. Ó ní Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà ndí òun l'ọ̀wọ̀. Ó ní kí Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà jẹ́kí òun ṣìṣẹ̀ ibi ọ̀wọ̀ òun. Ó bèrèsí kó ịṣẹ̀ búburú t'Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà. Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà wá nílá àlákálá.

Ifá divination was performed for 'One who has some evil', who was pursuing Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) from place to place. He said that Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà was hindering him. He said that Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà ought to allow that he work the evil of his hands. He began to take up nasty works with regard to Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà. Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà came dreaming bad dreams.

A ní kí Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà wá rúbọ̀. Ó gbọ̀; ó rúbọ̀. Ọ̀wọ̀ kò ká Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà. Ibi padà; ó lọ bá oníbi. Aní-ìwọ̀n-ìkà lólù ẹ̀wọ̀n ara rẹ̀ nígbà tí ífí orí-kunkun lépa Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà, nígbà tí kò gbà imọ̀ràn idékun iwà ìkà tí ífí ojojúmọ̀ hù.

It was said that Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ. Hands did not dominate Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà. Evil turned back; it went to meet the evildoer. 'One who has some evil' got entangled in his own prickly bush when he was using stubbornness to pursue Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà, when he did not accept the advice of ceasing the unrighteous conduct that he was using each day to develop.

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 21:7] Damaging action of unrighteous ones will drag them away to ruin because they refuse to deal justly.

Ìwòrì Ọ̀fún

[\[Back to Ìwòrì\]](#)

03.16a Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen) is helped by Ọ̀fún (acting with rectitude).

Awo rere l'ó dífá fún Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà, tí ịṣawo rẹ̀ ọ̀sà, tí ịṣawo rẹ̀ òkun. A ní Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà òò maa gbà iyí, òò maa gbà ẹ̀yẹ̀ àti ọ̀lá. Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà sì òò rí ire ajé láti gbé e wá ilé.

It was a good priest who performed Ifá divination for Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), who was going on a spiritual mission to the lagoon, who was going on a spiritual mission to the ocean. It was said that Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà would keep receiving respect, that he would keep receiving dignity and honor. Ọ̀mọ̀-Èlà moreover would see monetary well-being in order to bring it home.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 21:21] One who runs after righteousness and loving-kindness attains to life, prosperity, and honor.

***

03.16b Ìwòrì (seeing things clearly) hinders Òfún (efforts of limited success).

Enini bélébélé ni iwẹ orí ẹmọ. Tòtò bàlàbàlà ni iwẹ idí àdán.

It is misty dew that is washing the head of the brown rat. It is misty urine that is washing the lower parts of the bat.

A dífá fún Ìwòrì nígbàtí ilọ rè wẹ orí Òfún. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Lẹhìn tí Ìwòrì rúbọ tán, Òfún bèrẹsì l'ájé, Òfún bèrẹsì l'áya, Òfún bèrẹsì n'íre gbogbo.

Ifá divination was performed for Ìwòrì when he went aiming to cleanse the head of Òfún. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. After Ìwòrì had done ẹbọ completely, Òfún began to have money, Òfún began to have spouses, Òfún began to have every good thing.

Tani yóò wá wẹ orí mi fún mi? Ìwòrì Òfún ni yóò wá wẹ orí mi fún mi láti dá ayọ àti iretí.

Who will come cleansing my head for me? It is Ìwòrì Òfún who will come cleansing my head for me in order to bring forth joy and hope.

Ọfọ: Awẹde wẹ ilẹkẹ, wẹ orí mi. Wẹ orí mi kí N n'íre. Awẹde wẹ ilẹkẹ, wẹ orí mi.

Incantation: Awẹde (that) cleanses òrìṣà beads, cleanse my head. Cleanse my head so that I may have good things. Awẹde (that) cleanses òrìṣà beads, cleanse my head.

Àkóse Ifá: Lọ ewé awẹde pẹlú orí àwọn ẹmọ àti ẹmú àwọn àdán. Pẹ ọfọ náà s'ẹtù yíi tí o tí tẹ lí Ìwòrì Òfún. Pò ẹtù pẹlú ọṣẹ. Bọ sínú odò láti fi ọṣẹ yíi fún wíwẹ orí.

Ifá medicine: Grind awẹde leaves (which are used to wash away cloudiness caused by negative thoughts and feelings) together with the heads of brown rats (which are used to help someone to be resourceful) and the pincers of bats (whose pincers exert a firm grasp on things). Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to this powder that you have imprinted with Ìwòrì Òfún. Mix the powder together with soap. Come into a stream in order to use this soap for cleansing the head.

Extra: [Mizmōr (Psalm) 51:10] Create in me ʔElōhīm (Creator God and his ministerial agents) a clean heart (that is, prevailing mental and emotional attitude) and reestablish a stable spirit within me.

Şákáşáká l'òmòdé kékeré kófá kí ó baà lè rí ilè Ifá tán.

It is earnestly that a small youngster studies Ifá so that he may be able to see the expanse of Ifá completely.

Ìyà owó tí òmò-awo ti je, Ifá ñpadà bọ şesan rẹ. Àşalù-àşalù ni t'ęsan Ifá. Ìyà aya tí òmò-awo ti je, Ifá ñpadà bọ şesan rẹ. Àşalù-àşalù ni t'ęsan Ifá.

The distress (from the lack) of good things that the student priest has tasted, Ifá is coming back to reward him. It is numerous and varied that is the reward of Ifá. The distress (from the lack) of spouses that the student priest has tasted, Ifá is coming back to reward him. It is numerous and varied that is the reward of Ifá.

Ìyà òmò tí òmò-awo ti je, Ifá ñpadà bọ şesan rẹ. Àşalù-àşalù ni t'ęsan Ifá. Ìyà ire gbogbo tí òmò-awo ti je, Ifá ñpadà bọ şesan rẹ. Àşalù-àşalù ni t'ęsan Ifá.

The distress (from the lack) of children that the student priest has tasted, Ifá is coming back to reward him. It is numerous and varied that is the reward of Ifá. The distress (from the lack) of every good thing that the student priest has tasted, Ifá is coming back to reward him. It is numerous and varied that is the reward of Ifá.

Extra: By sticking with Ifá through thick and thin, the distress of today will become the ease of tomorrow.

Òdí Ìwòrì

[\[Back to Òdí\]](#)

04.03 Òdí (having a sound foundation) helps Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen; seeing things clearly).

Bí a l'ògbón nínú, bí a kò lò ó, àà di ògbèrì. Bí a lágbára nínú, bí a kò lò ó, àà di òlẹ.

If we have wisdom within, if we do not use it, then we will become ignorant people. If we have ability within, if we do not use it, then we will become lazy people.

A dífá fún àwọn èyàn ‘Má bá ọlọgbón rìn; má bá aṣiṣé rẹ’, èrò isàlẹ̀ ayé.

Ifá divination was performed for the people of ‘Do not walk with wise ones; do not be friendly with workers’, travelers of the bottom part of the world.

Ifá mbá wọn wí, ó ni: “Ìwọ̀ kò bá ẹnì-rere rìn. Ìwọ̀ kò bá ẹnì-rere rẹ. Orí-búburú ni ímú bá èyàn bí irú yín.”

Ifá was rebuking them, he said: “You do not walk with good people. You are not friendly with good people. It is bad luck that takes hold and meets people like your type.”

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 13:20] One who walks with wise ones will grow wise, but one who flocks together with fatheads will cry out in distress.

Òdí Méjì

[\[Back to Òdí\]](#)

04.04a Òdí (having a sound foundation) is doubled.

‘Yímíyímí abẹ̀yìn páálí’ l’ó dífá fún Orí, tí ìbẹ̀ l’ógbèrè òun nìkanṣoṣo gírogíro. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ṣe ìbọ̀ fún Orí Èlédàá.

It was ‘Dung beetle having a cardboard back’ who performed Ifá divination for Head, who was in abundance of himself being alone lonesomely (that is, he was in excessive loneliness). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ìbọ for Orí Èlédàá (Man’s godself).

Etí wá; etí bá Orí dúró. Kẹ̀rẹ̀kẹ̀rẹ̀, orí mi kò ṣàì di ẹ̀lẹ̀ni. Imú wá; imú bá Orí dúró. Kẹ̀rẹ̀kẹ̀rẹ̀, orí mi kò ṣàì di ẹ̀lẹ̀ni.

Ears came; Ears joined Head in staying. Little by little, my head does not fail to become one that is loved by many. Nose came; Nose joined Head in staying. Little by little, my head does not fail to become one that is loved by many.

Ojú wá; Ojú bá Orí dúró. Kẹ̀rẹ̀kẹ̀rẹ̀, orí mi kò ṣàì di ẹ̀lẹ̀ni. Ẹ̀nu wá; Ẹ̀nu bá Orí dúró. Kẹ̀rẹ̀kẹ̀rẹ̀, orí mi kò ṣàì di ẹ̀lẹ̀ni.

Eyes came; Eyes joined Head in staying. Little by little, my head does not fail to become one that is loved by many. Mouth came; Mouth joined Head in staying. Little by little, my head does not fail to become one that is loved by many.

Extra: 1. With suitable spiritual effort, one will inspire others to comply with his cause. 2. Faring well depends on various factors working together in harmony.

04.04b Òdí (having a sound foundation) is doubled.

Message: [Dilogún 4-4] One can repent of one’s past mistakes or actions, but one has to bear the consequences.

Òdí Ìrosùn

[\[Back to Òdí\]](#)

04.05 Òdí (having a sound foundation) helps Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Message: [Dilogún 7-4] Not all that glitters is gold (that is, not everything that looks good is truly good).

Òdí Òwónrín

[\[Back to Òdí\]](#)

04.06 Òdí (having a sound foundation) helps Òwónrín (walking honorably).

‘Èmi kò maa kú; yíyè ni mo maa yè’ l’ó fún Òpè.

It was ‘I am not going to die; it is life that I will be living’ who performed Ifá divination for Palm-tree (who symbolizes a child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom).

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ṣe ibọ fún Èlà, alátúnṣe ayé, asọ-òrò-di-ayọ. Báyií ni yòò fi idí múlẹ. Báyií ni kò ní kú.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Èlà, the master of improving one’s life in the world, the one who converts trouble into joy. It was in this manner that he would cause (his) base to be established. It was in this manner that he would not die.

Òpè òò tirinmọlẹ. Òpè òò yè.

Palm-tree will be firmly rooted. Palm-tree will survive.

Extra: Ifá will help you to become soundly established in the earthly land of the living.

Òdí Òkànràn

[\[Back to Òdí\]](#)

04.08 Òdí (having a sound foundation) helps Òkànràn (giving something good its turn).

Òdí Òkànràn, a dífá fún Tèmi-òò-sunwọn.

Òdí Òkànràn, Ifá divination was performed for ‘Mine will be good’.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì tẹfá. Báyií n’ire nlá òò dé sí i.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover got initiated to Ifá. It was in this manner that great blessings would reach him.

Tèmi òò sunwọn jù tiwọn lọ o! Tèmi òò sunwọn jù t’èké lọ. Tèmi òò sunwọn jù tiwọn lọ o!

Mine will be better than theirs! Mine will be better than that of deceitful people. Mine will be better than theirs!

Extra: [Miṣlẹ (Proverbs) 16:20 revised] One who gives attention to divine instruction will attain to what is good, and one who puts trust in Ha’el (God), how blessed is he!

Òdí Ògúndá

[\[Back to Òdí\]](#)

04.09 Òdí (having a sound foundation) is helped by Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action).

Èlà ní ìdí Ọmọ-Ògún dá. Mo ní ìdí Ọmọ-Ògún dá.

Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) said that the bottom part of Ọmọ-Ògún (child of Ògún, the òrìṣà of iron and war) is lacking. I said that the bottom part of Ọmọ-Ògún is lacking.

A dé ilé Ọmọ-Ògún. A kò bá ẹnìkan. Mo ní: “Èétirí tí a dé ilé Ọmọ-Ògún, tí a kò bá ẹnìkan? Gbogbo ilé dá kése-kése.” Wọ̀n ní: “Ìwà Ọmọ-Ògún kò sunwọ̀n.”

We arrived at the home of Ọmọ-Ògún. We did not encounter anyone. I said: “What is it that has happened so that we have arrived at the house of Ọmọ-Ògún and have not encountered anyone? The entire house is wholly quiet.” They (others) said: “The character of Ọmọ-Ògún is not good.”

Ẹ̀jẹ̀, bí a bá wí pé kí ilé Ọmọ-Ògún kún, ẹ̀bọ̀ ni kí a ẹ̀.

Therefore, if we happen to say that the home of Ọmọ-Ògún ought to be full, then it is ẹ̀bọ̀ that ought to be done.

Extra: [Dilogún 7-3] Offensive actions do not give rise to love.

Òdí Ọsá

[\[Back to Òdí\]](#)

04.10 Òdí (having a sound foundation) is helped by Ọsá (taking timely action).

Ìdí sá; mi ò sá. Ìdí yàgò; mi ò yàgò.

Buttock ran away; I did not run away. Buttock gave way; I did not give way.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà nígbà tí t’ajogun ñkàn ilẹ̀kùn rẹ̀. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ̀. Ó gbọ̀; ó rúbọ̀. Ó sì ẹ̀ ẹ̀bọ̀ fún Èṣù àti Èlà. Bá yí ni kò yàgò fún àwọ̀n ajogun.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) when a distressful situation was knocking on his door. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ̀. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ̀. He moreover did ìbọ̀ for Èṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests) and Èlà. It was in this manner that he did not give way to ajogun (agents of distress).

Extra: Do not give way to the distressful situation knocking on your door.

Òdí Ọ̀túrúpọ̀n

[\[Back to Òdí\]](#)

04.12 Òdí (having a sound foundation) helps Ọ̀túrúpọ̀n (being productive).

Message: [Miṣlẹ̀ (Proverbs) 16:3 revised] Turn your works over to Haʹel (God) and your plans will be firmly established.

Òdí Ọ̀túrá

[\[Back to Òdí\]](#)

04.13 Òdí (having a sound foundation) helps Ọ̀túrá (averting a worrisome situation).

Ohun tí ojú wá l'ojú ní.

It is the thing that the eyes looked for that the eyes are seeing.

A dífá fún Adábàá nígbàtí ifẹ́ sún àláàfià rẹ̀ síwájú. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ̀ ibọ́ fún Èlà àti Orí Èlédàá. Báyù ni yóò ẹ̀gùn.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘One who proposes’ when he was wanting to further his well-being. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ. He moreover did ibọ for Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) and Orí Èlédàá (Man’s godself). It was in this manner that he would be victorious.

Àbá tí mo dá l'Èlà gbà. Àbá tí mo dá l'Orí gbà. Àbá rere l'àbá mi o!

It is the proposal that I put forth that Èlà accepts. It is the proposal that I put forth that Orí accepts. It is a good proposal that my proposal is!

Extra: [Miṣlẹ́ (Proverbs) 16:3 revised] Turn your works over to Ha'el (God) and your plans will be firmly established.

Òdí Ìrètẹ̀

[\[Back to Òdí\]](#)

04.14 Òdí (having a sound foundation) is helped by Ìrètẹ̀ (practicing Ifá). Òdí (having a sound foundation) is hindered by Ìrètẹ̀ (unwholesome influences).

Òdí Ìrètẹ̀, a dífá fún Tèmi-lékè. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ̀ ibọ́ fún Òrìṣànlá àti Èlà. Báyù n'ire nlá oò dé sí i.

Òdí Ìrètẹ̀, Ifá divination was performed for ‘Mine is superior’. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ. He moreover did ibọ for Òrìṣànlá (the òrìṣà of moral sense) and Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom). It was in this manner that great blessings would reach him.

Bí Òrìṣànlá kò bá mi wí, bí Èlà kò bá mi jà, tèmi l'ó lékè jù tiwọ̀n lọ o! Tèmi l'ó lékè jù t'èké lọ. Tèmi l'ó lékè jù tiwọ̀n lọ o!

If Òrìṣànlá does not admonish me, if Èlà does not engage me in fighting, then it is mine that is superior to theirs! It is mine that is superior to that of deceitful people. It is mine that is superior to theirs!

Extra: 1. [Miṣlẹ́ (Proverbs) 10:28] That which is hoped for by righteous ones (will be) a glad outcome, but that which is longed for by unrighteous ones will come to nothing. 2. [Dilogún 7-16] Misfortune stems from malevolence and not from fate.

Òdí Òfún

[\[Back to Òdí\]](#)

04.16 Òdí (having a sound foundation) hinders Òfún (efforts of limited success).

Message: [Dilogún 7-10 revised] He goes astray because he does not want to see his proper path.

Ìrosùn Ogbè

[\[Back to Ìrosùn\]](#)

05.01 Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) helps Ogbè (a wholesome road).

Message: Stick to good principles through thick and thin.

Ìrosùn Òyèkú

[\[Back to Ìrosùn\]](#)

05.02 Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) helps Òyèkú (averting ruin).

Igbá kẹlẹ̀ kì ifọ̀. Àwo kẹlẹ̀ kì ifàya. Aṣọ kẹlẹ̀ kì igbó. Ohun tí a bá fi ẹ̀sò mú kì íbàjẹ. Ohun tí a bá fi agbára mú ní ilẹ̀ kò bí ọ̀tá.

A calabash handled with care never breaks. A plate handled with care never breaks into pieces. A cloth handled with care never wears out. A thing that we happen to use carefulness to take never gets spoiled. It is a thing that we happen to use forcefulness to take (it) that is able to confront (us) like an opponent.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà, tí ilọ gbé Kẹlẹ̀ n'iyàwó. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ̀ ibọ fún Èlà, afi inú ẹ̀ ogbón.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), who went taking Handled-with-care as a wife. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Èlà, the one who uses (his) insides to practice wisdom.

Kíl' a fi mú Kẹlẹ̀ délé? Ẹ̀sò l'awa fi mú Kẹlẹ̀ délé, ẹ̀sò ní.

What is it that we use to take Handled-with-care home? It is carefulness that we use to take Handled-with-care home, carefulness it is.

Extra: Faring well depends on being cautious and considerate.

Ìrosùn Òdí

[\[Back to Ìrosùn\]](#)

05.04 Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) is helped by Òdí (having a sound foundation).

Ìrosùn Méjì

[\[Back to Ìrosùn\]](#)

05.05a Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) is doubled.

Ení pòropòro l'áá gún odó. Èjì pòropòro l'áá gún osùn.

It is one by one that we will pound a mortar. It is two by two that we will pound camwood.
[Note: Here are two activities that require patience and perseverance].

A dífá fún Bàbá 'Bí o l'ẹ́jọ́, o bá ipín rẹ wí' nígbàtí írí ayé isòro. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ̀ ibọ́ fún Orí Ẹ̀lédàá.

Ifá divination was performed for Father 'If you have an issue, then engage your destiny in telling it' when he was experiencing a life of difficulty. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ́. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ́. He moreover did ibọ́ for Orí Ẹ̀lédàá (Man's godself).

Kò pẹ́; kò jìnnà. Ire gbogbo wá yá dé tùtúru.

It did not take long; it was not far away. Every good thing came flooding in to arrive plentifully.

Ọ̀rọ̀ kò kàn egúngún. Kò kàn òrìṣà. Ẹ̀lédàá ẹ̀ni l'ọ̀rọ̀ lóòòkán.

The matter does not touch egúngún (honorable ancestors). It does not touch òrìṣà (ministerial deities). One's Ẹ̀lédàá has the matter exactly on the spot.

Extra: [a saying from Ra Un Nefer Amen] As long as you are anything less than the vehicle of God, you will go through experiences that will make you suffer as spurs to your spiritual realization.

***

05.05b Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) is doubled.

Ìgbà òò rú ilá. Ìgbà òò rú ikàn. A kì íwá ayé àinígbà.

Time will arouse okra to develop. Time will arouse eggplant to develop. We never come to earth not having (our own) times.

Extra: Each person or thing develops according to its own time.

Ìrosùn Ọ̀kànràn

[\[Back to Ìrosùn\]](#)

05.08a Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) hinders Ọ̀kànràn (touching trouble).

Olú kì íran iwọ̀sí. Olú kòyà iwọ̀sí. Ẹ̀ni tí kò lè kòyà iwọ̀sí, iyà kì íyẹ́, wọ̀n níjẹ́ ẹ́.

A chief never sends insults. A chief deflects insults. (For) the person who is not able to deflect insults, suffering never ceases, they (insults) are inflicting him.

A dífá fún Ọ̀lógbọ̀n, tí íṣe ọ̀mọ́ awo. Ọ̀lógbọ̀n ní òun yòò maa ẹ̀gun ọ̀tá, òun òò maa rí èyìn òdídí. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Wise-person, who was a child of a priest. Wise-person said that he would be overcoming opponents, that he would be seeing the back side of blockages. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Extra: Do not be intimidated – take assertive, noble-minded action.

05.08b Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) hinders Òkànràn (touching trouble).

Ìrosùn Ògúndá

[\[Back to Ìrosùn\]](#)

05.09 Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) is helped by Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action).

Ifá ní ẹnikan wà tí kí ó wá rúbọ. Kí ó sì wá ẹ ibọ fún Orí Ẹlédàá. Báyii l'orí-inú rẹ kò ní bà orí-àpéré rẹ jé.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹbọ. He ought moreover to come doing ibọ for Orí Ẹlédàá (Man's godself). It is in this manner that his orí-inú (that is, prevailing mental and emotional attitude) will not ruin his personal destiny.

Extra: [Mizmōr (Psalm) 51:10] Create in me ʔElōhīm (Creator God and his ministerial agents) a clean heart (that is, prevailing mental and emotional attitude) and reestablish a stable spirit within me.

Ìrosùn Òsá

[\[Back to Ìrosùn\]](#)

05.10 Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) helps Òsá (taking timely action).

Afẹfẹ ẹ orí igi mí hẹlẹhẹlẹ. Ẹfúùfù lile ni itì ewé. Àgbọni ni ikò rọ.

A breeze caused the top of the tree to gasp. It was a strong wind that was pushing the leaves. It was the coconut that was refusing to fall.

A dífá fún Omọ-Ẹlà. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó baà lè fi ifarabalẹ ká ayé. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Báyii ni yòò rí ẹyìn odídí.

Ifá divination was performed for Omọ-Ẹlà (child of Ẹlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may be able to use calmness and sober thinking to handle life. He heard; he did ẹbọ. It was in this manner that he would overcome opponents. It was in this manner that he would see the back side of blockages.

Extra: [Mizmōr (Psalm) 112:7 revised] Of bad tidings he (a righteous one) does not feel afraid; stable is his heart (that is, prevailing mental and emotional attitude), trust being put in Haʔel (God) to not fail.

Ìrosùn Òtúrá

[\[Back to Ìrosùn\]](#)

05.13 Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) is helped by Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation).

Bí ewúré bá ñrin lókè ògiri, èyin ni, èyin èyàn. Èyin èyàn lè ñse bẹ̀ẹ̀. Şènià, şènià.

If a she-goat happens to be walking upon a wall, then it is (because of) you, you human beings. You human beings are able to be causing (something) like that. Be humane, be humane.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó şènià. Kí olúwarè wá rúbọ. Kí ó sì wá şe ibọ fún Èlà. Báyìí ni kò ní tẹ nítorí àşìşe.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to be humane. The person in question ought to come doing ẹbọ. He ought moreover to come doing ibọ for Èlà (the òrìşà of knowledge and wisdom). It is in this manner that he will not fall into disgrace because of mistakes (that is, wrong actions, beliefs, or judgments).

Extra: [a saying from Clive Staples Lewis] Free will, though it makes evil possible, is also the only thing that makes possible any love or goodness or joy worth having.

Ìrosùn Òşé

[\[Back to Ìrosùn\]](#)

05.15 Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty) is helped by Òşé (overcoming through joyful optimism).

Ọfọ: Èlà ní: “Ó şe pèrẹ.” Mo ní: “Ó şe pèrẹ.” Ó ní: “Ó şe pèrẹ fún işu tí íta.” Èlà ní: “Ó şe pèrẹ.” Mo ní: “Ó şe pèrẹ.” Ó ní: “Ó şe pèrẹ fún àgbàdò tí íyọ ọmọ.” Èlà ní: “Ó şe pèrẹ.” Mo ní: “Ó şe pèrẹ.” Ó ní: “Ó şe pèrẹ fún àgàn tí ídi ọlómọ.”

Incantation: Èlà (the òrìşà of knowledge and wisdom) said: “It is getting better (literally, it is made to open widely).” I said: “It is getting better.” He said: “It is getting better for the yam that is sprouting.” Èlà said: “It is getting better.” I said: “It is getting better for the maize that is getting rid of offspring (that is, ears of corn).” Èlà said: “It is getting better.” I said: “It is getting better.” He said: “It is getting better for the barren woman who is becoming a possessor of children.”

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí yòò şe pèrẹ fún un. Kí ó wá rúbọ. Báyìí l’ohun kan tí yòò maa şe, yòò di ẹnì iyì nìbẹ.

Ifá says that there is someone for whom it will get better. He ought to come doing ẹbọ. It is in this manner that a thing that he will be doing, he will become a person of honor there.

Àkóşe Ifá: Lọ ewé şẹfunşẹfun, ewé ẹfúnlẹ, àti ewé ire pẹlú orí eku méjì àti orí ẹja méjì. Pò ẹtù yì pẹlú oşẹ. Pa ẹyẹlé àti tẹ orí rẹ mó oşẹ nàà. Pè ọfọ nàà s’iyèròsùn tí o ti tẹ lí Ìrosùn Òşé. Kó oşẹ nàà sínú igbá pẹlú iyèròsùn yì. Wìwẹ ni.

Ifá medicine: Grind şẹfunşẹfun leaves (which are used to bring prosperity), ẹfúnlẹ leaves (which are used to attract positive energy), and ire leaves (which are used to attract good things) together with the heads of two rats (which are used to help someone to be resourceful) and the heads of two fishes. Mix this powder together with soap. Kill a pigeon and press its head onto the aforementioned soap. Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to iyèròsùn that you have imprinted with Ìrosùn Ọşé. Take the aforementioned soap into a calabash together with this iyèròsùn. A cleansing it is to be.

Òwónrín Ogbè

[\[Back to Òwónrín\]](#)

06.01 Òwónrín (walking honorably) is helped by Ogbè (a wholesome road).

Bonranhún l'awo òde Ìdó. Òpè gọrọngọbì l'awo òde Ìjẹṣà. Èrìgì dúdú l'awo òde Ìmọṣàkun.

It was Bonranhún who was the priest of Ìdó town. It was Òpè gọrọngọbì who was the priest of Ìjẹṣà town. It was Èrìgì dúdú who was the priest of Ìmọṣàkun town.

A dífá fún Olófin Òbèlẹnjé, tí íbá ibi ísùn lọ, tí íbá ibi íjì. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for King Òbèlẹnjé, who was falling asleep with nasty energy, who was waking up with nasty energy. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Òní l'aládé sìn ibi rè ẹlùjù. Òní l'aládé kó ire wá ilé. Igba ewé olówònràn-nṣánṣán ní kí ibi dì ẹrù kí ó maa lọ o!

It is today that the king escorted nasty energy to go to the deep forest. It is today that the king brought good energy home. Two hundred olówònràn-nṣánṣán leaves (which are used to make a clean sweep of things) told nasty energy to tie its load (for undertaking a journey) and to get going!

Extra: Make a clean sweep of the nasty energy affecting you.

Òwónrín Ìwòrì

[\[Back to Òwónrín\]](#)

06.03 Òwónrín (walking honorably) helps Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen).

Òwónrín wé rere. Ìwòrì wé rere.

Òwónrín coils around that which is good. Ìwòrì coils around that which is good.

A dífá fún Ejò. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó baà lè fì ẹnu rè n'íyọrísí gbígbóra. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Lèhìn tí ó rúbọ tán, ó lè fì ẹnu rè sọ oró.

Ifá divination was performed for Snake. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may be able to use his mouth to have a powerful effect. He heard; he did ẹbọ. After he had done ẹbọ completely, he was able to use his mouth to emit venom.

Kò pé; kò jinnà. Ẹ wá bá ẹni ní jẹbútú ire.

It will not take long; it is not far away. Come join us in plenty of good things.

Extra: Described here is someone whose words have a beneficial penetrating influence on others.

Òwónrín Òdí

[\[Back to Òwónrín\]](#)

06.04 Òwónrín (walking honorably) is helped by Òdí (having a sound foundation).

Òwónrín dí ọwọ mọ. Òwónrín dí ẹsẹ mọ. A ní kí ó fí ohun tọrẹ kí afẹfẹ baà lè maa fẹ èrè wá ilé. Ó ní òun kò fí ohun tọrẹ.

Òwónrín holds (his) hands firmly. Òwónrín holds (his) feet firmly. It was said that he ought to give generously so that the wind may be able to get blowing gains to come home (that is, to come his way). He said that he was not giving generously.

A dífá fún Alábawun-ìjàpá. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ọràn ìpọnjú má baà lè dé sí i.

Ifá divination was performed for Stingy-turtle. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that a matter of hardship may not be able to reach him.

Extra: [Miṣlẹ (Proverbs) 11:24-25] There is one who gives freely but is increased repeatedly and (there is) one who withholds more than what is appropriate but surely is headed for deficiency. A person who furthers the well-being of others will be made to fare well, and one who waters others, he also will be watered.

Òwónrín Méjì

[\[Back to Òwónrín\]](#)

06.06 Òwónrín (walking honorably) is doubled.

Àti Ẹṣin àti Àgbò, awo ilé Ọ̀ṣani Alà̀nà̀kà̀n-È̀sùú, dífá fún Ọ̀ṣani nígbàtí kò júbà àwọn baba nlá rẹ mọ, nígbàtí یشه ohun gbogbo tí ọkan kò yànjú. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Both Horse and Ram, the priests of the house of King Alà̀nà̀kà̀n-È̀sùú, performed Ifá divination for the Ifẹ king when he did not pay respect to his ancestors anymore, when he was doing everything for which (each) one did not find an answer. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Ìbà Bàbá. Ìbà Yèyè. Ìbà Olúwo. Ìbà Ojùgbọ̀nà. Ìbà Akódá, tí ikọ gbogbo ayé n'Ífá. Ìbà Aṣẹ̀dá, tí ikọ gbogbo àgbà n'ímọ̀ràn.

Reverence to Father. Reverence to Mother. Reverence to the priest who initiated me. Reverence to the priest who assisted him during initiation. Reverence to Akódá (a famous Ifá disciple), who taught the whole world about Ifá. Reverence to Aṣẹ̀dá (another famous Ifá disciple), who taught all of the elders about wise counsel.

Àyàfi èyítí mo dáṣe, kí Orò má ṣàì gbà.

Except that which I do without approval from a higher authority, may Orò (a revered Yorùbá ancestor) not fail to accept.

Extra: Your honorable elders are your partners for faring well.

Òwónrín Òbàrà

[\[Back to Òwónrín\]](#)

06.07a Òwónrín (taking measured action) helps Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity).

Ó rí mi, sùgbón mi ò rí i. Èlà ní ohun tí kí a maa rí, ó mbẹ nítòsí ẹni. Sùgbón òkùnkùn inú ẹni ni kò jẹkí a rí i.

It sees me, but I do not see it. Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) said that the thing that we ought to be seeing, it is near us. But it is our inner darkness that does not allow that we see it.

Ifá ní ẹnikan wà tí kí ó wá rúbọ kí ohun tí kí ó maa rí, ó baà lè rí i dájúdájú. Èlà óò fi í hàn.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹbọ so that the thing that he ought to be seeing, he may be able to see it surely. Èlà will make it visible.

Extra: A lack of clear-sightedness has caused one to miss seeing something that is important and obvious.

***

06.07b Òwónrín (walking honorably) is helped by Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity).

Òwónrín l’awo Pa-arò. Òbàrà l’awo Ẹ-ayò.

It is Òwónrín who is the priest of ‘He overwhelms sadness’. It is Òbàrà who is the priest of ‘He undergoes joy’.

A difá fún Omọ-Sàngó, tí yóò sẹgun ọtá, tí yóò rí ẹyìn òdídí.

Ifá divination was performed for Omọ-Sàngó (child of Sàngó, the deified Ọyó king who detests immorality and strikes wrongdoers with lightning), who would overcome opponents, who would see the back side of blockages.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ ibọ fún Sàngó, Jénrólá, ari igba ọta sẹgun. Báyii ni yóò lè ẹ ipinnu tí ó sún àláàfià rẹ síwájú.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Sàngó, ‘Allow me to see honor (a praise name of Sàngó)’, the one who finds 200 stones in order to be victorious. It was in this manner that he would be able to make decisions that further his well-being.

Extra: By tapping into the energy of Sàngó, one will prevail through dignity and decisiveness.

Òwónrín Òkànràn

[\[Back to Òwónrín\]](#)

06.08 Òwónrín (taking measured action) helps Òkànràn (giving something good its turn).

Message: Use a tried-and-true methodology that ensures a worthy outcome.

Òwónrín Ògúndá

[\[Back to Òwónrín\]](#)

06.09 Òwónrín (walking honorably) is helped by Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action).

Mo jí; t'Ifá mi ni mo n̄ṣe. Mo m̀r̀n̄; t'Òpè mi ni mo òtò lèyìn. Bí mo bá kọ gbáangan-gbàangan, mi ò n'ílé oníyèyè dé. Bí Ifá bá wí fún mi ni mo n̄ṣe.

I wake up; it is according to my Ifá that I am acting. I am knowledgeable; it is according to my Òpè (Palm-tree, a name of Ifá) that I am following behind. If I happen to cry out in great confusion, then I will not have the house of a flippant person to arrive at. It is as Ifá happens to tell me that I am acting.

A dífá fún Ṣòótòṣòótò. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ́ kí nkan rẹ̀ baà lè gún. Ó gbọ́; ó rúbọ́. Ṣòótòṣòótò m̀bá òótò lọ. Nkan rẹ̀ gún. Ayé yẹ ẹ.

Ifá divination was performed for Truth-doer. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that his affair may be able to be in good order. He heard; he did ẹbọ. Truth-doer was going along with truth. His affair was in good order. Life was right for him.

Mo jí; t'Ifá mi ni mo n̄ṣe. Mo m̀r̀n̄; t'Òpè mi ni mo òtò lèyìn. Bí mo bá kọ gbáangan-gbàangan, mi ò n'ílé oníyèyè dé. Bí Ifá bá wí fún mi ni mo n̄ṣe.

I wake up; it is according to my Ifá that I am acting. I am knowledgeable; it is according to my Òpè that I am following behind. If I happen to cry out in great confusion, then I will not have the house of a flippant person to arrive at. It is as Ifá happens to tell me that I am acting.

A dífá fún Ṣìkàṣìkà. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ́ kí ó má baà ṣìkà m̀. Ó kò; kò rúbọ́. Ṣìkàṣìkà n̄ṣe tírẹ̀. Kò gbádùn. Ara kò rójú t̀ù ú.

Ifá divination was performed for Evildoer. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may not do evil anymore. He refused; he did not do ẹbọ. Evildoer was doing his own thing. He was not in a state of well-being. (His) body did not have the opportunity to calm him.

Gbogbo ẹni tí ó bá n̄ṣìkà, kí ó ṣíwọ́. Oore ni kí ó maa ṣe.

Every person who happens to be practicing evil, he ought to desist. It is kindness that he ought to be practicing.

Extra: [Miṣlè (Proverbs) 12:15] The way of a wayward one is satisfactory in his own eyes, but one who listens obediently to sagacious advice is a wise one.

Òwónrín Òsá

[\[Back to Òwónrín\]](#)

06.10 Òwónrín (walking honorably) is helped by Òsá (taking timely action).

Message: [Dilogún 11-9] In order to not go through disgrace, be circumspect and wise like the ant.

Òwónrín Ìká

[\[Back to Òwónrín\]](#)

06.11 Òwónrín (taking measured action) helps Ìká (reaping a reward).

Èlà ní Òwónrín Ìká. Mo ní Òwónrín Ìká. Mo ní: “È̀tírí tí Òwón òrín kàrà-kàrà?” È̀là dàhùn, ó ní: “Òwón òrín kàrà-kàrà nítorí tí ohun rere gbogbo wà n'ílé.”

Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) said Òwónrín Ìká. I said Òwónrín Ìká. I said: “How is it that Òwón is laughing loudly-loudly?” Èlà answered, he said: “Òwón is laughing loudly-loudly because every good thing is in the home.”

Ayé Ọwón gún gégé. Ọwón nǹgbé ohun gbogbo wá sórí iwón. Ọwón kì íjẹun kí ó má wón ọn kí ó tó jẹ ẹ. Ọwón kì ímu omi kí ó má wón ọn kí ó tó mu ú. Ọwón kì ilò aṣọ kí ó má wón ọn kí ó tó lò ó. Ọwón kì íkólé kí ó má wón ọn kí ó tó kọ ọ.

The life of Ọwón is exactly right. Ọwón brings everything to the scale. Ọwón never eats food so that he does not measure it before he reaches the point of eating it. Ọwón never drinks water so that he does not measure it before he reaches the point of drinking it. Ọwón never uses cloth so that he does not measure it before he reaches the point of using it. Ọwón never builds a house so that he does not measure it before he reaches the point of building it.

A dífá fún ‘Afi iwón ẹ ohun gbogbo’. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó má bá jù iwón nù láílái. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘One who uses measurement to do everything’. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may not happen to throw balance away ever. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Extra: Do not overstep fitting limits.

Ọwónrín Ọtúra

[\[Back to Ọwónrín\]](#)

06.13 Ọwónrín (taking measured action) helps Ọtúra (averting a worrisome situation).

Ìjámíjà kò múrasílẹ̀ lẹ̀ẹkan. A dífá fún Ìgbín, tí ilọ bá Ẹkùn jà jíjà òjìjì.

A great fighter is not in readiness for one instance only. Ifá divination was performed for Snail, who went engaging Leopard in sudden fighting.

Ifá divination was performed for King Iwajọ. It was said that his time at the head of the chieftancy would be good. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that the joy of his time may not cause plenty of people to become lazy or insane. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Extra: Regarding the matter in question, do not take any drastic action at this time.

***

06.14b Òwónrín (taking measured action; walking honorably) hinders Ìrètè (unwholesome influences).

Èyítí íbẹ̀ nínú ẹ̀, kò sí nínú mí. Èyítí íbẹ̀ nínú mí, kò sí nínú ẹ̀.

That which is in your mind, it is not in my mind. That which is in my mind, it is not in your mind.

A dífá fún Onínúre, tí wọn maa fi ọ̀ràn ìkà lòdì sí i. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Kindhearted-person, whom they (others) were intending to use a matter of evil against him. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ.

Ifá wá rí nínú o! Ilẹ̀ rí ìkà. Ẹ̀ni tí íṣe rere, Ẹ̀lédàá mọ.

Ifá comes seeing that which is in the mind! Mother Earth sees (that is, recognizes) evil. The person who practices goodness, Ẹ̀lédàá (Creator God) knows.

Ifá ní ẹ̀nikan wà tí kí ó ṣe rere nígbàgbogbo. Ìwà rere ni yòò sún aláàfià ẹ̀ síwájú. Ẹ̀gbón kí olúwarẹ̀ wá rúbọ.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to practice goodness at all times. It is good character that will further his well-being. But the person in question ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ.

Bí ohun bá nù fún ẹ̀ni, kí ohùn má nù fún ní.

If a thing gets lost for a person, then (his) voice ought not to get lost for having it (that is, he ought not to stop laying claim to it).

A dífá fún ẹ̀ni tí ifi omi ojú sògbèrè ire. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for a person who was using teardrops to cry about good things. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ.

Bí ohun bá nù fún ẹ̀ni, kí ohùn má nù fún ní.

If a thing gets lost for a person, then (his) voice ought not to get lost for having it.

Extra: Lay claim to the good things that are rightfully yours.

Òbàrà Ogbè

[\[Back to Òbàrà\]](#)

07.01 Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity) helps Ogbè (a wholesome road).

Ikú, yòrò o! Àrùn, yòrò o!

Death, melt away! Illness, melt away!

A dífá fún wọn l'óde Ìdó nígbàtí ajogun ká wọn mọ pítipiti. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ. Wọn gbọ; wọn rúbọ. Wọn sì ẹ ibọ fún Èlà, alátúnṣe ayé, asọ-òrò-di-ayọ.

Ifá divination was performed for those in Ìdó town when ajogun (agents of distress) encircled them completely. It was said that they ought to come doing ebọ. They heard; they did ebọ. They moreover did ibọ for Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), the master of improving one's life in the world, the one who converts trouble into joy.

Ikú tí ibẹ n'ílẹ̀ yìí, àrùn tí ibẹ̀ n'ílẹ̀ yìí, ajogun gbogbo tí ibẹ̀ n'ílẹ̀ yìí, kí ó dẹ̀rù kí ó maa lọ o, Òwìrìwìrì! Àá fì iná Ifá wì í lára o, Òwìrìwìrì!

Death that is in this house, illness that is in this house, every ajogun that is in this house, it ought to tie its load (for undertaking a journey) and to get going, Òwìrìwìrì! We will use the fire of Ifá to singe it, Òwìrìwìrì!

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one will dispel agents of distress.

Òbàrà Ìwòrì

[\[Back to Òbàrà\]](#)

07.03a Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity) helps Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen; seeing things clearly).

Òrò bantà òò wúwo bí owú.

Important matters will be heavy like an anvil.

A dífá fún ayé nígbàtí àwọn ọmọ aráyé ñpón owó. Wọn ní kò sí ohun tí ó n'íyì nínú ayé tí ó jù owó lọ. Nítorínáà, owó l'ohun ọṣọ tí àwọn òò maa sáré lé.

Ifá divination was performed for the world when the people of the world were smothering money with praise. They said that there was no thing that had respect in the world that surpassed money. Therefore, it was money that was the only thing that they would be pursuing.

Èlà ní bèèni àti bèèkọ́. ‘Agbé ẹnì ga’ l’á pè owó. ‘Abà iwà jẹ’ l’á pè owó. Ẹni tí ó bá fẹràn owó l’áfẹjù, iwà rẹ̀ òò bàjẹ. Iwà rere l’òṣọ̀ èyàn.

Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) said that it was so and that it was not so. It is ‘One that elevates a person’ that money is called. It is ‘One that spoils character’ that money is called. The person who happens to love money with an intense affection, his character will be spoiled. It is good character that is the adornment of a human being.

Owó níní kò ní kí ẹ̀ má di afọ́jú. Owó níní kò ní kí ẹ̀ má di arọ́. Owó níní kò ní kí ẹ̀ má di aṣiwèrè. Owó níní kò ní kí ẹ̀ má di olókùnrùn àti bèbèbẹ̀.

Money possession does not say that you do not become a blind person. Money possession does not say that you do not become a lame person. Money possession does not say that you do not become an insane person. Money possession does not say that you do not become a chronically ill person and so forth.

Ogbón nì kí a maa yẹ. Òun nì kí a maa bù ìyìn fún. Iwà rere nì kí a maa yẹ. Òun nì kí a maa bù ìyìn fún.

It is wisdom that we ought to be holding in high regard. It is that to which we ought to be portioning out praise. It is good character that we ought to be holding in high regard. It is that to which we ought to be portioning out praise.

Ẹ̀jẹ́, ẹ̀ jẹ́ tún ogbón gbón, kí ẹ̀ tún èrò gbà, kí ẹ̀ mú iwà rere hù. Kí ẹ̀ sì wá rúbọ́ kí ara baà lè rọ́ yín tinú-tòde.

Therefore, be willing to work at wisdom to be wise, so that you may work at (which) thoughts to accept, so that you may take good character to develop. Y’all ought moreover to come doing ẹbọ so that (your) bodies may be able to put you at ease inside and outside.

***

07.03b Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity) is helped by Ìwòrì (seeing things clearly).

Ohun tí a baà lè ẹ̀ l’àá dáwólé e. A kì ídàwólé ohun tí a kò baà lè ẹ̀.

That which we may be able to do, it is that on which we will embark. We never embark on that which we may not be able to do.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó wá rúbọ́. Kí ó sì wá ẹ̀ ìbọ́ fún Èṣù. Báýì nì kò nù tọ́ ọ́ lọ́wọ́.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹbọ. He ought moreover to come doing ìbọ for Èṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests). It is in this manner that he will not go astray.

Òbàrà Ìrosùn

[\[Back to Òbàrà\]](#)

07.05 Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity) helps Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Òbàrà, síṣùn tí sùn l’ogun fi kó ilé Alára. Òbàrà, síṣùn tí sùn l’ogun fi kó ilé Ijerò. Òbàrà, síṣùn tí sùn l’ogun fi kó Òkè-Ìtasẹ̀.

Òbàrà, it is the sleep that you slept that war used to plunder Alára town. Òbàrà, it is the sleep that you slept that war used to plunder Ijerò town. Òbàrà, it is the sleep that you slept that war used to plunder Òkè-Ìtasẹ̀.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà nígbàtí t’ajogun nkàn ilèkùn rẹ. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìsà of knowledge and wisdom) when a distressful situation was knocking on his door. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Ñjẹ, Ikú o, maa lọ! Àrùn o, maa lọ! Ẹjọ gbé mi tì. Òfò o, maa lọ! Ajogun gbogbo, maa lọ!
“Maa lọ, maa lọ” l’èse nké.

Therefore, Death, get going! Illness, get going! Litigation, get going! Loss, get going! Every ajogun (agent of distress), get going! It is “Get going, get going” that the cat is crying out. [Note: Many people believe that cats can remove negative energy from their environment].

Extra: Wake up and deal with the distressful situation knocking on your door.

Òbàrà Méjì

[\[Back to Òbàrà\]](#)

07.07 Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity) is doubled.

Ó sẹ mi pẹlẹngẹ, ọwọ mi ọtún. Ó rọ mi minìjọ, ọwọ mi òsì. Ewé kókò méjì ni ilù ara wọn pẹlẹngẹ-pẹlẹngẹ. Abẹbẹ ọjé ni ímú ojú ọlọjà tutù nini.

It overcomes me delicately, my right-hand side. It soothes me smoothly, my left-hand side. It is two cocoyam leaves that are beating each other very delicately. It is a fan of lead that is making the king’s face very cool. [Note: Each preceding statement describes a situation of ease and enjoyment].

A dífá fún èyítí yòò di Olú Ìdó, abẹjìgbàrà-ilẹkẹ, nígbàtí tí ilọ rẹ bá wọn múlẹ ibùdó.

Ifá divination was performed for the one who would become the Ìdó chief, possessor of ẹjìgbàrà beads (which are worn by royalty), when he went aiming to join them (others) in establishing a settlement.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Lẹhìn tí ó rúbọ tán, ó di àpésìn, ó di Olú Ìdó.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. After he had done ẹbọ completely, he became a leader who had a large number of followers, he became the Ìdó chief.

Kí’ó sọ Olú Ìdó di ọba? Èjì Òbàrà, Ifá l’ó sọ Olú Ìdó di ọba, Èjì Òbàrà o!

What was it that transformed the Ìdó chief into a king? Èjì Òbàrà (same as Òbàrà Méjì), it was Ifá that transformed the Ìdó chief into a king, Èjì Òbàrà!

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one will create their own domain of peaceful prosperity.

Òbàrà Ọsá

[\[Back to Òbàrà\]](#)

07.10 Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity) hinders Ọsá (running away from a challenge).

Ọsọ rí mi; ó ní ọmọ tani mo sẹ? Mo ní: “Ọmọ Òbàrà Ọsá ni mo sẹ.” Àjẹ rí mi; ó ní ọmọ tani mo sẹ? Mo ní: “Ọmọ Òbàrà Ọsá ni mo sẹ.”

A male psychic attacker saw me; he said whose child am I? I said: “It is a child of Òbàrà Ọsá that I am.” A female psychic attacker saw me; she said whose child am I? I said: “It is a child of Òbàrà Ọsá that I am.”

Ikú rí mi; ó ní ọmọ tani mo ẹ? Mo ní: “Ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá ni mo ẹ.” Àrùn rí mi; ó ní ọmọ tani mo ẹ? Mo ní: “Ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá ni mo ẹ.” Èsù rí mi; ó ní ọmọ tani mo ẹ? Mo ní: “Ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá ni mo ẹ.”

Death saw me; he said whose child am I? I said: “It is a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá that I am.” Illness saw me; he said whose child am I? I said: “It is a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá that I am.” Èsù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests) saw me; he said whose child am I? I said: “It is a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá that I am.”

Ọfọ: Ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá ni mo ẹ. Ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá kì ísá. Ikú kì ípa ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá. Àrùn kì ípa ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá. Ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá kì íté.

Incantation: It is a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá that I am. A child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá never runs away. Death never overwhelms a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá. Illness never overwhelms a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá. A child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá never falls into disgrace.

Àkóse Ifá: Gún ewé jàsókè àti ọṣẹ pọ. Kó ọṣẹ yìí sínú igbá àdému dárádára kan. Pè ọfọ náà s’iyèròsùn tí o ti tẹ lí Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá. Kó iyè yìí sínú igbá ọṣẹ. Gbé igbá ọṣẹ sínú àpò aṣọ funfun; fi kọ sókè bí o bá fẹ. Bù ọṣẹ náà fi wẹ.

Ifá medicine: Pound jàsókè leaves (which are used to ward off negative energy) and soap to be together. Take this soap into a good calabash with a cover. Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to iyèròsùn that you have imprinted with Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀sá. Take this powder into the calabash of soap. Place the calabash of soap into a white cloth bag (which symbolizes the effort to maintain cleanness); make it hang from above if you happen to want to. Portion out the aforementioned soap to use to cleanse yourself.

Extra: Stand your ground against ruinous influences.

Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀túrá

[\[Back to Ọ̀bàrà\]](#)

07.13 Ọ̀bàrà (asserting oneself with dignity) helps Ọ̀túrá (averting a worrisome situation).

A-pa-pa-t’oko, a-tu wọn-n’ílé-tu-wọn-l’oko, l’ó difá fún Onilé-adiyẹ àti àwọn ọmọ rẹ.

It was ‘One who kills and kills those of the farm’, ‘one who plucks them in town and plucks them in the countryside’, who performed Ifá divination for ‘Chicken head-of-household’ and her children.

A ní: “Ọ̀tá tí ó lágbára jù yín, ó ñbọwá bá yín. Bí ẹ bá sá kúrò n’ílé lọ s’oko, ọ̀tá oò tún wá bá yín l’oko. Şùgbón bí ẹ bá ẹbọ, ọ̀wọ oò jẹ fún yín.”

It was said: “An opponent who is more powerful than y’all, he is coming to meet y’all. If y’all happen to run away and leave town to go away to the countryside, then the opponent will again come looking for y’all in the countryside. But if y’all happen to do ẹbọ, then respect will comply with y’all.”

A ní: “Àwòdì kò lè rí fi igbín ẹ. Àwòdì wò igbín kọ̀rọ.”

It was said: “The hawk is not able to see causing the snail to be harmed. The hawk looks at the snail hostilely but being powerless to act.”

Àkóse Ifá: Lọ ewé ọwọ láti sè jẹ gégébí ọbẹ pèlú ìgbín.

Ifá medicine: Grind ọwọ leaves (which are used to bring respect to someone) to cook and eat according to a soup together with snails (whose slow movement symbolizes calmness and caution that avert trouble).

Ọ̀bàrà Ìrètẹ̀

[\[Back to Ọ̀bàrà\]](#)

07.14 Ọ̀bàrà (asserting oneself with dignity) is helped by Ìrètẹ̀ (practicing Ifá).

Ọ̀bàrà Ìrètẹ̀, a dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà. A ní kí òun wá rúbọ́ kí ohun tí ó wúwo jù má baà lè dé sí òun, kí òun baà lè tẹ̀ orí ohun gbogbo. Ó gbọ́; ó rúbọ́.

Ọ̀bàrà Ìrètẹ̀, Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that a thing that was too heavy may not be able to reach him, so that he may be able to step on the top of everything. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

A ní: “Ohun tí ó wúwo jù kí idé sí Èlà. Èlà l’ó tẹ ara rẹ ní Ifá. Òun ni yóò tẹ wọn níbigbogbo.”

It was said: “A thing that is too heavy never reaches Èlà. It is Èlà who initiated himself to Ifá. It is he who will initiate them (others) everywhere.”

Extra: By practicing Ifá, you will steer every matter to a fitting end.

Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀ṣẹ̀

[\[Back to Ọ̀bàrà\]](#)

07.15 Ọ̀bàrà (asserting oneself with dignity) is helped by Ọ̀ṣẹ̀ (overcoming through joyful optimism).

Wọn ní ọmọ tani mo ẹ? Mo ní: “Ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀ṣẹ̀ ni mo ẹ.” Wọn bì mi. Wọn gbà mi lójú. Wọn kàn mi n’íkùn.

They (others) said whose child am I? I said: “It is a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀ṣẹ̀ that I am.” They shoved me. They slapped me in the face. They punched me in the belly.

Ọfọ: Ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀ṣẹ̀ ni mo ẹ. Ìyà kì ijẹ ọmọ Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀ṣẹ̀. Ọ̀tá kótá tí ó bá pè mi s’ìbì, èmi kò ní ẹ̀sà ẹ̀gun wọn.

Incantation: It is a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀ṣẹ̀ that I am. Suffering never consumes a child of Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀ṣẹ̀. Whichever opponents happen to summon me to bad things, I will not fail to overcome them.

Àkóse Ifá: Lọ ewé àrèrè àti ewé ẹjá tí wọn wọ silẹ. Pè ọfọ nàà s’ẹ̀tù yìí tí o tí tẹ lí Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀ṣẹ̀. Dà ẹ̀tù nàà s’ọjú ìgbín kan. Fì aṣọ dúdú wé ìgbín nàà. Fì òwú dúdú dì í danindanin. Dí ọjú àti jù ú nù sínú ìgbó.

Ifá medicine: Grind àrèrè leaves (which is used to ward off evil influences) and ẹjá leaves (which are used to remove negative energy) that fell to the ground. Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to this powder that you have imprinted with Ọ̀bàrà Ọ̀ṣẹ̀. Pour the aforementioned powder on the face of a snail (whose slow movement symbolizes calmness and caution that avert trouble). Use a piece of black cloth to wrap around the aforementioned snail. Use black thread to bind it tightly. Close your eyes and throw it away into the woods.

Extra: Move yourself from being a victim of trauma to being its victor.

Òbàrà Òfún

[\[Back to Òbàrà\]](#)

07.16 Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity) is helped by Òfún (acting with rectitude).

Ahére oko l’abidí beṣeṣe-beṣeṣe. Àgbàlágba ejò ni idòbálẹ̀ ara rẹ̀ wọ̀ ilẹ̀.

It is the farmhouse that is the possessor of a base of thatch. [Note: Here is a case of roofing material ‘humbling itself’ by being at the house’s base]. It is the elder snake that is prostrating its body to crawl on the ground.

A dífá fún babaláwo méta. A bù fún olùmòràn méfà n’íjọ́ tí wọ̀n nǵà ijà àgbà lí Òtu-Ifẹ̀. A ní: “Ifá l’àgbà, ṣùgbón imòràn l’a kókó ndá kí a tó dáfá.”

Ifá divination was performed for three Ifá priests. It (this divination) was shared with six wise men on the day when they were fighting a fight for seniority at Ilé-Ifẹ̀. It was said: “It is Ifá that is the elder, but it is careful consideration that we first cast before we reach the point of performing Ifá divination.”

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó mò pé Ifá kì iní ohun tí ó lòdì sí làákàyè. Kí olúwarẹ̀ wá rúbọ̀. Kí ó sì wá ṣe ìbọ̀ fún Èlà, afi inú ṣe ogbón.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to know that Ifá never says a thing that is contrary to good sense. The person in question ought to come doing ẹbọ̀. He ought moreover to come doing ibọ̀ for Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), the one who uses (his) insides to practice wisdom.

Extra: Ifá never says anything that is contrary to good sense.

[\[Back to Òkànràn\]](#)

08.01 Òkànràn (touching trouble) is hindered by Ogbè (a wholesome road).

A kì íṣe ọmọ babaláwo kí a bínú. A kì íṣe ọmọ oníṣègùn kí a ṣàì gbóràn. A kì íṣe ọmọ baalè kí a bà ilú jé.

We will never be the children of an Ifá priest and then be angry. We will never be the children of an herb doctor and then fail to be obedient. We will never be the children of a community chief and then spoil the community.

A dífá fún Adékàmbí, tí íṣe ọmọ Òkànràn-so-idè.

Ifá divination was performed for Adékàmbí (a personal name meaning ‘it is my turn to birth a crown’, that is, it is my turn to become enthroned as the king of my life), who was a child of ‘Òkànràn ties an òrìṣà necklace’ (that is, Òkànràn gets initiated to an òrìṣà, a ministerial deity).

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ṣe ìbọ fún Èlà, afi inú ṣe ọgbón.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), the one who uses (his) insides to practice wisdom.

Mo gbọ pé awo ísodè. Mo bá wọn so o!

I heard that priests were tying òrìṣà necklaces. I joined them in tying!

Extra: [Miṣlè (Proverbs) 16:17] The high way of upright ones is to turn themselves aside from what is bad; one who watches over his spirit is one who safeguards his conduct.

Òkànràn Òyèkú

[\[Back to Òkànràn\]](#)

08.02 Òkànràn (touching trouble) is hindered by Òyèkú (averting ruin).

‘Tẹ ẹ kiti’ l’awo ọmọdé. ‘Tẹ ẹ kàtà’ l’awo àgbàlágba. Ó kù ìka kan kí ó di Èjì Òyè.

It is ‘Imprint it hastily’ who is the young priest. It is ‘Imprint it patiently’ who is the elder priest. There remains one imprint before it becomes Èjì Òyè (same as Òyèkú Méjì).

A dífá bọrọkinni ayé. A bù fún bọrọkinni ọrun. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ kí bọrọkinni ayé má baà tẹ nítorí àṣiṣe. Wọn gbọ; wọn rúbọ. Wọn sì ṣe ìbọ fún Ẹgbé.

Ifá divination was performed for respectable persons of earth. It (this divination) was shared with respectable persons of heaven. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ so that respectable persons of earth may not fall into disgrace because of mistakes (that is, wrong actions, beliefs, or judgments). They heard; they did ẹbọ. They moreover did ìbọ for Egbé (comrades of heaven).

Egbé, ẹ gbà mi o! Bòròkìnní ọrun ọò gbèjà bọròkìnní ayé. Bòròkìnní ọrun kò ní jẹkí bọròkìnní ayé ọò tẹ. Èyàn rere kì itẹ bọrò.

Egbé, rescue me! Respectable persons of heaven will fight on behalf of respectable persons of earth. Respectable persons of heaven will not allow that respectable persons of earth would fall into disgrace. Good human beings never fall into disgrace easily.

Extra: [Miṣlẹ (Proverbs) 16:17] The high way of upright ones is to turn themselves aside from what is bad; one who watches over his spirit is one who safeguards his conduct.

Òkànràn Òdí

[\[Back to Òkànràn\]](#)

08.04 Òkànràn (giving something good its turn) is helped by Òdí (having a sound foundation).

Message: [Dilogún 1-7] He who does not follow his (destined) course does not meet his blessings.

Òkànràn Ìrosùn

[\[Back to Òkànràn\]](#)

08.05 Òkànràn (touching trouble) is hindered by Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Ìmòòmòṣe ibi kò sunwòn. Èni tí یشه ibi, bí ó bá bèbè ọràn, ọràn ọò tán. Gbogbo ayé ni iforíjì àìmò. Ìmòòmòṣe ibi kò sunwòn.

Knowingly doing bad things is not good. The person who is doing bad things, if he happens to beg for forgiving the trouble, then the trouble will come to an end. It is the whole world who forgives ignorance. Knowingly doing bad things is not good.

A dífá fún ‘Ó یشه ọràn یشه akin’. Gbogbo wọn ni ifi ẹjọ rẹ sùn. Bí ó bá bèbè ọràn, wọn ọò wí pé ó tán. Nitorínáà, a ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘He makes trouble bravely’. It was all of them (others) who were complaining about his issues. If he happened to beg for forgiving the trouble, then they would say that it has come to an end. Therefore, it was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Àkóse Ifá: Gún ewé ojúsàájú, ewé oríjì, àti ọṣẹ pò fún wíwẹ.

Ifá medicine: Pound ojúsàájú leaves (which are used to help someone to think favorably of another), oríjì leaves (which are used to help someone to forgive another’s mistakes), and soap to be together for cleansing yourself.

Extra: 1. [Miṣlẹ (Proverbs) 28:13] One who covers up his rebellious acts will not fare well, but one who confesses (them) and forsakes (them) will be shown compassion. 2. [Dilogún 1-4] He who remedies the damage that he has done lessens his fault.

Òkànràn Òwónrín

[\[Back to Òkànràn\]](#)

08.06 Òkànràn (touching trouble) is hindered by Òwónrín (walking honorably).

‘Jékí ó ùkà’ ñgbè òùkà. ‘Jékí ó ẹ ibi’ ñgbè aẹ ibi. A dífá fún àwọn àfòìgbó, tí íwí pé Èlà ñkílò ọràn jù. T’ínú wọn ni wọn ñse. Wọn ñse ikà. Wọn ñse ibi. Ohun ayé ñdára fún wọn. A lọ wí fún Èlà.

‘Let him do evil’ benefits the evildoer. ‘Let him do bad things’ benefits the doer of bad things. Ifá divination was performed for those of disobedience, who were saying that Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) was warning against trouble too much. It was what was in their minds that they were doing. They were doing evil. They were doing bad things. Things of the world were looking good for them. We (others) went reporting to Èlà.

Èlà ní: “Bí ó bá pé tíí, ẹlẹsan oò maa bọwá àyíkà. Yóò tùmò l’erù kalẹ. Yóò ẹ jẹjẹ ẹṣe. Nígbàtí ó bá dé, gbogbo wọn oò sá.”

Èlà said: “If it happens to take a long time on-and-on, then the dispenser of rewards will be coming around. He will solve burdens to the last one. He will do quietly his doing. When he happens to arrive, all of them (the wrongdoers) will run away.”

A ní kí ẹni wá rúbọ kí ‘Jékí ó ùkà’ àti ‘Jékí ó ẹ ibi’ má baà rí àyè bọsì ikùn ẹni, kí àwọn ẹgbé àti ọgbà má baà fì ẹni rẹrín nígbèyìn.

It was said that we ought to come doing ẹbọ so that ‘Let him do evil’ and ‘Let him do bad things’ may not see the opportunity to enter our insides, so that companions and peers may not ridicule us in the end.

Extra: Do not allow negative influences to gain a foothold.

Òkànràn Òbàrà

[\[Back to Òkànràn\]](#)

08.07 Òkànràn (giving something good its turn) helps Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity).

Agogo-şékété, awo ilé Ọlọbà, l’ó dífá fún Ọlọbà nígbàtí ẹse ohun gbogbo tí ọkan kò yànjú.

It was Agogo-şékété (a bell that is beaten when greeting Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), the priest of the house of the king of Òbà town, who performed Ifá divination for the Òbà king when he was doing everything for which (each) one did not find an answer.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí nkan ogún àwọn baba nlá rẹ má baà run. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Lẹhin tí ó rúbọ tán, nkan rẹ bẹrẹsì gún. Ayé yẹ ẹ.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that something inherited from his ancestors may not pass away. He heard; he did ẹbọ. After he had done ẹbọ completely, his affair began to be in good order. Life was right for him.

È má jékí wọn run. Egúngún ilé, ẹ má jékí wọn run. Òrìṣà ilé, ẹ má jékí wọn run. Gbogbo ohun ogún àwọn baba nlá tí íbẹ n’ílẹ, ẹ má jékí wọn run.

Do not allow that they pass away. Egúngún (honorable ancestors) of the house, do not allow that they pass away. Òrìṣà (ministerial deities) of the house, do not allow that they pass away. All ancestrally inherited things that are in the house, do not allow that they pass away.

Extra: Be worthy of assistance from ancestral guardians by valuing and preserving the good things that they have brought forth.

Òkànràn Ògúndá

[\[Back to Òkànràn\]](#)

08.09 Òkànràn (giving something good its turn) is helped by Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action).

Èni tí ọwọ́ n'áyá fún ire l'Ògún ígbè n'íjọ̀ ijà. Èyàn tí kò lè jà, tí kò lè sọ̀rọ̀, kò ní lè gbé nínú ayé pẹ̀. Ìjà n'şe ọ̀lá; ijà n'şe iyì.

It is the person whose hands are quick for good things whom Ògún (the òrìşà of iron and war) supports on the day of the fight. The person who is not able to fight, who is not able to speak up, he will not be able to live in the world for long. Fighting makes dignity; fighting makes respect.

A dífá fún Ògúngbèmi. A ní bí kò tilẹ̀ ní finràn nígbàkígbà tí ijà bá dé sí i, kí ó má maa sá o! Alágbára l'ó l'áyé. Kò sí ẹni tí ó jẹ̀ buyì fún ọ̀lẹ̀. Akin l'ó l'áyé. Wọn kì ibù ọ̀lá fún ojo.

Ifá divination was performed for Ògúngbèmi (a personal name meaning 'Ògún benefits me'). It was said that if he would not even take part in a dispute whenever the fight happened to reach him, then he ought not to be running away! It is the powerful person who possesses the world. There is no person who is willing to portion out respect to the lazy person. It is the brave person who possesses the world. They (others) never portion out honor to the coward.

A ní kí Ògúngbèmi wá rúbọ̀ kí agbára inú má baà rà, kí ara baà lè le.

It was said that Ògúngbèmi ought to come doing ẹbọ̀ so that (his) inner strength may not rot, so that (his) body may be able to be strong.

Extra: [Mizmōr (Psalm) 16:8 revised] I have gained advantage by putting Haʹel (God) in front of me always; because (he is) at my right hand, I cannot be unnerved.

Òkànràn Òsá

[\[Back to Òkànràn\]](#)

08.10a Òkànràn (giving something good its turn) is helped by Òsá (taking well-timed action).

Àwọn ọ̀kọ̀, bí wọn ti gbójú tó, wọn kò lè fi ara wọn roko. Àwọn èyàn ni işe elégbè lẹ̀yìn wọn. Àwọn àdà, bí wọn ti mú tó, wọn kò lè fi ara wọn şán igbó. Àwọn èyàn ni işe elégbè lẹ̀yìn wọn. A mú işu wá ilé odó; kò lè tikárarẹ̀ gún un n'iyán. Àwọn èyàn ni işe elégbè lẹ̀yìn wọn.

Hoes, as sufficiently brave as they already are, they are not able to use themselves to till a farm plot. It is human beings who are the supporters behind them. Machetes, as sufficiently razor-sharp as they already are, they are not able to use themselves to cut down the forest. It is human beings who are the supporters behind them. A yam is brought to the abode of the mortar; it is not able by itself to pound itself into pounded yam. It is human beings who are the supporters behind them.

A dífá fún Ọ̀mọ̀-èyàn. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ̀. Wọn gbọ̀; wọn rúbọ̀.

Ifá divination was performed for human beings. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ̀. They heard; they did ẹbọ̀.

Ñjé, tani nṣe elégbè léyìn èyàn, àyàfi Elédàá, àyàfi èyàn?

Therefore, who are the supporters behind human beings, apart from Elédàá (Creator God), apart from human beings?

Àkóse Ifá: Sè ewé ọ̀wọ̀ àti ìgbín méréndínlógún láti je ní kùtùkùtù kí o tó fòhùn sí ẹ̀ni.

Ifá medicine: Cook ọ̀wọ̀ leaves (which are used to bring respect to someone) and 16 snails (whose slow movement symbolizes calmness and caution that avert trouble) to eat in the early morning before you reach the point of talking to someone.

Extra: Work at playing a meaningful role in helping someone or something to realize its potential.

***

08.10b Ọ̀kànràn (touching trouble) is helped or hindered by Ọ̀sá (running away from a challenge).

‘Má já, má sá’ l’ àimọ̀ akin. Akin tí ó mò jà, tí kò mò sá, yòò bá akin ibòmíràn lọ.

It is ‘Do not fight or do not flee’ that is the ignorance of the brave person. The brave person who knows how to fight, (but) who does not know how to back off, he will meet another brave person and perish.

A dífá fún Akínṣuyì. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ̀ kí ó baà lè maa mò ìgbà tí yera àti àiyera fún ìjà, kí ó baà lè maa n’iyi l’ ọ̀jọ̀ gbogbo. Ó gbọ̀; ó rúbọ̀.

Ifá divination was performed for Akínṣuyì (a personal name meaning ‘bravery produces honor’). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ̀ so that he may be able to be knowing when to avoid and when not to avoid fighting, so that he may be able to be having respect every day. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ̀.

Àkóse Ifá: Gbo ewé ojúsàájú, ọ̀jẹ̀lẹ̀ ewé ọ̀mọ̀, àti imọ̀ sínú omi fún wíwẹ̀. Maa lò aṣọ̀ ẹ̀tù.

Ifá medicine: Juice ojúsàájú leaves (which are used to help someone to think favorably of another), tender young ọ̀mọ̀ leaves (which are used to ward off negative energy), and palm fronds into water for cleansing yourself. Get to wearing ẹ̀tù cloth.

Extra: [a saying from Sūnzì] He will win who knows when to fight and when not to fight.

Ọ̀kànràn Ìká

[\[Back to Ọ̀kànràn\]](#)

08.11 Ọ̀kànràn (touching trouble) is helped by Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck).

Kò sí ẹ̀ni tí ilé rẹ̀ kò lè di oko. Kò sí ẹ̀ni tí oko rẹ̀ kò lè di ìgbòrò. Ọ̀tító inú kò maa jẹ́kí tẹ̀mi di oko.

There is not a person whose town is not able to become countryside. There is not a person whose countryside is not able to become bush. [Note: The preceding statements tell us that everything can be taken over by unwholesome influences if not given proper attention]. Truthfulness in me is not allowing that mine become countryside.

A dífá fún Àpáta. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ̀ kí ó má baà kú láílái fún koriko hù. Ó gbọ̀; ó rúbọ̀.

Ifá divination was performed for Rock. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ̀ so that he may not die ever for grass to sprout. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ̀.

Extra: Things go to ruin whenever they are not given proper attention.

Òkànràn Òtúrúpòn

[\[Back to Òkànràn\]](#)

08.12 Òkànràn (giving something good its turn) helps Òtúrúpòn (being productive).

Ifá kíkò ni ímú ẹni mò Ifá. Ọ̀nà ẹ̀sìsì ni ímú ẹni mò ọ̀nà. Ọ̀nà tí a kò rìn rí n'íṣe ẹni ẹ̀báṣìbo.

It is learning Ifá that causes a person to become acquainted with Ifá. It is missing a way that causes a person to become acquainted with the roads. It is a road that we have not traveled previously that makes us uneasy.

N'íjọ kan, Ọ̀sányìn mbá Ẹ̀là kó ajá kan àti ewúré kan l'ẹ̀bọ. Nígbà tí Ọ̀sányìn nímú ajá náà kítà-kítà láti pa á, ọ̀bẹ tí ó mú lówọ̀ bọ̀ lù ú l'ẹ̀sẹ. Ọ̀sányìn sì gbà ọ̀gbẹ̀ ná.

One day, Ọ̀sányìn was helping Ẹ̀là (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) to get a dog and a she-goat for an ẹ̀bọ. When Ọ̀sányìn was taking the aforementioned dog with difficulty to kill it, the knife that he took slipped from his grasp and hit him in the leg. Ọ̀sányìn moreover received a large wound.

Ẹ̀là wò ó sà, ẹ̀sẹ̀ Ọ̀sányìn kò dára fún iṣẹ̀ lile mó. Ẹ̀là ẹ̀sàánú rẹ̀. Ó nífún un l'ógún ewé Ifá lórí àrùn kọ̀ọ̀kan kí ó baà lè maa fi jẹun. Bá yìí ni Ọ̀sányìn di oníṣẹ̀gùn.

Ẹ̀là healed him, but the leg of Ọ̀sányìn was not good for hard tasks anymore. Ẹ̀là pitied him. He (Ẹ̀là) gave him (Ọ̀sányìn) twenty Ifá leaves governing each illness so that he may be able to be using them to make a living. It is like this that Ọ̀sányìn became an herb doctor.

Extra: Faring well depends on taking an unexpected road.

Òkànràn Ọ̀ṣẹ

[\[Back to Òkànràn\]](#)

08.15a Òkànràn (touching trouble) is hindered by Ọ̀ṣẹ (overcoming trouble).

Ìṣẹ̀ ígún ni kò di alẹ. Ìyà àkàlà ni kò di òwúrò. Kíkún odò ni kò l'ópin.

It is the poverty of the vulture (which is a carrion-eating scavenger) that does not last until night. It is the suffering of the hornbill (which is a carrion-eating scavenger) that does not last until morning. It is the fullness of the stream that does not have an end.

A dífá fún Ọ̀kànràn nígbà tí írù igbá iṣẹ̀ kiri. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọ̀kànràn when he was carrying the calabash of deficient circumstances from place to place. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ.

Ọ̀fọ: Ìṣẹ̀ mi tán o; ọ̀rọ̀ l'ó kù! Mo bọ̀ sínú odò; mo wẹ̀ iṣẹ̀ nù.

Incantation: My deficient circumstances have come to an end; it is ample circumstances that remain! I came into the stream; I washed deficient circumstances away.

Àkóse Ifá: Pè ọ̀fọ̀ náà s'ẹ́rú tí o ti tẹ̀ lí Ọ̀kànràn Ọ̀ṣẹ. Pò ẹ́rú yìí pẹ̀lú ọ̀ṣẹ. Bọ̀ sínú odò láti fi ọ̀ṣẹ̀ yìí wẹ̀.

Ifá medicine: Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to ashes that you have imprinted with Ọ̀kànràn Ọ̀ṣẹ. Mix these ashes together with soap. Come into a stream in order to use this soap to cleanse yourself.

***

08.15b Òkànràn (touching trouble) is hindered by Òṣé (overcoming trouble).

Òkànràn dà ìṣé nù. Awo rere ni ìṣe o!

Òkànràn gets rid of deficient circumstances. It is a good priest that he is!

A dífá fún Omọ-Èlà nígbàtí àwọn ará rẹ maa rò ó pin. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ṣe ìbọ fún Èlà, alátúnṣe ayé, asọ-òrò-di-ayò.

Ifá divination was performed for Omọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) when members of his community were intending to write him off. It was said that he ought to come doing ebọ. He heard; he did ebọ. He moreover did ìbọ for Èlà, the master of improving one's life in the world, the one who converts trouble into joy.

Ọfọ: Arò-ẹni-pin kò mò ọla o! Bí a kò kú, ìṣe kò tán. Arò-ẹni-pin kò mò ọla o!

Incantation: 'One who writes a person off' does not know tomorrow! If we have not died, then taking action has not come to an end. 'One who writes a person off' does not know tomorrow!

Àkóse Ifá: Pè ọfọ nàà s'éejú tí o ti tẹ lí Òkànràn Òṣé. Pò eéjú yìi pèlú ọṣé. Bọ sínú odò látí fi ọṣé yìi wẹ.

Ifá medicine: Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to ashes that you have imprinted with Òkànràn Òṣé. Mix these ashes together with soap. Come into a stream in order to use this soap to cleanse yourself.

Extra: Do not give up on yourself or allow others to write you off.

Òkànràn Òfún

[\[Back to Òkànràn\]](#)

08.16 Òkànràn (giving something good its turn) hinders Òfún (efforts of limited success).

Bí orí-búburú bá pẹ tí tí lórí olúwarẹ, orí-búburú òò di orí-ire.

If bad luck happens to last a long time on-and-on on the head of the person in question, then bad luck will become good luck.

A dífá fún Òkànràn. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Bá yìi ni yòò yá fún ire tí ìbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Òkànràn. It was said that he ought to come doing ebọ. He heard; he did ebọ. It was in this manner that he would be ready for the blessings that were approaching.

Extra: Time now favors one to go from bad luck to good luck.

Odò àbàtà sègìsègì kò bà akàn l'èrù. Akàn gbé inú òkun jùgbàdà-jùgbudu.

A muddy swamp does not frighten a crab. The crab inhabits the belly of the ocean with hearty enjoyment.

A dífá fún Ọ̀nì àwààkà. Wọ̀n nífẹ̀ lé e kúrò n'ílẹ̀ bàbá rẹ̀. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ̀. Ó gbọ̀; ó rúbọ̀. Ó sì ẹ̀ ibọ̀ fún baba nlá rẹ̀.

Ifá divination was performed for mighty Crocodile. They (others) were wanting to drive him away from the home of his fathers. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ̀. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ̀. He moreover did ibọ̀ for his ancestors.

Ọ̀nì àwààkà, iwọ̀ l'ó l'ódò, iwọ̀ l'ó n'ibú. Tani yóò gbà odò lówọ̀ Ọ̀nì? Tani yóò gbà ilẹ̀ bàbá ọ̀mọ̀ lówọ̀ ọ̀mọ̀? Kò sí ẹ̀ni tí yóò gbà odò lówọ̀ Ọ̀nì.

Mighty Crocodile, it is you who possesses the river, it is you who possesses the deepest waters. Who will take the river from the hands of Crocodile? Who will take the home of a child's father from the hands of the child? There is no one who will take the river from the hands of Crocodile.

Extra: 1. Have the courage to be where you belong. 2. There is something of ancestral importance to which you ought to lay claim.

Ògúndá Òyèkú

[\[Back to Ògúndá\]](#)

09.02 Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action) helps Òyèkú (averting ruin; not missing out on bright possibilities).

Message: [Dilogún 3-2] To live on illusions, only to die of disappointments.

Ògúndá Ìwòrì

[\[Back to Ògúndá\]](#)

09.03 Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action) is helped by Ìwòrì (seeing things clearly).

Wèrè òyò ọ̀bẹ. Wèrè òyò èlè. Wèrè òsọ ọ̀rọ̀ tí kò sunwọ̀n s'ẹ̀tí ayé. Wèrè òlé wọ̀n kiri. A kò fẹ̀ wèrè.

The madman is taking out a knife. The madman is taking out a machete. The madman is saying words that are not good to the ears of the world. The madman is chasing them (others) from place to place. We do not want the madman.

Ọ̀mọ-Ọ̀gún dì wèrè. Kíl'a lè ẹ̀ fún Ọ̀mọ-Ọ̀gún? Ẹ̀ jẹ́kí a rẹ̀ ilé Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là bèèrè. A dé ilé Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là. Ó gbé Ifá silẹ̀; ó dífá. Ó rí Ọ̀gúndá Ìwòrì.

Ọ̀mọ-Ọ̀gún (child of Ọ̀gún, the òrìṣà of iron and war) became a madman. What is it that we are able to do for Ọ̀mọ-Ọ̀gún? Allow that we go to the house of Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là (child of Ẹ̀là, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) to investigate. We reached the house of Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là. He brought Ifá down; he performed Ifá divination. He saw Ọ̀gúndá Ìwòrì.

Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là ní: “Ọ̀gúndá Ìwòrì o! Èmimi iwọ̀ ni. Èmimi iwọ̀ kì íjá èso ìrókò. Èmimi iwọ̀ mà kún inú ayé. Kí a borí èmimi iwọ̀. Kí a lágbára bí Ọ̀gún. Kí a gbọ̀n bí Ifá. Ẹ̀ mú wèrè wá. Wèrè ọ̀ò sà̀n o!”

Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là said: “Ọ̀gúndá Ìwòrì! There are poisonous aura vibrations (that is, energy emanations belonging to the auras that radiate from persons and things). Poisonous aura vibrations never pluck the fruit of the ìrókò tree (which is sacred and inhabited by a powerful spirit). Poisonous aura vibrations indeed fill the insides of the world. Let us prevail over poisonous aura vibrations. Let us be powerful like Ọ̀gún. Let us be wise like Ifá. Bring the madman. The madman will get well!”

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 29:18] With no spiritual insight, people are let loose (to disregard restraints of good conduct), but one who conforms to divine instruction, how blessed is he!

Ọ̀gúndá Ìrosùn

[\[Back to Ọ̀gúndá\]](#)

09.05 Ọ̀gúndá (having the courage to take right action) helps Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Ọ̀tí ní ipa wọ̀n lókèèrè ihín. Ẹ̀mu ní ipa wọ̀n lókèèrè ọ̀hún.

It is alcoholic spirits that are overwhelming them way over here. It is palm wine that is overwhelming them way over here. [Note: Intoxicants impair one's self-control].

A dífá fún Ọ̀lá-kò-mọ̀ nígbàtí íbẹ̀ láàárín ọ̀tá. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ̀. Ó gbọ̀; ó rúbọ̀. Ó sì ẹ̀ ọ̀bọ̀ fún Ẹ̀là àtí Ọ̀gún.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘Dignity is not limited’ when he was in the midst of opponents. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ̀. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ̀. He moreover did ibọ̀ for Ẹ̀là (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) and Ọ̀gún (the òrìṣà of iron and war).

Wọ̀n ẹ̀bí ọ̀lá mi tán. Mo ní ọ̀lá mi kù. Nínú àpò òmìnìjẹ̀kùn l'ọ̀lá mi wà o!

They (others) assumed that my dignity had come to an end. I said that my dignity remains. It is inside the Ifá priest's sacred utility bag (that is, in the domain of Ifá, an expert system of spiritual cultivation) where my dignity is!

Extra: [Mizmōr (Psalm) 103:6] How blessed are those who conform to justice (and how blessed is) one who practices righteousness at all times!

Ògúndá Òwónrín

[\[Back to Ògúndá\]](#)

09.06 Ògúndá (clearing a way) is helped by Òwónrín (taking measured action).

Òkun kún nò réré. Òsà kún lègbẹ̀-lègbẹ̀. Ọl'Ówá ńrè Ówá. Al'Àsàn ńrè Asàn.

The ocean is full and stretches afar. The lagoon is full at high tide. The person having Ówá town (as a destination) is going to Ówá town. The person having Àsàn town (as a destination) is going to Àsàn town.

A dífá fún àwọn ará Ifẹ̀ nígbàtí nkan wọn kò l'ójútùú, nígbàtí wọn kò dì ìṣẹ̀ṣe mú.

Ifá divination was performed for the inhabitants of Ilé-Ifẹ̀ (a Yorùbá town that symbolizes earthly life) when their affair did not have a solution, when they did not take hold of ìṣẹ̀ṣe (a system of spiritual cultivation that is centered on one's intrinsic divinity and ancestral guardians).

A ní kí wọn wá ẹ̀ ṣe ìbọ̀ fún Orò, tí ịṣe baba nlá wọn. Kí wọn wá ẹ̀ ṣe ìbọ̀ fún bàbá tí ó bí wọn. Kí wọn sì wá ẹ̀ ṣe ìbọ̀ fún iyá tí ó bí wọn. Kí wọn wá ẹ̀ ṣe ìbọ̀ fún Orí Ẹ̀lédàá. Báyii ni wọn yóò dì ìṣẹ̀ṣe mú. Wọn gbọ̀; wọn ẹ̀ ṣe ìbọ̀.

It was said that they ought to come doing ìbọ̀ for Orò (a revered Yorùbá ancestor), who was their ancestor. They ought to come doing ìbọ̀ for the fathers who begot them. They ought moreover to come doing ìbọ̀ for the mothers who birthed them. They ought to come doing ìbọ̀ for Orí Ẹ̀lédàá (Man's godself). It was in this manner that they would take hold of ìṣẹ̀ṣe. They heard; they did ìbọ̀.

Lèhìn tí wọn ẹ̀ ṣe ìbọ̀ tán, ire gbogbo tọ̀ wọn lówó. Àwọn ará Ifẹ̀ ńjọ̀; wọn ńyọ̀. Wọn ńkọ̀rìn: “Bàbá ẹ̀ni n'ìṣẹ̀ṣe ẹ̀ni. Iyá ẹ̀ni n'ìṣẹ̀ṣe ẹ̀ni. Ikin ẹ̀ni n'ìṣẹ̀ṣe ẹ̀ni. Orí ẹ̀ni n'ìṣẹ̀ṣe ẹ̀ni.”

After they had done ìbọ̀ completely, every good thing touched them in (their) hands. The inhabitants of Ilé-Ifẹ̀ were dancing; they were rejoicing. They sang: “It is one's father who is one's ìṣẹ̀ṣe. It is one's mother who is one's ìṣẹ̀ṣe. It is one's ikin (sacred palm kernels that are used to perform Ifá divination) that are one's ìṣẹ̀ṣe. It is one's Orí who is one's ìṣẹ̀ṣe.”

Extra: [a Kòngó saying] Simba simbi (Hold up that which holds you up).

Ògúndá Méjì

[\[Back to Ògúndá\]](#)

09.09 Ògúndá (clearing a way; having the courage to take right action) is doubled.

Oore kì ígbé; ikà kì írẹ̀ dànù. Oore l'ó pé; ikà kò sunwọn.

Kindliness never perishes; evil never tires to be discarded. It is kindliness that amounts to something beneficial; evil is not good.

A dífá fún Àgànná, tí yóò jọba Òkò lẹ̀yìn ikú Olókò.

Ifá divination was performed for Àgànná, who would be enthroned as the king of Òkò after the death of the king of Òkò town.

Nígbàtí Àgànná dé Òkò, ó dáko l'ójú ọ̀nà. Bí ẹ̀nikan bá kojá, Àgànná fún un ní àgbàdo tàbí nkan. Ìwọn kan tí Àgànná bá rí n'ítà, ó fi tọ̀rẹ̀. Bí ẹ̀nikan ẹ̀ àròyẹ̀ owó, Àgànná fún un. Àgànná ńṣe bẹ̀ẹ̀ tí. Nígbàtí Olókò kú, ará ọ̀de ní kí Àgànná jọba.

When Àgànná arrived at Òkò, he made a farm by the side of the road. If someone happened to pass by, Àgànná gave him maize or something. A particular portion that Àgànná happened to see from selling, he used it to give as gifts. If someone made a complaint about money, Àgànná gave to him. Àgànná was doing this on-and-on. When the Òkò king died, the townspeople said that Àgànná ought to be enthroned.

Kí'ó fi Àgànná jẹ Olókò? Oore l'ó fi Àgànná jẹ Olókò, oore ni.

What was it that caused Àgànná to be enthroned as the king of Òkò? It was kindness that caused Àgànná to be enthroned as the king of Òkò, kindness it was.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó má dẹkun iṣoore. Şùgbọ́n kí olúwarẹ wá rúbọ.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought not to cease doing kindly acts. But the person in question ought to come doing ẹbọ.

Extra: One's sincere efforts will attract the support of those who can help one to rise to prominence.

Ògúndá Ìká

[\[Back to Ògúndá\]](#)

09.11 Ògúndá (clearing a way) helps Ìká (reaping a reward).

Ẹ̀tì pìrì sí kírì. Sí kírì ẹ̀tì pìrì.

Difficulty immediately moved on and roamed about. Moved on and roamed about did difficulty immediately do.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Ògún, tí íṣòwò, tí àkà rẹ̀ kò jẹ́kí ó rí èrè jẹ. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ̀ ẹ̀bọ fún Ọgún àti Ẹ̀là.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Ògún (child of Ògún, the òrìṣà of iron and war), who was taking part in business, whom his harvest storehouse did not allow that he see a gain to enjoy (that is, it showed no evidence that he had made any progress). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Ògún and Ẹ̀là (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom).

Ẹ̀tì pìrì sí kírì. Ọmọ-Ògún ká àkà, ajé dé. Ẹ̀tì pìrì sí kírì. Ọmọ-Ògún ká àkà, aya dé.

Difficulty immediately moved on and roamed about. Ọmọ-Ògún dominated the harvest storehouse, and money arrived. Difficulty immediately moved on and roamed about. Ọmọ-Ògún dominated the harvest storehouse, and spouses arrived.

Ẹ̀tì pìrì sí kírì. Ọmọ-Ògún ká àkà, ọmọ dé. Ẹ̀tì pìrì sí kírì. Ọmọ-Ògún ká àkà, ire gbogbo dé.

Difficulty immediately moved on and roamed about. Ọmọ-Ògún dominated the harvest storehouse, and children arrived. Difficulty immediately moved on and roamed about. Ọmọ-Ògún dominated the harvest storehouse, and every good thing arrived.

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one will prevail over the difficulty halting his progress.

Ògúndá Ìrètè

[\[Back to Ògúndá\]](#)

09.14 Ògúndá (clearing a way; having the courage to take right action) is helped by Ìrètè (practicing Ifá).

Ògún l'ó dá àkètè, l'ó sọwọ agada.

It is Ògún (the òrìṣà of iron and war) who puts on a straw hat, who waves a scimitar.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà nígbàtí íbẹ láàárín ọtá, nígbàtí ífí ojojúmọ kọminú. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ ibọ fún Èlà àti Ògún.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) when he was in the midst of opponents, when he was using every day to feel troubled. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Èlà and Ògún.

Kò pé; kò jinnà. Ẹ wá bá ẹnì ní àrúṣégun.

It will not take long; it is not far away. Come join us in stirring up victory.

Ògúndá Òfún

[\[Back to Ògúndá\]](#)

09.16a Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action) helps Òfún (acting with rectitude).

Ògúndá Òfún, a dífá fún Ọmọ-Òrìṣànlá nígbàtí ífí omi ojú sògbéré ire.

Ògúndá Òfún, Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Òrìṣànlá (child of Òrìṣànlá, the òrìṣà of moral sense) when he was using teardrops to cry about good things.

Kíni Ọmọ-Òrìṣànlá lè ẹ kí ayé bá yẹ é? A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. A ní yóò gbà iyì. A ní kò níí tẹ láíláí. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ ibọ fún Òrìṣànlá, bàntà-banta nínú àlà.

What was it that Ọmọ-Òrìṣànlá was able to do so that life may happen to be right for him? It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. It was said that he would receive honor. It was said that he would not fall into disgrace ever. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Òrìṣànlá, the immense one in white clothing (which symbolizes the effort to maintain cleanness).

Òrìṣànlá, lékèlékè, sà àmì sí mi. Òrìṣànlá, làbàlàbà, sà àmì sí mi.

Òrìṣànlá, superior one, put (your) mark on me. Òrìṣànlá, grand one, put (your) mark on me.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó dì Òrìṣànlá mú. Kí olúwarẹ wá rúbọ. Kí ó sì wá ẹ ibọ fún Òrìṣànlá. Bá'yí n'ire òò tọ ọ lówọ.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to take hold of Òrìṣànlá. The person in question ought to come doing ẹbọ. He ought moreover to come doing ibọ for Òrìṣànlá. It is in this manner that good things will touch him in (his) hands.

Extra: Improving your life depends on following the manner of Òrìṣànlá.

09.16b Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action) hinders Òfún (efforts of limited success).

Şèkéşèké şe èké – èké ké e. Şikàşikà şe ikà – ikà kà á. Ara kì írò èké. Ọkàn òşikà kò balẹ̀ bọ̀. Aşeni nşe ara rẹ̀ l’óşé.

The deceiver practices deception – deception cuts him to pieces. The evildoer practices evil – evil numbers his days. The body never puts the deceiver at ease. The heart of the evildoer does not feel secure easily. The underminer is doing himself harm.

A dífá fún şèkéşèké, şikàşikà, àti aşeni n’íjọ tí wọn wá di ọmọ ikófá, n’íjọ tí Ifá óò gbá iwà búburú lówọ wọn. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ. Wọn gbọ; wọn rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for the deceiver, the evildoer, and the underminer on the day when they came becoming Ifá students, on the day when Ifá (an expert system of spiritual cultivation) would sweep nasty conduct away from their hands. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ. They heard; they did ẹbọ.

Ifá ni kí ẹ kọ mi. Màá là. Màá gbà iyì. N kò ní tẹ. Ifá, sà àmì sí mi.

It is Ifá that y’all ought to teach me. I will be prosperous. I will receive respect. I will not fall into disgrace. Ifá, put (your) mark on me.

Extra: [Mişlē (Proverbs) 16:6 revised] By loving-kindness and truthfulness, wrongdoing will be atoned for, and by reverence for Ha’el (God), one turns himself aside from what is bad.

10.01 Òsá (taking timely action) helps Ogbè (a wholesome road).

Èbìtì pa ajá, şùgbón kò rójú jẹ ajá. Èbìtì pa àgbò, şùgbón kò rójú jẹ àgbò. Èbìtì pa òbúko, şùgbón kò rójú jẹ òbúko.

Animal-trap killed a dog, but he did not have the opportunity to eat the dog. Animal-trap killed a ram, but he did not have the opportunity to eat the ram. Animal-trap killed a he-goat, but he did not have the opportunity to eat the he-goat. [Note: The preceding statements involve efforts to no gain].

Èşù l'áà jékí N kó orò délé.

It is Èşù (the òrìşà of opportunity and crossroads tests) who will allow that I bring riches home.

Ètùtù: Dà epo sílẹ̀ nínú ilẹ̀ tàbí n'íta, àbí kí o dà epo sórí Èşù.

An ètùtù: Pour palm oil (which is used to tone down that which is potentially unruly) to the ground inside the home or outdoors, or you ought to pour palm oil onto (the talisman of) Èşù.

Òsá Ìwòrì

[\[Back to Òsá\]](#)

10.03 Òsá (taking timely action) is helped by Ìwòrì (seeing things clearly).

Òsá wò ó. Ìwòrì wò ó. Ohun tí a bá jọ wò, gégé ni ígún.

Òsá looks at it. Ìwòrì looks at it. That which we happen to come together to look at, it is exactly right.

Ìmòràn ní یشه ẹgbón Èdú. Ìmòràn, mo dá ọ tẹlẹ̀ kí N tó dá ikin.

It is Careful-consideration that is the elder sibling of Èdú (Jet-black, a name of Èlà, the òrìşà of knowledge and wisdom). Careful-consideration, I cast you beforehand before I reach the point of casting ikin (sacred palm kernels that are used to perform Ifá divination).

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó fi làákàyè. Kí olúwarè wá rúbọ. Kí ó sì wá şe ibọ fún Èlà, afi inú şe ogbón. Báyìí ni yòò lè rò nkan rẹ̀ wò.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to use good sense. The person in question ought to come doing ebo. He ought moreover to come doing ibọ for Èlà, the one who uses (his) insides to practice wisdom. It is in this manner that he will be able to give his affair careful consideration.

Extra: When dealing with matters, begin by using good sense.

Ọsá Ọdí

[\[Back to Ọsá\]](#)

10.04a Ọsá (taking timely action) is hindered by Ọdí (blockage or enemies).

Ọnà Ọsá kò ì là. Ọnà Ọsá mà dí o! Èlà ní: “Èbọ ni kí a ẹ kí ọnà baà lè là fún Ọsá.”

The way of Ọsá is not yet split open. The way of Ọsá is indeed blocked! Èlà (the ọ̀rìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) said: “It is ẹbọ that ought to be done so that the way may be able to split open for Ọsá.”

Èbọ: Fi fitilà, epo, àti egbàárin owó. Tàn fitilà nàà nígbàtí o bá nṣe ẹbọ lówó. Fi àkóse Ifá.

An ẹbọ: Use a candle, palm oil (which is used to tone down that which is potentially unruly), and 8000 cowries. Light the aforementioned candle when you happen to be doing the ẹbọ at hand. Use Ifá medicine.

Àkóse Ifá: Pò ewé ilá pèlú oṣẹ fún wíwẹ.

Ifá medicine: Mix okra leaves (which is used to make someone slippery against the grip of negative energy) together with soap for cleansing yourself.

***

10.04b Ọsá (taking timely action) is helped by Ọdí (having a sound foundation).

Bí èyàn bá l’óri-ire, bí kò n’iwà-rere, àísí iwà rere ni yòò bà orí òun jẹ.

If a human being happens to have good luck, (but) if he does not have good conduct, then it is the absence of good conduct that will spoil his luck.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó mú iwà rere hù. Kí olúwarẹ wá rúbọ.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to take good conduct to develop. The person in question ought to come doing ẹbọ.

Ọsá Ịrosùn

[\[Back to Ọsá\]](#)

10.05 Ọsá (taking timely action) helps Ịrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Kékẹ pa rere, Ọsá Ịrosùn. Ayé kékẹ n’ìgbín wá, Ọsá Ịrosùn.

Silence fell well (that is, things quieted down completely), Ọsá Ịrosùn. It is a stealthy life that the snail (whose slow movement symbolizes calmness and caution that avert trouble) looks for, Ọsá Ịrosùn.

A dífá fún Aláḡẹmọ. A ní kí ó maa fi ẹsò-ẹsò ẹ ayé. Báyiì ni ayé Aláḡẹmọ òò tutù. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Chameleon. It was said that he ought to be using caution-caution to practice life. It was in that manner that the life of Chameleon would be cool. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Kò pé; kò jinnà. Ayé Aláḡemọ wá tutù jù omi lọ.

It did not take long; it was not far away. The life of Chameleon came being cool more than water.

Extra: Cautious gradual efforts will culminate in success.

Òsá Òwónrín

[\[Back to Òsá\]](#)

10.06 Òsá (taking timely action) helps Òwónrín (taking measured action; walking honorably).

Iṣẹ n'ìṣe itójú. Òwò ṣíṣe n'ìbèèrè.

It is (one's) work that is an act of caring. It is doing business (that is, one's dealings) that is a matter of asking questions. [Note: Here are two examples of giving attention to the quality of one's deeds].

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà nígbàtí yóò fowọbà ire. A ní kí ó dì baba láíláí mú, kí ó dì baba ìgbàaní mú. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ṣe ìbọ fún Èṣù.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) when he would lay hands on good things. It was said that he ought to take hold of ancient ancestors, that he ought to take hold of ancestors of ancient times. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ìbọ for Èṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests).

Tal'ó wá ṣe tí mo lájé? Ọpélope baba láíláí; ọpélope baba ìgbàaní. Tal'ó wá ṣe tí mo l'áya? Ọpélope baba láíláí; ọpélope baba ìgbàaní.

Who comes causing me to have money? I give thanks to ancient ancestors; I give thanks to ancestors of ancient times. Who comes causing me to have spouses? I give thanks to ancient ancestors; I give thanks to ancestors of ancient times.

Tal'ó wá ṣe tí mo bímọ? Ọpélope baba láíláí; ọpélope baba ìgbàaní. Tal'ó wá ṣe tí mo n'ire gbogbo? Ọpélope baba láíláí; ọpélope baba ìgbàaní.

Who comes causing me to beget children? I give thanks to ancient ancestors; I give thanks to ancestors of ancient times. Who comes causing me to have every good thing? I give thanks to ancient ancestors; I give thanks to ancestors of ancient times.

Extra: [an Akan saying] Woforo dua pa a na yepia wo (It is when you climb a good tree that we push you).

Òsá Òbàrà

[\[Back to Òsá\]](#)

10.07 Òsá (running away from a challenge) hinders Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity).

Ojo ni íbarajé.

It is the coward who gives way to fear.

A dífá fún Akèrègbè, tí ó gbékèlè obìnrin àti ọmọdẹ. A ní kí Akèrègbè wá rúbọ kí àwọn tí ísẹ ẹlẹgbẹ lẹhìn rẹ, wọn má baà yẹ ẹ sílẹ lójìjì l'ọjọ tí ó wà nínú ọlá rẹ. Ó kọ; kò rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Calabash, who put trust in women and youngsters. It was said that Calabash ought to come doing ẹbọ so that they who are companions behind him, they may not disappoint him suddenly on the day when he is in his glory. He refused; he did not do ẹbọ.

Extra: 1. Some whom one has trusted may disappoint him when he most expects their support. 2. [Dilogún 9-6] He who is not well-acquainted with his friend is not well-acquainted with his enemy.

Ọsá Ọkànràn

[\[Back to Ọsá\]](#)

10.08 Ọsá (taking timely action) hinders Ọkànràn (touching trouble).

Ọsá Ọkànràn, a dífá fún Àgbònrín. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ọràn iwòsì tó dé, kí ó má baà kú s'ọwọ ọtá, kí ó baà lè gbà ara rẹ sílẹ. Ó kọ; kò rúbọ.

Ọsá Ọkànràn, Ifá divination was performed for Deer. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ before matters of insult reached the point of happening, so that he may not die at the hands of an opponent, so that he may be able to rescue himself. He refused; he did not do ẹbọ.

Àgbònrín ní: “Ìwo mi tó kọ iyà.” A ní: “Láti òkèèrè l'ọtá oò maa fi ọràn ránṣẹ tí yòò maa kàn ẹ l'ára.” Ó ní: “Ìwo mi ti tó dáàbòbò mi.” Şùgbón iwo rẹ kò tó.

Deer said: “My horns are sufficient to reject distress.” It was said: “It is from distant lands that opponents will be sending trouble that will be affecting you.” He said: “My horns have already been sufficient to protect me from danger.” But his horns were not enough.

Extra: 1. [Miṣlẹ (Proverbs) 27:12] A clever one foresees something bad (and) hides himself (that is, keeps himself out of its range); simpletons overstep (and) pay the penalty (that is, suffer the consequences resulting from taking an erroneous course of action). 2. Do not overrate your ability to handle a challenge.

Ọsá Ọgúndá

[\[Back to Ọsá\]](#)

10.09 Ọsá (taking timely action) helps Ọgúndá (clearing a way).

Àṣùwà dá ọrun. Àṣùwà dá ayé. Ire gbogbo wá di àṣùwà.

Grouping together created heaven. Grouping together created earth. All good things came becoming a grouping together.

Irun pé ṣùṣù; wọn gbà orí. Omi pé ṣùṣù; wọn di òkun. Igi pé ṣùṣù; wọn di igbó. Erúwà pé ṣùṣù; wọn di ọdàn. Ìràwọ pé ṣùṣù; wọn gbà ọrun. Ìtá pé ṣùṣù; wọn bò ilẹ.

Hairs assembled intensely; they took over the head. Bodies of water assembled intensely; they became an ocean. Trees assembled intensely; they became a forest. Gamba grasses assembled intensely; they became a savannah. Stars assembled intensely; they took over the sky. Yellow ants assembled intensely; they covered the ground.

Ñjé, bí orí kan bá sunwòn, yóò ràn igba. Orí mi tí ó sunwòn l'ó ràn yín. Orí yín tí ó sunwòn l'ó ràn mi. Bí orí kan bá sunwòn, yóò ràn igba.

Therefore, if one head happens to be good, then it will affect two hundred. It is my head that is good that affects y'all. It is your heads that are good that affects me. If one head happens to be good, then it will affect two hundred.

Extra: There is beneficial strength in united efforts that are properly directed.

Ọsá Méjì

[\[Back to Ọsá\]](#)

10.10 Ọsá (taking timely action) is doubled.

Ìgbà ìgbà-òhún, ìgbà ìwòyí nísinsinyí, ìgbà ọ̀la tí íbò – kò sí ìgbà tí mo là tí N kò ní ẹ̀ rere l'áyé.

The period of times-gone-by, the period of the present time just now, the period of tomorrow that is coming – there is no period in which I am prosperous that I will not do good things in life.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-iyèrè ìgbà ọ̀jò, tí íbẹ̀ láárín ìşé. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-iyèrè (Ashanti pepper seed) of the rainy season, who was in the midst of poverty. It was said that she ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. She heard; she did ẹ̀bọ.

Ìgbà ọ̀jò ni ìpónjú Ọmọ-iyèrè mọ. Bí ó bá di ìgbà ẹ̀rùn tán, yóò di onígba okùn, yóò di onígba idẹ o!

It was the rainy season to which the distress of Ọmọ-iyèrè was limited. If it happens to become the dry season completely, then she will become the possessor of 200 okùn beads (which are worn by royalty), she will become the possessor of 200 pieces of brass! [Note: Ashanti pepper seeds flourish during the dry season and not during the rainy season].

Extra: [Qōhelet (Ecclesiastes) 3:1] (There is) for everyone an allocated time, and (there is) a time for every desired goal under the heavens.

Ọsá Ìká

[\[Back to Ọsá\]](#)

10.11 Ọsá (taking timely action) hinders Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck).

Gbọingbọin l'ó dífá fún Ọkè nígbà tí íbẹ̀ láárín ọ̀tá. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

It was Firm-firm who performed Ifá divination was performed for Mountain when he was in the midst of opponents. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ.

Ñjé, ogúnlénirinwó ọ̀kọ̀ ni bọ Ọkè jagun. Wọn gbìyànjú, şùgbón wọn run lẹnu. Ọgótalélgbẹ̀je àdà ni bọ Ọkè jagun. Wọn gbìyànjú, şùgbón wọn run lẹnu. Ẹ̀édégbẹ̀je àáké ni bọ Ọkè jagun. Wọn gbìyànjú, şùgbón wọn run lẹnu.

Therefore, it was 420 hoes that approached Mountain to fight a war. They made attempts, but they perished at the mouth (that is, their blades broke). It was 1460 machetes that approached Mountain to fight a war. They made attempts, but they perished at the mouth. It was 1300 axes that approached Mountain to fight a war. They made attempts, but they perished at the mouth.

Òkè kò jẹ, Òkè kò mu. Òkè kò rù, Òkè kò fọn. Aféfẹ kò rú Òkè gbésẹ. Jàmbá kò lè sọ Òkè. Òkè ndúró gbọingbọin.

Mountain does not eat, Mountain does not drink. Mountain does not lose weight, Mountain does not become thin. The wind does not incite Mountain to make a move. Mishaps are not able to pierce Mountain. Mountain is standing firmly.

Extra: In the face of opposition, morally have the fortitude and stability of a mountain.

Òsá Òtúrúpòn

[\[Back to Òsá\]](#)

10.12 Òsá (taking timely action) helps Òtúrúpòn (being productive).

O rí ẹnì tí ó wí fún ẹ. Tàbí òjẹ o kò rí ẹnì tí ó wí fún ẹ? O mà rí ẹnì tí ó wí fún ẹ. Íwọ l'ó kì ifẹ gbọ.

You saw people who told you (good advice). Or did you not see people who told you? You indeed saw people who told you. It was you who never wanted to listen.

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 12:15] The way of a wayward one is satisfactory in his own eyes, but one who listens obediently to sagacious advice is a wise one.

Òsá Òtúrá

[\[Back to Òsá\]](#)

10.13 Òsá (taking timely action) helps Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation).

Ọfọ: Òtítọ n'iwà Ẹlédàá. Òtítọ l'òrọ tí kò lè ṣubú. Ifá l'òtítọ. Òtítọ l'òrọ tí kò lè bàjẹ – agbára nlá, ajùlọ, ire àì'ópín.

Incantation: It is truth that is the character of Ẹlédàá (Creator God). It is truth that is the word that is not able to fall. It is Ifá that is truth. It is truth that is the word that is not able to be spoiled – great ability, one that surpasses (all), good things not having an end.

A dífá fún àwọn ọmọ aráyé. A ní kí wọn maa ṣòtítọ.

Ifá divination was performed for the people of the world. It was said that they ought to be practicing truth.

Ṣòtítọ, ṣòdodo. Ẹnì tí ó ṣòtítọ l'Ẹlédàá ñgbè.

Practice truth, practice righteousness. It is the person who practices truth whom Ẹlédàá (Creator God; Man's godself) is supporting.

Àkóse Ifá: Pè ọfọ nàá s'iyèròsùn tí o ti tẹ lí Òsá Òtúrá. Pò iyèròsùn yìi pèlú ẹkọ fún mímu tàbí epo fún lílá kí o baà lè mọ òtítọ.

Ifá medicine: Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to iyèròsùn that you have imprinted with Òsá Òtúrá. Mix this iyèròsùn together with maize porridge for drinking or with palm oil (which is used to tone down that which is potentially unruly) for licking so that you may be able to limit yourself to truth.

Extra: Limit yourself to that which conforms to divine standards.

Òsá Ìrètè

[\[Back to Òsá\]](#)

10.14 Òsá (taking timely action) is hindered by Ìrètè (unwholesome influences).

Bí ẹnì kò l'ólá, kí ẹnì má fí ohun olá. Bí èyàn kò tó ọlọtò, kí ó má fí ohun ọlọtò. Ẹni tí kò tó géndé, kí ó má mí bí i.

If one does not have honor, then he ought not to apply himself to affairs of honor. If a person does not attain to being a respectable, well-to-do person, then he ought not to apply himself to affairs of a respectable, well-to-do person. A person who does attain to being a muscular young man, he ought not to breathe like one.

Extra: [Dilogún 9-16] However much you disguise yourself as wise, your ignorance always reveals you.

Òsá Òṣé

[\[Back to Òsá\]](#)

10.15 Òsá (taking timely action) helps Òṣé (overcoming through joyful optimism; overcoming trouble).

Mo sá fún iṣé. Mo yà fún òṣì.

I run away from poverty. I steer clear of deficient circumstances.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Mo sá fún iṣé. Mo yà fún òṣì. Njé ẹyin kò mọ pé ewé ire l'Ọmọ-Èlà nífi í wẹ?

I run away from poverty. I steer clear of deficient circumstances. Do you not know that it is ire leaves (which are used to attract good things) that Ọmọ-Èlà is using to cleanse himself?

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one will attract helpful circumstances.

Òsá Òfún

[\[Back to Òsá\]](#)

10.16 Òsá (taking timely action) is helped by Òfún (acting with rectitude).

Èlà ní Òsá Òfún. Mo ní Òsá Òfún.

Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) said Òsá Òfún. I said Òsá Òfún.

A nsá fún ejò kí ó má baà lè bù ẹnì jẹ. A nsá fún erin kí ó má baà lè mú ẹnì. A nsá fún ẹfòn kí ó má baà lè bá ẹnì jà. A nsá fún iná kí ó má baà lè jó ẹnì.

We are running away from the snake so that it may not be able to bite us. We are running away from the elephant so that it may not be able to get us. We are running away from the buffalo so that it may not be able to engage us in fighting. We are running away from fire so that it may not be able to burn us.

A nsá fún igbèsè kí ọmọ aráyé má baà lè fi ẹni ẹ̀ ẹ̀lẹ̀yà. A nsá fún ohun olóhun kí a má baà lè di olè. A nsá fún èwò kí ibi rẹ má baà lè mú ẹni. Àwọn kì ísá fún ohunkóhun nínú ayé, adùn kò sí fún wọn, àjẹ-pẹ ayé kò sí.

We are running away from debt so that people of the world may not be able to use us to make ridicule. We are running away from the owner's property so that we may not be able to become thieves. We are running away from the taboo so that its badness may not be able to get us. Those who never run from anything in the world, there is no sweetness for them, there is no enjoying the world for long.

A dífá fún àwọn èyàn. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ kí wọn baà lè mọ ohun tí ẹni ibá sá fún. Apákan wọn l'ó rúbọ. A ní: “Èyin tí ẹ rúbọ óò pẹ nínú ayé. Ayé óò maa dùn fún yín.”

Ifá divination was performed for human beings. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ so that they may be able to know that which one ought to run away from. It was one side of them who did ẹbọ. It was said: “You who did ẹbọ will last long in the world. The world will always be sweet for you.”

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 27:12] A clever one foresees something bad (and) hides himself (that is, keeps himself out of its range); simpletons overstep (and) pay the penalty (that is, suffer the consequences resulting from taking an erroneous course of action).

Ìká Òyèkú

[\[Back to Ìká\]](#)

11.02 Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck) hinders Òyèkú (not missing out on bright possibilities).

Àrísà-iná l'ó dífá fún Aaka nígbàtí àwọn omọ aráyé nífi í şe eleyà nítorí iwà ojo. Bí a pè Aaka n'íjà, yóò kákò nítorí pé kí ó má baà tẹ, kí ó má baà farapa, kí ó má baà kú. Nípa iwà yíi, ó di ẹnì yepere.

It was Fear-of-fire who performed Ifá divination for Pangolin (an animal that coils into a ball when threatened) when the people of the world were using him to make ridicule because of cowardly conduct. If Pangolin was called to a fight, then he would coil himself up so that he may not fall into disgrace, so that he may not suffer an injury, so that he may not die. Through this conduct, he became an insignificant person.

A ní kí Aaka wá rúbọ kí ó baà lè n'íyì nínú ayé.

It was said that Pangolin ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may be able to have honor within the world.

Extra: [a saying from Anaïs Nin] Life shrinks or expands in proportion to one's courage.

Ìká Ìwòrì

[\[Back to Ìká\]](#)

11.03 Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck) hinders Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen).

Şe ara rẹ, şe ara rẹ. Ẹni tí ó dà eérú l'eérú ntọ. Şe ara rẹ, şe ara rẹ. Şikàşikà fi idájì şe ara rẹ.

He damages himself, he works against himself. It is the person who pours ashes whom the ashes follow. He damages himself, he works against himself. An evildoer uses half to damage himself.

A dífá fún 'Inú kò gún', tí ígbèrò ibi. A ní kí ohun búburú tí ó maa şe yíi, yóò dẹyin bọwá bà á jẹ. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó baà kọ iwà ìkà sílẹ.

Ifá divination was performed for 'Insides are not right', who was intending something bad. It was said that this bad thing that he was intending to do, it would turn back to come ruining him. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may abandon unrighteous conduct.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó baà kò àṣìṣe rẹ̀ sílẹ̀ tí yóò dẹ̀yìn bọ̀wá bà á jẹ̀.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may abandon mistakes (that is, wrong actions, beliefs, or judgments) that would turn back to come ruining him.

Ìká Ìrosùn

[\[Back to Ìká\]](#)

11.05 Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck) hinders Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Ìgbà tí Ìká kò l'òsùn, kín'ímú ṣawo?

The time when Ìká does not have an Ifá staff (an emblem of priestly office), what is it that he is taking to do (his) spiritual practice?

A dífá fún Ifátólá, tí íṣe ọmọ Ẹ̀là, tí ilọ gbé àkún Òrìṣànlá bọ ọ̀rùn.

Ifá divination was performed for Ifátólá (a personal name meaning ‘Ifá touches honor’), who was a child of Ẹ̀là (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), (but) who went carrying the beads of Òrìṣànlá (the òrìṣà of moral sense) to wear on (her) neck. [Note: Here is someone who is not attentive to the demands of her situation].

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Kí ó sì wá ṣe ìbọ fún Ẹ̀là, afi inú ṣe ọgbón.

It was said that she ought to come doing ẹbọ. She ought moreover to come doing ìbọ for Ẹ̀là, the one who uses (his) insides to practice wisdom.

Èrò Ìpo, èrò Ọ̀fà, nǹjẹ̀ ẹ̀yin kò wá wò ọmọ aráyé bí wón tí ígbé ọmọ Ọ̀bà fún Ọ̀ṣun?

Travelers to Ìpo town, travelers to Ọ̀fà town, do you not come looking at people of the world like those who are handing a child of Ọ̀bà over to Ọ̀ṣun? [Note: According to legend, Ọ̀bà and Ọ̀ṣun were rival wives of Ṣàngó, the deified Ọ̀yó king].

Extra: [Miṣlẹ̀ (Proverbs) 19:2] Moreover, with no insightful knowledge, enthusiasm is not good, and one who makes haste with (his) two feet is one who goes astray.

Ìká Ọ̀wónrín

[\[Back to Ìká\]](#)

11.06 Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck) is hindered by Ọ̀wónrín (walking honorably).

Ìkà-èyàn kì iwón ohun tirẹ̀ kí ó tó ṣe é.

An evil person never weighs a thing of his before he reaches the point of doing it.

A dífá fún Alábámọ. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó baà lè maa ṣe ohun rere. Ó kọ; kò rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘Possessor of regret’. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may be able to be doing good things. He refused; he did not do ẹbọ.

Ìká Ọ̀bàrà

[\[Back to Ìká\]](#)

11.07 Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck) hinders Ọ̀bàrà (asserting oneself with dignity).

Ìká ba, Òbàrà ba. Òbàrà ni kò bá kùnmò.

Ìká hides himself, Òbàrà hides himself. It was Òbàrà who refuses to get hit with a club.

A dífá fún ‘Èni tí a gbà á n’ímòràn, ùgbòkò gbò’, èyítí yòò maa dún lábẹ̀ aṣọ egúngún.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘Person whom we advised, but he did not listen’, the one who would be uttering sounds (as a spiritual entity) beneath the costume of a ceremonial ancestor masquerader. [Note: Here Ifá is euphemistically saying that being too headstrong leads to bodily death].

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Kí ó sì wá ẹ̀ ibọ́ fún egúngún. Lẹ̀yìn nàà, kí ó fi ojúbọ́ egúngún balẹ̀.

It was said that he ought to come doing ebọ. He ought moreover to come doing ibọ for egúngún (honorable ancestors). After this, he ought to set up an egúngún shrine.

Èrò Ìpo, èrò Òfà, nǹjẹ̀ èyin rí Ifá nǹsẹ̀ l’órò gangan?

Travelers to Ìpo town, travelers to Òfà town, do you not see Ifá taking action in the matter firmly?

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 29:1] A person of (numerous) admonishments, one who is stiff-necked, will suddenly be rendered ineffective with no remedy.

Ìká Ògúndá

[\[Back to Ìká\]](#)

11.09 Ìká (reaping a reward) is helped by Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action).

Ògún, dá mi láre. Ògún, jòwọ́ gbè mi. Kò sí ẹ̀ni tí ó l’ẹ̀jọ́ tàbí ijà, tí kì íwí pé kí Ògún jòwọ́ gbè òun. Ẹ̀ni tí íṣe rere, yòò rí ire. Dandan ẹ̀ni rere l’Ògún óò gbè.

Ògún (the òrìṣà of iron and war), judge me innocent. Ògún, please support me. There is no one who has an issue or a fight, who never asks Ògún to please support him. A person who is practicing that which is good, he will see good things. Surely it is a good person whom Ògún will support.

A dífá fún Adé-tutù, ọmọ ojo tí kò fi ọkàn bà lé ẹ̀mí, akú-dé-idáji kí ijà tó dé. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó kọ; kò rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘One who arrived cold’, child of the coward who did not put heart into his breath (that is, who did not breathe confidently), the one who was half-dead before the fight reached the point of arriving. It was said that he ought to come doing ebọ. He refused; he did not do ebọ.

Extra: [Mizmōr (Psalm) 26:1 revised] Judge me innocent, Ha²el (God), because in my moral wholesomeness, I have walked, (and in) Ha²el (God) have I put trust to not fail; I do not waver.

Ìká Òsá

[\[Back to Ìká\]](#)

11.10 Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck) helps Òsá (running away from a challenge).

Ìwà búburú nímú ẹ̀ni ẹ̀ ojo.

Bad conduct causes a person to be a coward.

A dífá fún Olè. A ní Olè kò maa láyà bí olóhun. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó baà lè gbà ọ̀nà òtító-inú ní ohun. Ó kọ; kò rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Thief. It was said that Thief was not being courageous like the owner (from whom he stole). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may be able to accept a way of truthfulness with regard to (acquiring) things. He refused; he did not do ẹbọ.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó gbà ọ̀nà ẹ̀sọ n'íwà rẹ. Kí olúwarẹ wá rúbọ kí ó baà lè kọ àṣiṣe rẹ sílẹ.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to accept a way of careful attention regarding his conduct. The person in question ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may be able to abandon his mistakes (that is, wrong actions, beliefs, or judgments).

Àkóse Ifá: Lò ewé ẹ̀sọ àti ewé wórọ láti sè jẹ gégẹbí ọ̀bẹ pẹ̀lú ìgbín mẹ́rin.

Ifá medicine: Use ẹ̀sọ leaves (which are used to help someone to give serious attention to a person or thing) and wórọ leaves (which are used to establish a cool peace that keeps harmful influences away) to cook and eat according to a soup together with 4 snails (whose slow movement symbolizes calmness and caution that avert trouble).

Extra: Have the courage to abandon improper behavior.

Ìká Méjì

[\[Back to Ìká\]](#)

11.11 Ìká (reaping a reward) is doubled.

Ìbà-réré, awo Iná, l'ó dífá fún Iná. A ní ibikíbi tí Iná bá fi orí lé, ni yóò jẹ ọ̀nà fún un. Orí rẹ ọ̀ò là ọ̀nà fún un.

It was 'Paying respect from afar', the priest of Fire, who performed Ifá divination for Fire. [Note: The way in which one rubs his hands to warm them before a fire is similar to the way in which one moves his hands to pay respect before a ruler]. It was said that wherever Fire happened to put his head on, it was there that he would eat a road for himself. His head would open a way for him.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ̀ ẹ̀bọ fún Orí Ẹ̀lẹ̀dàá.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Orí Ẹ̀lẹ̀dàá (Man's godself).

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí ífẹ ẹ̀ ohun kan. Kí olúwarẹ wá rúbọ kí Orí rẹ baà lè là ọ̀nà fún un.

Ifá says that there is someone who is wanting to do a thing. The person in question ought to come doing ẹbọ so that his Orí may be able to open a way for him.

Extra: The power of God is within you, and so you can transcend any circumstance, habit, or personality trait. Attune yourself to Orí Ẹ̀lẹ̀dàá (Man's godself) so that you may open a suitable road to achievement.

Ìká Òtúrúpon

[\[Back to Ìká\]](#)

11.12 Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck) is hindered by Òtúrúpon (being productive).

Bàájé-bàájé dé. Ó bá ẹnì lódò Túnniṣe-túnniṣe.

‘That which spoils him’ arrived. He found us in the presence of ‘That which improves us’.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó wá rúbọ kí Bàájé-bàájé má baà lè bà iwà rẹ jẹ. Kí olúwarẹ sì wá ẹ ibọ fún Orí Èlédàá.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹbọ so that ‘That which spoils him’ may not be able to spoil his character. The person in question ought moreover to come doing ibọ for Orí Èlédàá (Man’s godself).

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 16:17] The high way of upright ones is to turn themselves aside from what is bad; one who watches over his spirit is one who safeguards his conduct.

Ìká Òtúrá

[\[Back to Ìká\]](#)

11.13 Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck) is hindered by Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation).

Ìká tì mi; mi ò ṣubú. Ìká nírán ibi s’ílé mi; ilé mi kò tú. Gbogbo ire nkójo.

Ìká pushed me; I did not fall. Ìká was sending bad things to my house; my house did not fall apart. All good things were gathering together.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà. A ní ojú óò tì gbogbo àwọn tí íbá Ọmọ-Èlà ẹ ọtá. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom). It was said that shame would come over all those who were meeting Ọmọ-Èlà as an opponent. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Àkóse Ifá: Jó ewé itọ, ewé kuti, àti ataare pọ fún pípò àjẹkù pẹlú oṣẹ. Bù oṣẹ yìí fún wíwẹ.

Ifá medicine: Burn itọ leaves, kuti leaves, and melegueta peppers to be together for mixing the remains together with soap. Portion out this soap for cleansing yourself.

Òtúrúpòn Òbàrà

[\[Back to Òtúrúpòn\]](#)

12.07 Òtúrúpòn (being productive) is helped by Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity).

Òtúrúpòn Òbàrà, a dífá fún Àdà, èyítí íṣiṣé, ṣùgbón kò rí èrè jẹ. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Òtúrúpòn Òbàrà, Ifá divination for Machete, the one who was doing work, but he did not see gains to enjoy (because it is the person using the machete who gets credit for its work). It was said that he ought to come doing ebo. He heard; he did ebo.

Kò pé; kò jìnnà. E wá bá ẹni ní jẹbútú ire.

It will not take long; it is not far away. Come join us in plenty of good things.

Àkóse Ifá: Lọ ewé ṣẹfunṣẹfun. Pò ètù yìi pèlú oṣẹ. Pa ẹyélé àti tẹ orí rẹ mọ oṣẹ náà. Bù iyèròsùn kí o tẹ ẹ lí Òtúrúpòn Òbàrà. Kó oṣẹ náà sínú igbá pèlú iyèròsùn náà. Wíwẹ ni.

Ifá medicine: Grind ṣẹfunṣẹfun leaves (which are used to bring prosperity). Mix this powder together with soap. Kill a pigeon (which is used to help someone to fly majestically above dangers) and press its head onto the aforementioned soap. Portion out some iyèròsùn and imprint it with Òtúrúpòn Òbàrà. Take the aforementioned soap into a calabash together with the aforementioned iyèròsùn. A cleansing it is to be.

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one will have something good to show for their efforts.

Òtúrúpòn Òsá

[\[Back to Òtúrúpòn\]](#)

12.10 Òtúrúpòn (being productive) is helped by Òsá (taking timely action).

A kì iyè pópó kí ó má kàn ilé. A kì iyè ọ̀nà tààrà kí ó má kàn ọ̀jà. A kì igbé àwòrán gégégégé kí a má fi ọ̀wọ̀ tì í sí ibi kan.

We never clear a wide street so that it does not come into contact with the house. We never clear a straight road so that it does not come into contact with the market place. We never carry a portrait with precision so that we do not use (our) hands to set it to somewhere. [Note: Each preceding statement involves an undertaking that reaches an expected outcome].

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one's undertaking will reach a proper conclusion.

Òtúrúpòn Ìká

[\[Back to Òtúrúpòn\]](#)

12.11 Òtúrúpòn (being productive) is hindered by Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck).

Òpẹ̀ sẹ̀gẹ̀sẹ̀gẹ̀ l'ó baálẹ̀ aṣòótó. Kò gbódò puró. Ọ̀rò tí ó bá sọ̀ kì íyín. Ó ṣòótó. Ọ̀pẹ̀ l'ó bí ìkin tí gbogbo ayé nífi.

It was dignified Palm-tree who was the chief of truth-doers. She must not tell lies. The words that she happened to say never fell short. She practiced truth. It was Palm-tree who gave birth to the ikin that the whole world is using (as the prime talisman of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom).

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó má fi òótó silẹ̀. Kí olúwarẹ̀ wá rúbọ̀.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought not to leave truth alone. The person in question ought to come doing ẹbọ.

Ṣòtító, ṣòdodo. Ẹ̀ni tí ó ṣòtító l'Èlédàà nígbè.

Practice truth, practice righteousness. It is the person who practices truth whom Èlédàà (Creator God; Man's godself) is supporting.

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 3:3-4] Loving-kindness and truthfulness ought not to forsake you – tie them onto your neck; write them on the tablet of your heart. And may you attain to favor and good sense in the eyes of ?Elōhīm (Creator God and his ministerial agents) and humankind.

Òtúrúpòn Méjì

[\[Back to Òtúrúpòn\]](#)

12.12a Òtúrúpòn (being productive) is doubled.

Òtúrúpòn l'ó dífá fún Ìgbín, tí ịsawo rè Ìwà-dẹ̀rọ̀. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ̀. Ó gbọ̀; ó rúbọ̀.

It was Òtúrúpòn who performed Ifá divination for Snail (whose slow movement symbolizes calmness and caution that avert trouble), who was going on a spiritual mission to Cool-and-easy-life. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Ìgbà Ìgbín dé. Ó wá pẹ̀ ẹ̀rọ̀ sí mi n'ílẹ̀. Ó wá pẹ̀ ẹ̀rọ̀ sí mi l'ónà. Ó wá pẹ̀ ẹ̀rọ̀ sí mi ní gbogbo ara.

The time of Snail is arriving. It comes summoning cool ease to me at home. It comes summoning cool ease to me on (my) path. It comes summoning cool ease to me in every form.

***

12.12b Òtúrúpòn (being productive) is doubled.

Ọ̀pẹ̀bẹ̀, awo Ẹ̀sẹ̀, l'ó dífá fún Ẹ̀sẹ̀ nígbàtí gbogbo àwọn orí pẹ̀ ara wọn ọ̀, ṣùgbọn wọn kò pẹ̀ Ẹ̀sẹ̀ sí i. A ní kí Ẹ̀sẹ̀ wá rúbọ̀. Ẹ̀sẹ̀ gbọ̀; Ẹ̀sẹ̀ rúbọ̀.

It was Ọ̀pẹ̀bẹ̀, the priest of Legs, who performed Ifá divination for Legs when all of the heads called one another to an assembly, but they did not invite Legs to it. It was said that Legs ought to come doing ẹbọ. Legs heard; Legs did ẹbọ.

Èṣù ní: “È kò pè Èṣè sí i. Ìjà l’ẹ̀ fi tóká nìbẹ̀.” Àwọn orí tó ránṣẹ̀ pè Èṣè. N’ìgbà yìí n’ìmòrán tí wọn ñgbà tó gún.

Èṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests) said: “Y’all (heads) did not invite Legs to it. It is a quarrel that y’all are causing to be spread there.” The heads reached the point of sending for Legs. It was at this time that the deliberations to which they were agreeing reached the point of being in good order.

Òpẹ̀bẹ̀ mà dé o, awo Èṣè! Ènikan kì ìgbìmòrán kí ó fò t’Èṣè dá.

Òpẹ̀bẹ̀ has indeed arrived, the priest of Legs! A person never plans and then skips over the matter of Legs.

Extra: [a saying from Cornelius Fichtner] Planning without action is futile; action without planning is fatal.

Òtúrúpòn Òfún

[\[Back to Òtúrúpòn\]](#)

12.16 Òtúrúpòn (being productive) is helped by Òfún (acting with rectitude).

Òtúrú l’ó gbòn òwú lẹ̀bẹ̀lẹ̀bẹ̀, l’ó mú u rẹ̀ ran.

It is Òtúrú who cards cotton (that is, who takes coarse cotton, aligns its constituent fibers, and rids it of impurities), who takes it (carded cotton) to spin into yarn. [Note: Here is someone who refines cotton].

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Òrìṣànlá, tí irẹ̀ ayé àpésìn. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ̀ ibọ fún Ọrìṣànlá, bàntà-banta nínú àlà. Báyíí nì yóò mú iwà rere hù.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Òrìṣànlá (child of Òrìṣànlá, the òrìṣà of moral sense), who was going to the world of leaders. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ. He moreover did ibọ for Òrìṣànlá, the immense one in white clothing (which symbolizes the effort to maintain cleanness). It was in this manner that he would take good character to develop.

Kò pé; kò jinnà. Ẹ wá bá ẹnì ní jẹ̀bútú ire.

It will not take long; it is not far away. Come join us in plenty of good things.

Extra: By rising above coarse and unsavory things, you will inspire others to follow your example of refinement.

Òtúrá Ogbè

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.01 Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is helped by Ogbè (a wholesome road).

Kòkò, mo kò ibi lónìí o! Ikú, àrùn, ẹjò, òfò, ajogun gbogbo, mo kò ó. Kòkò, mo mà kò ibi o!

Frog, I rejected bad things today! Death, illness, litigation, loss, every ajogun (agent of distress), I rejected it. Frog, I indeed rejected bad things!

Ògèdè-àgbágbà, mo gbà ire lónìí o! Ajé, aya, ọmọ, ire gbogbo, mo gbà á. Ògèdè-àgbágbà, mo mà gbà ire o!

Plantain, I accepted good things today! Money, spouses, children, every good thing, I accepted it. Plantain, I indeed accepted good things!

Èní tí ó bá maa wá ire ní íṣẹbọ. Ọmọ èyànràn kò lè gbà àìṣẹbọ kí ara rọ ó.

It is the person who happens to be looking for good things, who is doing ẹbọ. A person is not able to accept not-doing-ẹbọ and then his body put him at ease.

Òtúrá Ìwòrì

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.03 Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is helped by Ìwòrì (seeing things clearly).

Kí a má fi ìpónjù ìyàn lá ọbẹ gbígbóná. Bí a bá fi ìpónjù ìyàn lá ọbẹ gbígbóná, dájúdájú àá maa jó ẹni l'ẹnu.

We ought not to use the distress of food shortage (as a reason) to lick hot soup. If we happen to use the distress of food shortage (as a reason) to lick hot soup, then surely we will be burning ourselves in the mouth.

A dífá fún Akínṣuyì. A ní kí ó má ṣe láìronú. Kí ó sì wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Akínṣuyì (a personal name meaning 'bravery produces honor'). It was said that he ought not to act thoughtlessly. He ought moreover to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Extra: Do not act in ill-considered haste.

Òtúrá Ìrosùn

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.05a Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) helps Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Wúyẹwúyẹ l'ó dífá fún wọn ní tibọ. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ kí ohun gbogbo tí wọn maa ẹ, kí ó má baà ẹ tibọ. Wọn kò rúbọ.

It was Subtly who performed Ifá divination for those at an impasse. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ so that everything that they were going to do, it may not make an impasse. They did not do ẹbọ.

Báyìí ni wọn ẹ ọ̀ràn owó, ó di tibọ. Wọn sì ẹ ọ̀ràn aya, ó di tibọ pẹ̀lú. Ohun gbogbo tí wọn n̄se, ó m̀bò sí tibọ.

It was in this manner that they dealt with a matter of money, and it became an impasse. They moreover dealt with a matter of spouses, and it became an impasse also. Everything that they were dealing with, it was arriving at an impasse.

Ifá ní ẹ̀nikan wà tí kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó má baà maa rí ọ̀ràn tibọ, kí ohun tí ó mú u, kí ó má bó lẹwọ rẹ àti kò sì lè tẹ ohunkóhun.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may not get seeing a matter of impasse, so that a thing that he takes hold of, it may not get free from his hands and he not moreover be able to hold on to anything.

Extra: [an Ifá saying] Rírú ẹbọ ni igbè ẹni; àìrú kì igbè ẹ̀niyàn (It is doing ẹbọ that benefits a person; not doing it never benefits a person).

***

13.05b Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is helped by Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Òtúrá pọ̀n rọ̀ro. Ìrosùn pọ̀n rọ̀ro.

Òtúrá glows very red. Ìrosùn glows very red.

A dífá fún Àlà, tí irè ayé aláìnùtẹ. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for White-cloth (which symbolizes the effort to maintain cleanness), who was headed for a life of not having disgrace. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Aláşọ àlà kì ilọ jókòó sí isò elépo.

The wearer of white cloth never goes sitting down in the market stall of the palm-oil seller.

Extra: [Mizmōr (Psalm) 37:23-24 revised] Because of Ha'el (God), the steps of a heroic person are made firm, and in his (the person's) path does he (Ha'el) take pleasure. Although he (the person) may stumble, he will not be thrown down, because Ha'el is one who props up his hand.

Òtúrá Ọ̀wónrín

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.06 Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is helped by Ọ̀wónrín (walking honorably).

Èyítí iwù wa nínú ayé kò wù Èlédàá. Ọmọ aráyé maa jókòó s'áyé kí wọn maa ẹ ibi. Èlédàá kò fẹ ẹ; Èlédàá kò gbà á. Ọmọ kò lè gbà àimọ bàbá kí ayé gún.

That which is pleasing to us in the world is not pleasing to Èlédàá (Creator God). The people of the world keep sitting on earth so that they keep doing bad things. Èlédàá does not like it; Èlédàá does not accept it. A child is not able to accept not knowing his father and then his life be in good order.

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 3:5-6 revised] Put trust in Ha'el (God) with all your heart, and upon your personal outlook, you ought not to lean for support. In all your ways, be acquainted with him, and he will make satisfactory your paths.

Òtúrá Ọbàrà

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.07 Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is helped by Ọbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity).

Odó tí mo fi gún iyán, N kò ní fi gún èlú. Àtẹ mi tí mo fi pàtẹ ilẹkẹ, N kò ní fi pàtẹ ọrúnlá.

The mortar that I use to pound yams, I will not use it to pound indigo. My tray that I use to exhibit beads, I will not use it to exhibit dried okra. [Note: Here are two examples of single-mindedness].

A dífá fún Òtúrá. A bù fún Ọbàrà. A dífá fún Kérénsèlé, tí یشه ẹni ikẹta wọn. A ní kí àwọn mètẹtẹta ẹe bí t'Ifá.

Ifá divination was performed for Òtúrá. It (this divination) was shared with Ọbàrà. Ifá divination was performed for Kérénsèlé, who was their third person. It was said that the three of them ought to act according to the way of Ifá.

Òtúrá nṣe bí t'Ifá; Òtúrá là. Ọbàrà nṣe bí t'Ifá; Ọbàrà là. Ẹ̀gbọn Kérénsèlé wá nkábàámò nítórí tí ó wá nṣiyéméjì.

Òtúrá was acting according to the way of Ifá; Òtúrá became prosperous. Ọbàrà was acting according to the way of Ifá; Ọbàrà became prosperous. But Kérénsèlé came regretting because he came being double-minded (that is, irresolute).

Awo l'Òtúrá o! Awo l'Ọbàrà o! Kérénsèlé nìkan ni یشهmèjì o!

It is a priest that Òtúrá is! It is a priest that Ọbàrà is! It is Kérénsèlé alone who is double-minded!

Extra: If you keep comfortable company with ignoble influences, then you cannot win the company of noble influences.

Òtúrá Ọkànràn

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.08 Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) hinders Ọkànràn (touching trouble).

Message: Distance yourself from a situation in which nasty influences are strongly entrenched.

Òtúrá Ògúndá

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.09a Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is helped by Ògúndá (clearing a way; having the courage to take right action).

Wọn ɛ èmi, ɣùgbón èmi kò bàjẹ. Apá wọn kò ká tẹmi. Wọn nígégun. Wọn nṣépè. Wọn nífẹ ibi sí mi.

They (others) worked against me, but I am not ruined. Their arms did not dominate mine. They were invoking inheritable curses. They were invoking non-inheritable curses. They were wishing bad things to me.

Ọfọ: Òtúrá Ògúndá ní kí èmi má bèrù, kí èmi má ɛ ojo. Ó wí pé òun òò bá mi tún tẹmi ɛ, pé ayé tẹmi òò dára. Òtúrá Ògúndá l'ó wẹ orí tẹmi fún mi, kí ègún má baà lè mú mi, kí èpè má baà lè mú mi, kí èdì má baà lè mú mi, kí ẹfún má baà lè mú mi.

Incantation: Òtúrá Ògúndá said that I ought not to be afraid, that I ought not to be a coward. He said that he would help me to repair my affairs, that my life would be good. It is Òtúrá Ògúndá who cleanses my head for me, so that inheritable curses may not be able to get me, so that non-inheritable curses may not be able to get me, so that enchantment may not be able to get me, so that magical spells may not be able to get me.

Àkóse Ifá: Jó ewé ẹsò, ewé ifẹn, àti ọpọlọpọ ewé ojúsàájú pọ. Pò àjẹkù pẹlú oṣẹ. Kó oṣẹ náà sínú igbá. Bù iyèròsùn lé e lórí kí o tẹ ẹ lí Òtúrá Ògúndá. Pè ọfọ náà sí i. Bù oṣẹ náà fí wẹ.

Ifá medicine: Burn ẹsò leaves (which are used to help someone to give serious attention to a person or thing), ifẹn leaves, and plenty of ojúsàájú leaves (which are used to help someone to think favorably of another) to be together. Mix the remains together with soap. Take the aforementioned soap into a calabash. Portion out some iyèròsùn to be on it on top and imprint it with Òtúrá Ògúndá. Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to it. Portion out the aforementioned soap to use to cleanse yourself.

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one will dispel the negative energy sent their way.

***

13.09b Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is helped by Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action).

Èké kò kún ẹni. Ìkà kò kún ọmọ èyàn. Bí èké bá nýò ilẹ dà, ohùn wẹrẹ abẹnu òò maa yọ ọ ní ɣíṣe. Òtító inú yó ẹni l'ájẹkù; ọ jù irọ lọ.

Deception does not fully supply a person. Evil does not fully supply a human being. If a deceiver happens to be bringing himself to accept an oath to betray, then a small voice having a mouth will keep annoying him in the process (that is, his conscience will keep bothering him). Truthfulness satisfies a person beyond capacity; it surpasses falsehood.

Extra: One ought to be able to face oneself and others with a clear conscience.

Òtúrá Òsá

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.10 Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is helped by Òsá (taking timely action).

Ayé sí; ayé ñrè ire. Èyin ajogun ọrun, ẹ pèyìndà.

Life moved along (that is, underwent a change); life was headed for good things. You ajogun (agents of distress) of the spirit world, make a u-turn.

A dífá bọ̀rọ̀kìnní ayé. A bù fún bọ̀rọ̀kìnní ọrun. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ́ kí bọ̀rọ̀kìnní ayé má baà tẹ́ lówọ́ ajogun. Wọn gbọ́; wọn rúbọ́. Wọn sì ẹ̀ ibọ́ fún Egbé.

Ifá divination was performed for respectable persons of earth. It (this divination) was shared with respectable persons of heaven. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ so that respectable persons of earth may not fall into disgrace at the hands of ajogun. They heard; they did ẹbọ. They moreover did ibọ for egbé (comrades of heaven).

Egbé, ẹ gbà mi o! Bọ̀rọ̀kìnní ọrun òò gbèjà bọ̀rọ̀kìnní ayé. Bọ̀rọ̀kìnní ọrun kò ní jẹ́kí bọ̀rọ̀kìnní ayé òò tẹ́.

Egbé, rescue me! Respectable persons of heaven will fight on behalf of respectable persons of earth. Respectable persons of heaven will not allow that respectable persons of earth would fall into disgrace.

Extra: [an Akan saying] Woforo dua pa a na yepia wo (It is when you climb a good tree that we push you).

Òtúra Ìká

[\[Back to Òtúra\]](#)

13.11 Òtúra (averting a worrisome situation) hinders Ìká (ill conduct or ill luck).

‘Asaré geregere’ l’á ipè ikú. ‘Abìrìn gbèrẹ́’ l’á ipè àrùn. Bí erin bá já òpópó, yòò maa túraká. Bí ẹfọ́n bá já àbàtà, yòò maa túraká.

It is ‘One who runs away briskly’ that we call death. It is ‘Possessor of walking away suddenly’ that we call illness. [Note: The preceding statements are affirmations that death and illness will quickly go away]. If an elephant happens to get to the street, then it will be getting free and easy. If a buffalo happens to get to the swamp, then it will be getting free and easy.

Ọfọ́: Òtúra Ìká túraká. Kí o bá mi tú oşó ká. Kí o bá mi tú àjẹ ká. Kí o bá mi tú ọ́tá ká. Kí o bá mi tú òdídí ká. Kí o bá mi túraká.

Incantation: Òtúra Ìká gets free and easy. You ought to help me to dispel male psychic attackers. You ought to help me to dispel female psychic attackers. You ought to help me to dispel opponents. You ought to help me to dispel blockages. You ought to help me to get free and easy.

Àkóse Ifá: Lọ ewé ẹ̀là àti iyèré. Fá ẹ̀tù yíi sínú abọ́ amọ́ láti sè gégébí ọ̀bẹ̀ pẹ̀lú ẹ̀ja àrọ́. Kí ọ̀bẹ̀ náà tutù. Pè ọ̀fọ́ náà s’iyèròsùn tí o ti tẹ́ lí Òtúra Ìká. Pò iyèròsùn yíi pẹ̀lú ọ̀bẹ̀ náà. Dà epo sílẹ́ yí abọ́ amọ́ náà ká kí o tó jẹ ọ̀bẹ̀ náà.

Ifá medicine: Grind ẹ̀là leaves and Ashanti peppers into a powder. Scrape this powder into a clay receptacle to cook according to a soup together with a mudfish (which is used to bring about tranquility). Let the aforementioned soup become cool. Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to iyèròsùn that you have imprinted with Òtúra Ìká. Mix this iyèròsùn together with the aforementioned soup. Pour palm oil (which is used to tone down that which is potentially unruly) to the ground to surround the aforementioned clay receptacle before you reach the point of eating the aforementioned soup.

Extra: Move quickly in order to return to soundness.

Òtúrá Òtúrúpòn

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.12 Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) helps Òtúrúpòn (being productive).

Òtúrá Bàlélé, a dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà nígbàtí ísawo rẹ òde Àìmọ-ìwà-hù.

Òtúrá Bàlélé (same as Òtúrá Òtúrúpòn), Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) when he was going on a spiritual mission to the town of ‘Not knowing how to behave’.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ṣe ìbọ fún Èṣù àti Èlà.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ìbọ for Èṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests) and Èlà.

Wọn ibá ti lájé, ibá ti pé o! Èṣù, àìmọ-ìwà-hù wọn ni o! Wọn ibá ti l’áya, ibá ti pé o! Èṣù, àìmọ-ìwà-hù wọn ni o!

If they had had money, then it would have lasted a long time! Èṣù, their not-knowing-how-to-behave it was! If they had had spouses, then it would have lasted a long time! Èṣù, their not-knowing-how-to-behave it was!

Wọn ibá ti bímọ, ibá ti pé o! Èṣù, àìmọ-ìwà-hù wọn ni o! Wọn ibá ti n’ire gbogbo, ibá ti pé o! Èṣù, àìmọ-ìwà-hù wọn ni o!

If they had begotten children, then it would have lasted a long time! Èṣù, their not-knowing-how-to-behave it was! If they had had every good thing, then it would have lasted a long time! Èṣù, their not-knowing-how-to-behave it was!

Extra: 1. One is somehow bound to those who exhibit bad behavior. 2. One’s bad behavior will rob one of potential blessings.

Òtúrá Méjì

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.13 Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is doubled.

Ìtì ọ̀gèdè bọ̀ lówó gbénàgbénà. Gúnnugún bọ̀ lówó ajẹran. Irun òbò bọ̀ lówó onídírí.

The log of the banana tree is free from the hands of the carpenter. The vulture is free from the hands of the meat-eater. The hair of the vagina is free from the hands of the hairdresser.

A dífá fún Ọro-tẹ̀rẹ̀rẹ̀ ẹ̀lùjù, tí ọmọ aráyé ọ̀ò pa ibà lé e. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó baà lè pamọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Slender-oro-tree (whose edible pulpy fruit is well-liked by Yorùbá people) of the deep forest, on whom people of the world would heap respect. It was said that she ought to come doing ẹbọ so that she may be able to get kept safe. She heard; she did ẹbọ.

Mo bọ̀ lówó wọn nígbàyíí. Mo ṣe bọ̀rọ̀bọ̀rọ̀ bí ewé ẹ̀kukù. Mo bọ̀ lówó wọn nígbàyíí.

I am free from their hands at this time. I am slippery like the ẹ̀kukù leaf. I am free from their hands at this time.

Òtúrá Ìrètè

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.14 Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is hindered by Ìrètè (unwholesome influences).

Òtúrá Ìrètè, ẹni tí mò iwọn kì ítẹ. Mo ní: “Tani mò iwọn?” Èlà ní: “Ẹni tí íṣiṣẹ.” Mo ní: “Tani mò iwọn?” Èlà ní: “Ẹni tí kì iná owó rẹ tán.” Mo ní: “Tani mò iwọn?” Èlà ní: “Ẹni tí kì íjalẹ.” Mo ní: “Tani mò iwọn?” Èlà ní: “Ẹni tí kì íjẹgbèsè.” Mo ní: “Tani mò iwọn?” Èlà ní: “Ẹni tí kì idalẹ ọrẹ.”

Òtúrá Ìrètè, a person who knows moderation never falls into disgrace. I said: “Who knows moderation?” Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) said: “A person who is working.” I said: “Who knows moderation?” Èlà said: “A person who never spends his money completely.” I said: “Who knows moderation?” Èlà said: “A person who never steals.” I said: “Who knows moderation?” Èlà said: “A person who is never in debt.” I said: “Who knows moderation?” Èlà said: “A person who never betrays an oath of a friend.”

Ọfọ: Òtúrá Ìrètè, ẹni tí mò iwọn kì ítẹ. Amú-iwọn l’ó jí ní kùtùkùtù bá inú ara rẹ ńrò nítorí یشه rẹ. Amú-iwọn l’amò-ẹsò.

Incantation: Òtúrá Ìrètè, a person who knows moderation never falls into disgrace. It is one who takes moderation who wakes up in the early morning and engages his mind in calculating because of his actions. It is one who takes moderation who is familiar with careful attention (to his conduct).

Àkóse Ifá: Gún ewé ẹsò, ewé jókòjẹ, ewé jowóro, àti oṣẹ pọ. Fi ẹsán owó tẹ mó oṣẹ náà àti yí í ká. Kó oṣẹ yìí sínú igbá àdému. Bù iyèròsùn lé oṣẹ náà lóri kí o tẹ ẹ lí Òtúrá Ìrètè. Pè ọfọ náà s’iyèròsùn yí. Bù oṣẹ náà fún wíwẹ.

Ifá medicine: Pound ẹsò leaves (which are used to help someone to give serious attention to a person or thing), jókòjẹ leaves (which are used to help someone to ‘sit quietly’), jowóro leaves, and soap to be together. Use nine cowries to press onto the aforementioned soap and to go around it. Take this soap into a calabash with a cover. Portion out some iyèròsùn to be on the aforementioned soap on top and imprint it with Òtúrá Ìrètè. Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to this iyèròsùn. Portion out the aforementioned soap for cleansing yourself.

Extra: [Miṣlè (Proverbs) 13:6] Righteousness safeguards one who is morally wholesome in conduct, but unrighteousness undermines a sinful one.

Òtúrá Ọṣẹ

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.15 Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is helped by Ọṣẹ (overcoming trouble).

Ìṣẹ mà tán. Ọlà l’ó kù.

Deficient circumstances indeed came to an end. It is ample circumstances that remain.

A dífá fún Òtúrá, tí yóò dà یشه nù sínú igbó. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Òtúrá, who would discard deficient circumstances into the woods. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Lèhìn tí ó rúbọ tán, nkan rẹ bẹ̀rẹ̀sí gún. Ó là. Ọkàn rẹ balẹ. Ó n'ísimi.

After he had done ẹbọ completely, his affair began to be in good order. He became prosperous. His heart felt secure. He was in relaxation.

Òtúrá Òfún

[\[Back to Òtúrá\]](#)

13.16 Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation) is helped by Òfún (acting with rectitude).

Funfun n'iyi eyin. Àrí-ogun-má-sá n'iyi ọkùnrin.

It is white glossy enamel that is the honor of teeth. It is seeing-war-but-not-running-away that is the honor of a man.

A dífá fún Ọláṣeéni, èyítí ará-ayé ñbù ú kù, èyítí ará-ọ̀run ñbùkún. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ̀ ipèsè.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọláṣeéni (a personal name meaning 'honor causes him to have'), the one whom inhabitants of earth were belittling, the one whom inhabitants of heaven were blessing. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ipèsè.

Şòtító, şòdodo. Ẹni tí ó şòtító ni imọlẹ̀ ñgbè.

Practice truth, practice righteousness. It is the person who practices truth whom the irúnmọlẹ̀ (ministerial deities) are supporting.

Ìpèsè: Fi epo pèsè fún ẹ̀lẹ̀yẹ.

An ipèsè: Use palm oil (which is used to tone down that which is potentially unruly) to provide for ẹ̀lẹ̀yẹ (bird-people, a nickname of psychic agents).

Extra: Whether or not people appreciate one's good works, one's advancement will come from the heavenly realm.

Àtẹ̀gbẹ̀, awo Olókun, dífá fún Olókun nígbàtí omi inú rẹ̀ kò tó bù bọ́jú, nígbàtí omi inú rẹ̀ kò tó bù sìn esẹ̀. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ̀ kí ó baà lè nípòn kárí ayé. Ó gbọ̀; ó rúbọ̀.

'Making one's mark to give benefit', the priest of Olókun (the òrìṣà of the ocean), performed Ifá divination for Olókun when the waters of her belly were not sufficient to portion out to wash (one's) face, when the waters of her belly were not sufficient to portion out to rinse (one's) feet. It was said that she ought to come doing ẹbọ so that she may be able to be thick all around the world. She heard; she did ẹbọ.

Kò pé; kò jinnà. Olókun tóbi. Ó di ibú nlá.

It did not take long; it was not far away. Olókun became big. She became great deep waters.

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one will become positioned to put their abilities to good use.

***

14.01b Ìrètẹ̀ (unwholesome influences) hinders Ogbẹ̀ (a wholesome road).

Message: [Dilogún 16-8] Capability and intelligence get diminished because of emotions.

Ìrètẹ̀ Òyèkú

14.02 Ìrètẹ̀ (unwholesome influences) hinders Òyèkú (averting ruin; not missing out on bright possibilities).

Ibi tí o tẹ̀ ni kò sunwòn. Ìtẹ̀ tí a tẹ̀ eérú, eérú a kò ẹ̀ é mọ̀ ilé. Ìtẹ̀ tí a tẹ̀ yanrìn, yanrìn a kò ẹ̀ é gbé ró.

It is the place that you stepped on that is not good. The way that we step on ashes, ashes are not used to build a house. The way that we step on sea sand, sea sand is not used to erect (buildings).

Extra: Do not rely on someone or something that cannot give you proper support.

Ìrètè Ìwòrì

[\[Back to Ìrètè\]](#)

14.03 Ìrètè (practicing Ifá) helps Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen).

Berú-berú l'awo ilú Berú. 'So ọ̀dùn kọ; so ọ̀dùn gbà' l'awo Ìlúkà. 'Afi omidan wéwé-wéwé ẹ̀ ilé' l'awo Alákòlé-Mẹ̀sín.

It was Berú-berú who was the priest of Berú town. It was 'He ties the bamboo cloth to hang (on his body); he ties the bamboo cloth to receive (his body)' who was the priest of Ìlúkà. It was 'One who uses young-young ladies to handle (his) home' who was the priest of Alákòlé-Mẹ̀sín.

A dífá fún Ọ̀mọ-Èlà, tí ịsawo rẹ̀ Ilé-Ifẹ̀, aje àtẹ̀. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ̀. Ó gbọ̀; ó rúbọ̀. Ó sì ẹ̀ ibọ̀ fún Èlà, alátúnṣe ayé, asọ-ọ̀rọ̀-di-ayọ̀.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọ̀mọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), who was going on a spiritual mission to Ilé-Ifẹ̀, the (town) that eats (food) without flavor. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ̀. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ̀. He moreover did ibọ̀ for Èlà, the master of improving one's life in the world, the one who converts trouble into joy.

Ọ̀fọ̀: Ifá ni yóò bù iyọ̀ sí i. Ọ̀pẹ̀ ni yóò bù iyọ̀ sí i. Gbogbo ọ̀rọ̀ tí kò l'ádùn, Ifá ni yóò bù iyọ̀ sí i.

Incantation: It is Ifá that will portion out some salt to it. It is Ọ̀pẹ̀ (Palm-tree, a name of Ifá) that will portion out some salt to it. Every matter that does not have flavor, it is Ifá that will portion out some salt to it.

Àkóse Ifá: Pẹ̀ ọ̀fọ̀ náà s'iyèròsùn tí o tí tẹ̀ lí Ìrètè Ìwòrì. Pò iyèròsùn yíi pẹ̀lú iyọ̀. Fí iyọ̀ yíi sà fún onjẹ̀ tí o bá sè é.

Ifá medicine: Pronounce the aforementioned incantation to iyèròsùn that you have imprinted with Ìrètè Ìwòrì. Mix this iyèròsùn together with salt. Use this salt to apply to food that you happen to cook.

Extra: Ifá will add a needed enhancement to the quality of your life.

Ìrètè Ọ̀dí

[\[Back to Ìrètè\]](#)

14.04 Ìrètè (making one's mark) is helped by Ọ̀sá (taking timely action).

Ajókòó-àgbà bí ẹ̀ni 'Má dide mó'.

An elder one sitting down is like a person of 'Do not stand up anymore'.

A dífá fún Ọ̀lọ̀. A ní ibi tí Ọ̀lọ̀ jókòó sí, kò ní wù ú mó. A ní kí ó dide.

Ifá divination was performed for Grindstone. It was said that the place where Grindstone sat, it would not be pleasing to her anymore. It was said that she ought to get up.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ̀. Ó gbọ̀; ó rúbọ̀. A ní Ọ̀lọ̀ ọ̀ò maa rí ẹ̀ni tí yóò gbé ọ̀un. A ní Ọ̀lọ̀ ọ̀ò maa rí ẹ̀ni tí yóò gbé ọ̀un.

It was said that she ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ̀. She heard; she did ẹ̀bọ̀. It was said that Grindstone would be seeing people who would carry her.

Extra: It is time to leave something behind in order to move on to something that is sound and suitable.

Ìrètè Ìrosùn

[\[Back to Ìrètè\]](#)

14.05 Ìrètè (practicing Ifá) helps Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

‘Atẹ̀ sùn lélé’ l’ó dífá fún Ìrètè nígbàtí orí rẹ̀ nsùn lọ. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ̀ ibọ́ fún Èlà.

It was ‘One who sets foot and sleeps on the ground’ who performed Ifá divination for Ìrètè when his personal destiny was falling asleep. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ. He moreover did ibọ́ for Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom).

Èlà, Ifá, iwọ́ l’o jí omọ́ l’óorun. Ifá, iwọ́ l’o sọ́ ikú alá àná di ààyè. Ewé òjìjí wá dé o; ó mó òpèré mi!

Èlà, Ifá, it is you who wakes a child from sleep. Ifá, it is you who transforms yesternight’s death into life. Here comes the òjìjí leaf (which is used to wake things up); it clings to my slumbering spirit!

Àkóse Ifá: Gún ẹ̀ja òjìjí, ewé òjìjí, àti oṣẹ̀ pọ́ fún wíwẹ̀ orí.

Extra: Ifá will awaken you to the possibilities of your life potential.

Ìrètè Òbàrà

[\[Back to Ìrètè\]](#)

14.07 Ìrètè (practicing Ifá) helps Òbàrà (asserting oneself with dignity).

Kò sí ẹ̀ni tí apá ọ̀ba kò ká. Kò sí ẹ̀ni tí tètẹ̀ kò lè tẹ̀.

There is no person whom the arm of the king cannot dominate. There is no person on whom the treader is not able to tread.

A dífá fún Omọ-Èlà, omọ́ aláde, nígbàtí ibẹ̀ láàárín ọ̀tá. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ́ kí ó bá ẹ̀gun wọ́n. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ́.

Ifá divination was performed for Omọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), child of the king, when he was in the midst of opponents. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ so that he may happen to overcome them. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ.

Ìrètè Òkànràn

[\[Back to Ìrètè\]](#)

14.08a Ìrètè (unwholesome influences) helps Òkànràn (touching trouble).

Bí orí ẹ̀ni nṣe é, yóò l’èyàn ni iṣe é.

If one’s head is working against him, then he will say that it is (other) human beings who are working against him.

Ifá ní ẹ̀nikan wà tí orí-inú rẹ̀ nṣe é. Kí olúwarẹ̀ wá rúbọ̀. Kí ó sì wá ẹ̀ ibọ̀ fún Orí Ẹ̀lédàá. Báyii ní kò ní ẹ̀ ara rẹ̀.

Ifá says that there is someone whose orí-inú (that is, prevailing mental and emotional attitude) is working against him. The person in question ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ̀. He ought moreover to come doing ibọ̀ for Orí Ẹ̀lédàá (Man's godself). It is in this manner that he will not work against himself.

Extra: [Miṣlẹ̀ (Proverbs) 3:5-6 revised] Put trust in Ha'el (God) with all your heart, and upon your personal outlook, you ought not to lean for support. In all your ways, be acquainted with him, and he will make satisfactory your paths.

***

14.08b Ìretẹ̀ (unwholesome influences) helps Ọ̀kànràn (touching trouble).

Ìretẹ̀ Ọ̀kànràn, a dífá fún Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là n'íjọ̀ tí gbogbo awo péjọ̀ s'ílẹ̀ Ọ̀lọ́fin nṣe oró sílẹ̀ dé e. A ní kí Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là gbàwẹ̀ lónií kí ó baà lè yera fún oró létàn fún un lónií.

Ìretẹ̀ Ọ̀kànràn, Ifá divination was performed for Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là (child of Ẹ̀là, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) on the day when all of the priests met together at the house of the Ifẹ̀ king and were making poison in readiness to reach him. It was said that Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là ought to fast on that day so that he may be able to avoid the deceitful poison for him on that day.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ̀. Ó gbọ̀; ó rúbọ̀.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ̀. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ̀.

Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là rẹ̀ ilé Ọ̀lọ́fin. Wọn gbìyànjú láti fi oró pa á, ẹ̀gbọ̀n oró mú wọn nígbèyìn. Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là sì jáde lọ lání ifarapa.

Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là went to the house of the Ifẹ̀ king. They made attempts to use poison to kill him, but the poison took them in the end. Ọ̀mọ-Ẹ̀là moreover emerged to go away without having injury.

Ẹ̀bọ̀: Fi epo àti ẹ̀gbèrìndínlógún owó.

An ẹ̀bọ̀: Use palm oil (which is used to tone down that which is potentially unruly) and 3200 cowries.

Ìretẹ̀ Ọ̀sá

[\[Back to Ìretẹ̀\]](#)

14.10 Ìretẹ̀ (making one's mark) is helped by Ọ̀sá (taking timely action).

Àbọ̀n ẹ̀ kẹ̀rẹ̀kẹ̀rẹ̀ di ẹ̀yìn. Bí ikú kò bá pa àbọ̀n, bí ikú kò bá pa èkùrọ̀, yòò jẹ̀ orúkọ̀ tí ẹ̀yìn níjẹ̀ lóla o!

An unripe palm fruit acts little by little to become a ripe palm fruit. If death does not happen to kill the unripe palm fruit, if death does not happen to kill (its) palm kernel, then tomorrow it will answer to the name to which the ripe palm fruit is answering!

Ifá ní ẹ̀nikan wà tí kí ó wá rúbọ̀. Kí olúwarẹ̀ sì wá ẹ̀ ibọ̀ fún Ẹ̀là, afi inú ẹ̀ ọ̀gbọ̀n. Báyii l'ohun òní kò ní bà ire ọ̀la jẹ̀ fún un.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ̀. The person in question ought moreover to come doing ibọ̀ for Ẹ̀là (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), the one who uses

(his) insides to practice wisdom. It is in this manner that a thing of today will not spoil the good things of tomorrow for him.

Extra: Taking proper action now avoids jeopardizing something good that could be achieved later.

Ìrètè Òtúrá

[\[Back to Ìrètè\]](#)

14.13a Ìrètè (practicing Ifá) helps Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation).

Ikú kò mò awo, ọrun kò mò onísẹ̀gùn. Afẹ́fẹ́ ọwọ́ ọ̀tún n̄sẹ ewé-àgbọ̀n gbọ̀n. Afẹ́fẹ́ ọwọ́ ọ̀sì n̄sẹ ewé-àgbọ̀n gbọ̀n.

Death does not know a priest, heaven does not know an herb doctor. The breeze of the right hand is causing the coconut leaf to tremble. The breeze of the left hand is causing the coconut leaf to tremble.

A dífá fún Èlà, tí ó ní òun lọ tẹ̀ Ikú ní Ifá. Ó fi Àgò sẹ̀ ojùgbọ̀nà.

Ifá divination was performed for Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), who said that he was going away to initiate Death to Ifá. He caused ‘Please give way’ to be the ojùgbọ̀nà.

Ọfọ: Ikú tí ìbá pa awo lóníí, àgò, àgò. Awo n̄lọ; àgò, àgò. Àrùn tí ìbá pa awo lóníí, àgò, àgò. Awo n̄lọ; àgò, àgò.

Incantation: The death that would have killed the priest today, please give way, please give way. The priest keeps going on; please give way, please give way. The illness that would have killed the priest today, please give way, please give way. The priest keeps going on; please give way, please give way.

Àkóse Ifá: Tẹ̀ lí Ìrètè Òtúrá n̄lẹ̀ ibi tí aláìsàn dùbúlẹ̀. Kó erùpẹ̀ tí a fi tẹ̀ Ifá nàà síwájú aláìsàn nàà. Pè orúkọ aláìsàn nàà. Pè ògèdè nàà, sùgbọ̀n pè orúkọ aláìsàn nàà dípò ọ̀rọ̀ ‘awo’.

Ifá medicine: Imprint with Ìrètè Òtúrá in the ground of the place where the ill person is lying down. Take the soil that you used to imprint the aforementioned Ifá in front of the aforementioned ill person. Pronounce the aforementioned incantation, but call the name of the aforementioned ill person instead of the word ‘priest’.

***

14.13b Ìrètè (unwholesome influences) hinders Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation).

Ire ni ígbà iwájú ilé. Ayọ̀ ni ígbà èyìnkùlẹ̀.

It is blessings that are occupying the front of the house. It is joy that is occupying the backyard.

A dífá fún Ọlókòṣẹ̀. A ní kí ó wá rú ẹ̀bọ̀ iwà rere. Ó kọ; kò rúbọ̀. N̄jẹ, Ọlókòṣẹ̀ l’ó fi iwà láìyẹ̀ dà ire nù.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘One who refuses to make an effort’. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ̀ for good character. He refused; he did not do ẹ̀bọ̀. Therefore, it was ‘One who refuses to make an effort’ who used unfit character to throw away blessings.

Extra: One who does not work at developing moral wholesomeness is one who throws away blessings.

Ìrètè Méjì

[\[Back to Ìrètè\]](#)

14.14 Ìrètè (unwholesome influences; making one's mark; practicing Ifá) is doubled.

Ìwọ l'òtè. Èmi l'òtè.

It is you who is an imprinter (a reference to an Ifá practitioner as one who imprints Odu Ifá).
It is I who is an imprinter.

A dífá fún Al'èsè-rere-má-l'óri-rere. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ó baà lè l'óri rere pèlú èsè rere. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for 'One who has good feet but does not have a good head' (that is, one who works hard but is not headed in a suitable direction). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may be able to have a good head together with good feet. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Àkóse Ifá: Gún ewé àpadà àti oşşè pò fún wíwè.

Ifá medicine: Pound àpadà leaves (which are used to turn things around toward good) and soap to be together for cleansing yourself.

Extra: With suitable spiritual effort, one's hard work will make a good mark.

Ìrètè Ọşşè

[\[Back to Ìrètè\]](#)

14.15 Ìrètè (practicing Ifá) helps Ọşşè (overcoming trouble).

Ikú kì ijẹ ata. Ikúkíkú tí ayé nífi pa ẹnì, ẹ má jẹkí ó lé ẹ mi láláláí. Àrùn kì ijẹ àlùbòsà. Ẹ má jẹkí àrùn lé ẹ mi láláláí. Afẹfẹ búburú kì ijẹ iyèré. Ẹ má jẹkí afẹfẹ búburú lé ẹ mi láláláí.

Death never consumes pepper. Whichever manner of death that the world uses to kill a person, do not allow that it be able to harm me ever. Illness never consumes onions. Do not allow that illness be able to harm me ever. A bad wind never consumes Ashanti peppers. Do not allow that a bad wind be able to harm me ever.

Ifá, jẹkí ọwọ maa jẹ fún mi l'ọjọ gbogbo. Ẹrọ pètè ni t'ìgbín. Gbogbo aburú tí ẹdá bá nşşè fún mi, Ifá, jẹkí ó dèrọ sí mi l'ára nítorí tí tútù-tútù l'a bá nínú otútù Ọpọn Ifá. Ẹtù l'ó ní kí ara tù mi. Gbogbo ibi ayé, Ifá, bá mi sọ ọ di ìrọrùn l'ára mi.

Ifá, allow that respect be complying with me every day. It is mushy coolness that pertains to the snail. All bad things that beings happen to make for me, Ifá, allow that they be less difficult for me because it is cool-cool that we meet within the cold of the Ifá tray. It is the guinea fowl that tells (my) body to calm me. All bad things of the world, Ifá, help me to transform them into a convenience for me.

Ìrètè tútù l'ó ní kí gbogbo ibi ó tẹbalè l'ára mi o!

It is cool Ìrètè who tells all bad things to bow down to me!

Extra: [a saying from Max Lucado] In God's hands, intended evil becomes eventual good.

Ìrètè Òfún

[\[Back to Ìrètè\]](#)

14.16 Ìrètè (making one's mark) hinders Òfún (efforts of limited success).

Àwọn irúnmolè àti Orí Èlédàá nlo s'óde Àpéré. Orí nikan dé ibè.

The irúnmolè (ministerial deities) and Orí Èlédàá (Man's godself) were going to the town of Life-fulfilment. Orí alone arrived there.

Ñjé, Orí gbóná jù òrìṣà lọ. Orí nikan l'ó kó wọn l'ápéré. Kò sí òrìṣà tí ó tó ní igbè léyìn Orí eni. Orí mà gbóná jù òrìṣà lọ.

Therefore, Orí is 'hotter' than òrìṣà (ministerial deities). It is Orí alone who takes them (people) to life fulfilment. There is no òrìṣà who is sufficient in supporting behind the back of one's Orí. Orí is indeed 'hotter' than òrìṣà.

Extra: The power of God is within you, and so you can transcend any circumstance, habit, or personality trait. Attune yourself to Orí Èlédàá (Man's godself) so that you may fully develop your life potential.

Ọ̀ṣẹ́ Ọ̀dí

[\[Back to Ọ̀ṣẹ́\]](#)

15.04 Ọ̀ṣẹ́ (overcoming trouble) is hindered by Ọ̀dí (blockage or enemies).

A kì ímú olè kí a má yan án. Bí a bá ẹ̀gun, kí a mú ọ̀lòtẹ̀ dè. Bí a kò bá mú ọ̀lòtẹ̀ dè, ẹ̀ni tí a ẹ̀, bí ó bá simi tán, yóò ní òun l'ó ẹ̀ ẹ̀ni.

We never catch a thief and then do not ‘roast’ him. If we happen to be victorious, then we ought to bind the rebel. If we do not happen to bind the rebel, then he whom we defeated, if he happens to rest completely, he will say that it is he who defeated us.

A dífá fún Ẹ̀aánú-ọ̀lòtẹ̀. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ́ kí àṣejù àánú má baà sọ ọ́ dí abòsì.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘He pities the rebel’. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ so that excessiveness of compassion may not transform him into a wretch.

Extra: One ought to overcome their leniency toward someone or something that threatens their well-being.

Ọ̀ṣẹ́ Ọ̀gúndá

[\[Back to Ọ̀ṣẹ́\]](#)

15.09 Ọ̀ṣẹ́ (overcoming through joyful optimism) helps Ọ̀gúndá (having the courage to take right action).

Ìṣẹ́ kàn ẹ̀ni; kò mò ojú. Ìyàn kàn ẹ̀ni; kò mò àwò. Agada kò mò orí alágbèdẹ̀ tí ó rọ̀ òun.

Deficient circumstances touch someone; it does not know his face. Scarcity touches someone; it does not know his (skin) color. The scimitar does not know the head of the blacksmith who forged it. [Note: The message here is that anyone can fall into adverse circumstances].

A dífá fún ‘Ọ̀mọ ní ìyìn rẹ̀’, ọ̀mọ Gbòwújì, nígbàtí ayé kò yẹ́ é. A ní kí ó maa lò aṣọ funfun. Kí ó sì wá ẹ̀ ẹ̀bọ́ l'ókè-ìpònrí rẹ̀. Ó gbọ́; ó bọ́.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘Child says his praise’, child of Gbòwújì (Ọ̀rìṣànlá, the òrìṣà of moral sense), when life was not right for him. It was said that he ought to keep wearing white clothing (which symbolizes the effort to maintain cleanness). He ought moreover to come doing ìbọ at his spiritual altar. He heard; he did ìbọ.

Lẹ̀hìn tí ó bọ́ tán, nkan rẹ̀ bẹ̀rẹ̀sí gún. Ayé yẹ́ é.

After he had done ìbọ completely, his affair began to be in good order. Life was right for him.

Extra: [a saying from Roy T. Bennett] Nobody is exempt from the trials of life, but everyone can always find something positive in everything even in the worst of times.

Ọ̀ṣẹ́ Ọ̀sá

[\[Back to Ọ̀ṣẹ́\]](#)

15.10 Ọ̀ṣẹ́ (overcoming trouble) is helped by Ọ̀sá (taking timely action).

Bí Ọ̀ṣẹ́ sá, bí Ọ̀ṣẹ́ kò sá, Ọ̀ṣẹ́ ọ̀ò dé ibi ijà.

Whether Ọ̀ṣẹ́ runs away or whether Ọ̀ṣẹ́ does not run away, Ọ̀ṣẹ́ will arrive at the place of the fight.

A dífá fún Ewúrẹ́, Àgùtàn, àti Adiyẹ-òkòkó nígbàtí wọn ńlọ s’ògun Ilé-èèmọ́. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ. Adiyẹ-òkòkó nìkan ni íbẹ lẹyìn tí írúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for She-goat, Sheep, and Hen when they were going to the war of House-of-burs (which symbolizes trouble that sticks to oneself). It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ. It was Hen alone who was behind doing ẹbọ.

Wọn dé ogun Ilé-èèmọ́. Ogun mú Ewúrẹ́. Ogun mú Àgùtàn. Ogun kò mú Adiyẹ-òkòkó.

They arrived at the war of House-of-burs. The war took She-goat. The war took Sheep. The war did not take Hen.

Extra: Do not involve yourself with anything that would bring you sticky trouble.

Ọ̀ṣẹ́ Ọ̀túrúpọ̀n

[\[Back to Ọ̀ṣẹ́\]](#)

15.12 Ọ̀ṣẹ́ (overcoming through joyful optimism) helps Ọ̀túrúpọ̀n (being productive).

Ẹni tí kò mò ẹni l’ẹni, tí kò mò èyà̀n l’èniyàn, ni íwí pé t’obìnrin kò sí l’áyé.

It is the one who does not know a person as a person, who does not know a human being as a human being, who says that women do not amount to anything in life.

Ẹwùjì ní kí wọn má fojúdí í. Ó ní ẹni tí ó bá foríbalẹ̀, yòò maa lájé, yòò maa l’áya, yòò maa bímọ̀, yòò maa l’ógbó.

Ẹwùjì (Ọ̀ṣun, the òrìsà of beauty, fertility, childbirth, and child protection) said that they (people) ought not to undervalue her. She said that one who happened to make obeisance, he would be having money, he would be having spouses, he would be begetting children, he would be having longevity.

Kí ẹnikan má ní: “Ẹni atẹ̀yìntò l’obìnrin o!”

A person ought not to say: “It is a person who urinates from behind that a woman is!” [Note: This statement derogatorily refers to women as being backward people].

Extra: Do not belittle women.

Òṣé Òtúrá

[\[Back to Òṣé\]](#)

15.13 Òṣé (overcoming through joyful optimism) helps Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation).

Àkéké ni ìbà igi ṣá. A dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà, tí ilọ gbà ìbà òun àṣẹ n'ílẹ̀ Èlédàá. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

It is the axe that is landing on the tree to cut it. Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), who went getting reverence and spiritual power at the home of Èlédàá (Creator God). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Àkéké ni ìbà igi ṣá. Ẹnu awo n'ìbà òun àṣẹ wà. Nígbàtí awo bá ní àà n'ire gbogbo, a maa n'ire gbogbo. Àkéké ni ìbà igi ṣá. Ẹnu awo n'ìbà òun àṣẹ wà.

It is the axe that is landing on the tree to cut it. It is the mouth of the priest where reverence and spiritual power exist. When the priest happens to say that we will have every good thing, we will be having every good thing. It is the axe that is landing on the tree to cut it. It is the mouth of the priest where reverence and spiritual power exist.

Extra: If you are attuned to divine purpose, then whatever you say will come to pass.

Òṣé Ìrètẹ̀

[\[Back to Òṣé\]](#)

15.14a Òṣé (overcoming trouble) is helped by Ìrètẹ̀ (practicing Ifá).

Ìhín ni Ìnbá yà sí. Ọhún ni Ìnbá yà sí.

It is here where I would have deviated. It is there where I would have deviated. [Note: Here is someone attempting to find out where he went wrong].

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Èlà nígbàtí iṣe ohun gbogbo tí ọkan kò lójú. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Kí ó sì lọ fi t'Èlédàá ṣe ọ̀nà. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ṣe ìbọ fún Èlà, afi inú ṣe ọgbón.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Èlà (child of Èlà, the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom) when he was doing everything for which (each) one did not make headway. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He ought moreover to go using the way of Èlédàá (Creator God; Man's godself) to make a way. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ìbọ for Èlà, the one who uses (his) insides to practice wisdom.

Kò pé; kò jinnà. Ire gbogbo wá yá dé tūtúru.

It did not take long; it was not far away. Every good thing came flooding in to arrive plentifully.

Èlédàá mi, gbà mi o! Ìwọ ni mo sádi. Ìwọ ni mo gbiyélé. Ìwọ ni mo fẹ̀yìntì. Ẹnikan kì ifẹ̀yìntì Èlédàá kí ó dójúti ẹni. Èlédàá mi, gbà mi o!

My Èlédàá, accept me! It is you in whom I take refuge. It is you whom I trust. It is you on whom I lean for support. A person never leans on Èlédàá for support and then he puts the person to shame. My Èlédàá, accept me!

Extra: [Mizmōr (Psalm) 128:1-2 revised] How blessed is everyone who reveres Ha'el (God)! The one who walks in his (Ha'el's) way, (it is) fruit of the labor of your hands that you will feed off. How blessed are you, and something good is headed for you!

***

15.14b Ọ̀ṣé (overcoming trouble) is hindered by Ìrètè (unwholesome influences).

Èrò tí ó jìn sí kòtò l'ó kọ ará iyókù l'ọ̀gbón.

It is the passerby who falls into a pit who teaches the remaining ones some wisdom.

Extra: Learn from the bad experiences of others.

Ọ̀ṣé Méjì

[\[Back to Ọ̀ṣé\]](#)

15.15 Ọ̀ṣé (overcoming trouble) is doubled.

Şekúbe, awo òde Ìbàdàn, l'ó dífá fún wọn l'óde Ìbàdàn. Wọn nífi omi ojú sògbéré ire. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ. Wọn gbọ; wọn rúbọ.

It was Şekúbe, the priest of Ìbàdàn town (whose establishment is rooted in Ọ̀ṣé Méjì), who performed Ifá divination for those in Ìbàdàn town. They were using teardrops to cry about good things. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ. They heard; they did ẹbọ.

Kò pé; kò jìnnà. Ire gbogbo wá yá dé tùtúru.

It did not take long; it was not far away. Every good thing came flooding in to arrive plentifully.

Èrò Ìpo, èrò Ọ̀fà, òjé èyin kò mò pé bí ẹni kò bá ọ̀ṣé, ẹni kì ilà?

Travelers to Ìpo town, travelers to Ọ̀fà town, do you not know that if one does not happen to do work, then one never prospers?

Extra: [a saying from Booker Taliaferro Washington Sr.] Nothing ever comes to one, that is worth having, except as a result of hard work.

Ọ̀ṣé Ọ̀fún

[\[Back to Ọ̀ṣé\]](#)

15.16 Ọ̀ṣé (overcoming trouble) is helped by Ọ̀fún (acting with rectitude).

Bí orí kò sunwọn, ọ̀gbón inú ni kò itó. Ọ̀gbón mbẹ nínú Ẹlà, amú ayé gún, atún orí tí kò sunwọn ẹ.

If luck is not good, then it is inner wisdom (that is, the ability to discern what is right or true and to judge soundly) that is not yet enough. Wisdom is in Ẹlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), the one who causes the world to be right, the one who improves luck that is not good.

A dífá fún àwọn 'Kò mò ẹ; kò mò wà', tí ífi ojojúmọ kégbe orí àsunwọn, pé Ẹlédàá ti ẹ tiwọn n'ibi. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ. Wọn gbọ; wọn rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for those of 'He does not know what to do; he does not know how to be', who were using every day to shout out about inauspiciousness and that Ẹlédàá

(Creator God) had done their affairs in with bad things. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ. They heard; they did ẹbọ.

A ní kí apákan wọn sì lọ ẹfá. Bí wọn bá ẹfá tán, kí wọn kọ Ifá. A ní: “Èni ‘Kò mò ẹ; kò mò wà’ tí ó kọ Ifá, orí rẹ òò sunwòn nígbèyìn.”

It was said that one side of them ought moreover to go get initiated to Ifá. If they happen to have gotten initiated to Ifá completely, then they ought to learn Ifá. It was said: “A person of ‘He does not know what to do; he does not know how to be’ who learns Ifá, his luck will be good at last.”

Ẹbọ: Fi aṣọ funfun, oṣẹ, àti egbèwá owó. Fi ojó méta fún wíwè. Léyìn tí o fi oṣẹ wè, fi aṣọ-ìbora funfun bora.

An ẹbọ: Use white clothing (which symbolizes the effort to maintain cleanness), soap, and 2000 cowries. Use 3 days for cleansing yourself. After you use the soap to cleanse yourself, use the white clothing to cover (your) body.

Extra: 1. [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 19:3 revised] Waywardness of a person undermines his way, but with Haʹel (God) is his heart angry. 2. [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 22:4 revised] As a consequence of humility (and) reverence for Haʹel (God) are wealth and honor and life.

Òfún Ogbè

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.01 Òfún (acting with rectitude) helps Ogbè (a wholesome road).

Egúngún kan kì íṣe ẹ̀ni. Òrìṣà kan kì író èyàn. Àṣiṣe nìkan l'ó lé ẹ̀ni lórò.

Egúngún (honorable ancestors) never damage a person. Òrìṣà (ministerial deities) never cause a human being pain. It is mistakes (that is, wrong actions, beliefs, or judgments) alone that compel us to utter a very painful cry.

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 22:5] Thorns (and) snares are in the path of a wayward one; one who watches over his spirit will be far from them.

Òfún Òyèkú

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.02 Òfún (acting with rectitude) helps Òyèkú (averting ruin; not missing out on bright possibilities).

Amò-ṣṣẹ́-má-tẹ́, awo Ìsimi-bà-kalẹ́, l'ó dífá fún Ìsimi-bà-kalẹ́, aní-má-ṣawun, afi ojojúmọ́ fún ẹ̀ni ní jíjẹ àti mímu, ọ̀rẹ́ onílẹ́, ọ̀rẹ́ àlejò. Ó ní: “Bí ebi bá ńpa ọ, kí o yá wá jẹun. Bí ọ̀ngbẹ́ bá ńgbẹ́ ọ, kí o yá wá mu.”

‘One who knows hurt but does not fall into disgrace’, the priest of ‘Rest and settle down’, who performed Ifá divination for ‘Rest and settle down’, the one who possesses but is not stingy, the one who uses each day to give to us in eating and drinking, a friend of the householder, a friend of the stranger. He said: “If hunger happens to be overwhelming you, then you ought to be quick to come eating. If thirst happens to be dehydrating you, then you ought to be quick to come drinking.”

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ́ kí ó má baà kú, kí ó má baà tẹ́. Kí ó sì ràn ara rẹ́ lówọ́ kí ó tó ràn ẹ̀lòmí lówọ́. A ní bí ó bá rúbọ́ tán, kí ó maa fi ìgbà yẹra fún ọ̀mọ́ aráyé. Kí ó maa fi ìgbà kan lọ s'òko. Kí ó maa fi ìgbà míràn ràjò. Kí ó maa ṣoore fún àwọn olùpọ̀njú. Ó gbọ́; ó rúbọ́.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that he may not die, so that he may not fall into disgrace. He ought moreover to render help to himself before he reaches the point of rendering help to someone else. It was said that if he happened to do ẹbọ completely, then he ought to be using some time to avoid people of the world. He ought to be using one time to go to the farm. He ought to be using another time to go on a journey. He ought to keep doing kindly acts for the poor. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Ẹbọ: Fi oyin, aṣọ méréin, àti ọkẹ méréin owó.

An ẹbọ: Use honey (which is used to sweeten a situation), 4 pieces of cloth, and 80000 cowries.

Extra: [Dilogún 10-2] Take care of yourself before others.

Òfún Ìwòrì

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.03 Òfún (acting with rectitude) helps Ìwòrì (good things becoming seen).

Òfún l'awo Ìgándó. Ìwòrì l'awo Ìgándò. Ọrò gándo-gándo kì ítán n'íkùn àgbà bọrọbọrọ.

It was Òfún who was the priest of Ìgándó. It was Ìwòrì who was the priest of Ìgándò. A troubling matter does not come to an end in the mind of an elder very easily.

A dífá fún Ẹni-ọwọ, tí íṣe ọmọ Ẹlà. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ṣe ibọ fún Ẹlà àti Ẹṣù. Báyii ni yóò ṣégun ọtá. Báyii ni yóò rí ẹyìn ọdídí.

Ifá divination was performed for 'Person of respect', who was a child of Ẹlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom). It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Ẹlà and Ẹṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests). It was in this manner that he would overcome opponents. It was in this manner that he would see the back side of blockages.

Ẹ fi ọwọ mi wọ mi. Ọwọ kókó l'a fi í wọ igi. Ọwọ Ọrìṣànlá l'a fi í wọ àfín. Ẹ fi ọwọ mi wọ mi.

Use the respect due to me to put on me. It is respect for knobs that we use to put on a tree. It is respect for Ọrìṣànlá (the òrìṣà of moral sense) that we use to put on an albino. Give me due respect.

Òfún Ọdí

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.04 Òfún (acting with rectitude) hinders Ọdí (blockage or enemies).

Òfún dí ire mọ. Wàrà gbà ṣe wàrà kì Ọfún má baà pa ẹni.

Òfún blocks good things to be restricted (to himself). Quickly receive and act quickly so that Òfún may not finish us off.

A dífá fún Olórí-ọgá. A ní ẹni tí ó dí ire mọ ilé, kì írí t'òde gbà.

Ifá divination was performed for Chief-of-chiefs. It was said that the person who blocks good things to be restricted to home, he never sees anything from outside to receive. [Note: Restricting good things to oneself could mean that one keeps good things to himself or that one falsely believes that he alone has something worthy to offer].

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí ire baà lè ṣànwá ilé.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that good things may be able to flow and come home.

Extra: Be open to giving help to others and to accepting help from others.

Òfún Ìrosùn

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.05 Òfún (acting with rectitude) helps Ìrosùn (patiently persevering through difficulty).

Òfún nífún ire ká. Òfún kò pariwo. Èyàn bí irú yíi se ọwọ́n l'ayé. Èni tí yóò maa dáṣà, kí ó wò iṣe ọrun. Ọrun ni ilé ọlá.

Òfún is giving out good things to go all around. Òfún does not make a noise (about it). People like this type are scarce in the world. A person who will be daring to do something, he ought to look at the customs of heaven. It is heaven that is the home of honor.

A dífá fún àwọ́n èyàn. A ní ikú ọ̀ò maa mú wọ́n lọ wò iṣe ọrun.

Ifá divination was performed for human beings. It was said that death would be taking them to go look at the customs of heaven. [Note: The preceding statement tells us that pondering one's eventual bodily death brings one to consider the degree to which one has complied with the dictates of heaven].

A ní kí wọ́n wá rúbọ́ kí ó má baà sí òkùnkùn àti ìbanújé l'ọ̀nà wọ́n. Wọ́n kọ; wọ́n kò rúbọ́.

It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ so that there may not be darkness and disheartening sadness on their road. They refused; they did not do ẹbọ.

Extra: 1. Act out of genuine concern for others. 2. [Miṣlẹ (Proverbs) 16:20 revised] One who gives attention to divine instruction will attain to what is good, and one who puts trust in Ha'el (God), how blessed is he!

Òfún Ọwọ́nrín

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.06a Òfún (acting with rectitude) helps Ọwọ́nrín (walking honorably).

Message: [Dilogún 10-11] No matter how much the wind may blow, the sun does not stray from its proper course.

***

16.06b Òfún (acting with rectitude) helps Ọwọ́nrín (walking honorably).

Òfún fún wọ́n kẹ. Òfún fún wọ́n sọ.

Òfún gives to them to pamper (them). Òfún gives to them to watch over (them).

A dífá fún Odùduwà, tí yóò maa ṣoore ká rí ayé. Ó ní iṣoore ká rí ayé l'ó dárajù n'íwà.

Ifá divination was performed for Odùduwà (a deified Yorùbá king), who would be doing kindly acts around the world. He said that it is doing kindly acts around the world that is superior in character.

A ní apákan kò ní dúpẹ́ fún oore l'ọwọ́ rẹ. Àwọ́n mírán kò tilẹ́ ní mọ́ tiwọ́n ilò. Sùgbón ó ní bàbá ọmọ́ kò lè se kí ó má fi ohun rere fún ọmọ́. Àti iyá ọmọ́ kò lè se kí ó má fi ohun rere fún ọmọ́.

It was said that one side would not give thanks for the kindness from his hands. Those of another (side) would not even know their use. But he said that the father of a child is unable to not put good things for the child. And the mother of a child is unable to not put good things for the child.

A ní kí Odùduwà wá rúbọ kí ohun rere gbogbo tí ífí fún èyàn, bí wọn bá fí ẹ̀fò l'áyé, kí ó baà lè maa tún padà tọ Odùduwà lọwọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

It was said that Odùduwà ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ so that every good thing that he was putting for human beings, if they happened to waste it in the world, then it may be able to always return to touch Odùduwà in his hands. He heard; he did ẹ̀bọ.

Extra: [Miṣlē (Proverbs) 3:27] You ought not to withhold what is good from its owners (that is, those to whom it is due), in that it has come to be in the power of your hand to do (it).

Òfún Òkànràn

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.08 Òfún (efforts of limited success) helps Òkànràn (touching trouble).

Òfún rànỳnrànỳn l'ó difá fún Àkàtànpo nígbà tí írán ẹ̀fón, àwọn omọ rẹ, rẹ igbó. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. A ní kí ó sì wá ẹ̀ ipèsè. Ó falẹ.

It was 'Òfún persistently' who performed Ifá divination for Catapult when he was sending arrows, his children, to go to the forest. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ. It was said that he ought moreover to come doing ipèsè. He procrastinated.

Olúigbó wá mú omọ Àkàtànpo s'òhún. Njẹ, àlọ l'a rí; a kò rí àbò mó o! Gbogbo wọn ti rá o!

Olúigbó (the spirit of the forest) came taking Catapult's children to (his) place. Therefore, it was the departure that we saw; we did not see the return anymore! All of them have disappeared!

Ìpèsè: Fi òkété pèsè fún ẹ̀leye.

An ipèsè: Use a giant rat to provide for ẹ̀leye (bird-people, a nickname of psychic agents).

Extra: A great investment of effort does not guarantee sought returns.

Òfún Ògúndá

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.09 Òfún (acting with rectitude) is helped by Ògúndá (having the courage to take right action).

Igún kí ẹ̀ olódi ẹ̀nikan. Kò Ẹ̀ à bá wọn nájà.

The vulture is never the possessor of ill will (toward) someone. It will not fail to join them (others) in doing market business (that is, it will eat anyone's corpse).

Ifá ní ẹ̀nikan wà tí kí ó má bá ẹ̀ wọn l'òdi. Kí olúwarè wá rúbọ kí ó baà lè ẹ̀ ẹ̀tọ.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought not to treat them (others) with ill will. The person in question ought to come doing ẹ̀bọ so that he may be able to do what is right.

Extra: Do not treat another unjustly, regardless of whether you have been wronged or not.

Òfún Òsá

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.10 Òfún (efforts of limited success) is hindered by Òsá (taking timely action).

Òfún sà wò bí yóò jẹ, bí kò ní jẹ.

Òfún applies medicine and looks at whether it will work or whether it will not work.

A dífá fún àrúnlọjọ ewé. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ kí ìhalẹ má baà tẹ wọn. Èyítí ó rúbọ l'àwọn ewé tí a fi ẹ oògùn tí ó jẹ.

Ifá divination was performed for 165 leaves. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ so that empty boasts may not humiliate them. It is the ones that did ẹbọ that are the leaves that we use to make medicine that works.

Ifá ní ẹnìkan wà tí kí ó wá rúbọ kí ọrọ tí ó dífá sí í, ó baà lè dára jálẹ. Báyii ni olúwarẹ óò sà agbára sí ohun tí ó múnádóko. Báyii ni ojú kò ní tì í nípa ọrọ náà.

Ifá says that there is someone who ought to come doing ẹbọ so that the matter for which he cast Ifá, it may be able to be good throughout. It is in this manner that the person in question will apply (his) energy to a thing that is effective. It is in this manner that shame will not come over him regarding the aforementioned matter.

Extra: By discerning what is genuine from what is not, one will be able to apply an effective remedy to a bad situation.

Òfún Òtúrá

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.13a Òfún (acting with rectitude) helps Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation).

Kí iwọ tọ ọwọ wò. Kí èmi tọ ọwọ wò.

May you taste honor. May I taste honor.

A dífá fún Ọmọ-Òrìṣànlá, tí irè ayé àpésìn. A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. Ó sì ẹ ibọ fún Òrìṣànlá, bàntà-banta nínú àlà. Báyii ni yóò mú iwà rere hù.

Ifá divination was performed for Ọmọ-Òrìṣànlá (child of Òrìṣànlá, the òrìṣà of moral sense), who was going to the world of leaders. It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. He moreover did ibọ for Òrìṣànlá, the immense one in white clothing (which symbolizes the effort to maintain cleanness). It was in this manner that he would take good character to develop.

Kò pé; kò jìnnà. Ẹ wá bá ẹni ní jẹbútú ire.

It will not take long; it is not far away. Come join us in plenty of good things.

Extra: By being decent and sincere, one will inspire others to follow one's example of honor.

***

16.13b Òfún (acting with rectitude) helps Òtúrá (averting a worrisome situation).

Òfún tọ epo lá. Òfún fi ọlẹlẹ bọ iyọ. Òfún nńwá ohun tí ó dùn jẹ.

Òfún touched palm oil to lick. Òfún caused a red-bean cake to fall (into) salt. Òfún was looking for things that are delicious to eat.

A dífá fún Èṣù, tí fìlọ gbé Epo n'íyàwó. A ní kí wọn wá rúbọ kí wọn má yà ara wọn láílái. Wọn gbọ; wọn rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for Èṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests), who went taking Palm-oil as a wife. It was said that they ought to come doing ẹbọ so that they might not ever separate from each other. They heard; they did ẹbọ.

Extra: Described here is a bond between two persons or things that is as strong as marriage.

Òfún Ìrètẹ̀

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.14a Òfún (acting with rectitude) helps Ìrètẹ̀ (making one's mark). Òfún (acting with rectitude) is helped by Ìrètẹ̀ (practicing Ifá).

Wọn tẹ mi. Mo tún ara mi tẹ.

They (others) initiated me. I initiated myself again. [Note: Here is someone who sees his spiritual initiation as a commitment to God].

A dífá fún Olú-ṣe-ẹ̀ṣọ. A ní: “Èyítí ó sunwọn fún ayé ni yóò maa wù Olú-ṣe-ẹ̀ṣọ láti ṣe.” A ní kí ó wá rúbọ kí àwọn ọmọ aráyé baà maa bù iyí fún un. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘Chief exercises gentleness’. It was said: “It is that which is good for the world that will keep pleasing ‘Chief exercises gentleness’ to do.” It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ so that people of the world may be portioning out respect to him. He heard; he did ẹbọ.

Àkóse Ifá: Gbo ewé àgbáyun àti ewé ayìnrẹ̀ sínú omi. Fi omi yí fún wíwẹ̀ orí rẹ.

Ifá medicine: Juice àgbáyun leaves (which makes sour foods taste sweet) and ayìnrẹ̀ leaves (which are used to enhance the power of leaves in general) into water. Use this water for cleansing your head.

Extra: One's well-intended efforts may not get the reception that they deserve.

***

16.14b Òfún (acting with rectitude) hinders Ìrètẹ̀ (unwholesome influences).

Nkan tí ó ṣe ẹ̀ni l'ẹ̀kẹ̀n, kò gbọ̀dọ̀ tún ṣe ẹ̀ni l'ẹ̀kẹ̀jì.

A thing that damages us one time, it must not again damage us a second time.

Extra: Do not allow something bad to affect you repeatedly.

Òfún Ọ̀ṣẹ̀

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.15a Òfún (efforts of limited success) is hindered by Ọ̀ṣẹ̀ (overcoming through joyful optimism).

Àbùkù odò l'ó di àbàtà.

It is the disgrace of a river that it becomes a swamp.

A dífá fún Àbòn-nù nígbàtí ọmọ aráyé ñrò ó pin. Ó ti di arúgbó àti tálákà. Wọn ñsọ pé kò ní láárí. Wọn níí í ṣe ẹ̀lẹ̀yà.

Ifá divination was performed for ‘Unripe palm fruit is lost’ when people of the world were writing him off. He had become an old person and a poor person. They (others) were saying that he did not have importance. They were using him to make ridicule.

A ní kí ó wá ʃe ìbọ́ fún Èlà, alátúnʃe ayé, asọ-òrò-di-ayọ. Báyiù ni yóò lè gbilè. Báyiù ni wọn òò wá bù ọlá fún un. Ó gbọ; ó ʃe ìbọ.

It was said that he ought to come doing ìbọ for Èlà (the òrìṣà of knowledge and wisdom), the master of improving one’s life in the world, the one who converts trouble into joy. It was in this manner that he would be able to flourish. It was in this manner that they (others) would come portioning out honor to him. He heard; he did ìbọ.

Extra: Ifá will help you to develop your life potential.

16.15b Òfún (acting with rectitude) helps Ọṣẹ (overcoming trouble).

Òfún kò ʃe. Òfún kò rò. Wọn ndúnrunmọ Òfún.

Òfún did not sin. Òfún did not scheme. They (others) were falsely accusing Òfún.

A dífá fún Òfún, èyítí ó ʃe rere tán, ʃùgbón wọn dì ẹrù ibi lé e.

Ifá divination was performed for Òfún, the one who did good things completely, but they (others) tied the load of bad things on him.

A ní kí ó wá rúbọ. Ó gbọ; ó rúbọ. A ʃe àkóse Ifá fún un. Ó ní í rọ orí sùn.

It was said that he ought to come doing ẹbọ. He heard; he did ẹbọ. Ifá medicine was made for him. He was using it to pillow (his) head to sleep.

Oore ni mo ʃe. Kí ó má di ọràn s’ọrùn fún mi.

It is an act of goodness that I do. May it not become a ‘pain in the neck’ for me.

Extra: Righteously persevere regardless of how others may respond to your good deeds.

Òfún Méjì

[\[Back to Òfún\]](#)

16.16 Òfún (efforts of limited success) is doubled.

Àṣoore àiṣetán ni íjẹ mèlòóríyìn.

It is doing acts of goodness incompletely that is enjoying not many compliments.

Ifá ní ẹnikan wà tí íṣoore. ʃùgbón kí ó ʃe tán kí ó má ʃe ọràn tí yóò ʃe àbàwón s’órúkọ rẹ. Kí ó wá rúbọ. Kí ó sì wá ʃe ìbọ́ fún Èṣù.

Ifá says that there is someone who is doing acts of goodness. But he ought to do things to completion so that he does not make matters that would make a stain blemish on his name. He ought to come doing ẹbọ. He ought moreover to come doing ìbọ for Èṣù (the òrìṣà of opportunity and crossroads tests).
